CHART TOPPERS 1981

THIS YEAR, chart co-compiler Alan Jones (who does the grueling ground work for the disco chart every week) has reverted to the well tried and tested inverse points ratio method of scoring the disco hits for 1981, using positions reached in the Top 30 over the past 12 months. This method works best as it smooths out any inconsistencies encountered, as last year, were we to use the original "chart points" — because the number of chart contributing DJs varies from week to week. These then were the top disco hits of the year just gone . . .

CHARTFILE '81 - PART TWO

Compiled from BMRB's top 75 singles chart, January 10 through December 28, 1981. 75 points were awarded for a number one single, 74 for a number two and so on down to a single point for a No 75.

Collaborations between artists are considered separately from the rest of their output. For example, points accruing from Gary Numan's vocal interjections on behalf of Dramatis and Paul Gardiner have NOT been added to his solo points total. Similarly, Queen & David Bowie's 'Under Pressure' is considered quite independently of either artist's other hits. The only exception to the above rule is John Lennon. Hits from the Plastic One Band and John & Yoko were clearly wholly dependent on the merits of Lennon alone.

HEAVY METAL SPECIAL
Solve the seven cryptic clues and write the answers across the puzzle so that the starred column reveals a band who've had more personnel changes than I've probably had hot dinners. Remember the clues aren't in the correct order. You have to decide what the right order is. But for a bit of extra help all the answers are artists dedicated to playing music louder than anyone else.

CHART FILE

OUR LISTING of American number one singles by British artists proved slightly too lengthy for last week's column. To the records listed then should be added: 96 ANOTHER ONE BITES THE DUST — Queen (4 October 1980) 97 (JUST LIKE) STARTING OVER — John Lennon (3 January 1981) 98 MORNING TRAIN (9 TO 5) — Sheena Easton (2 May 1981) 99 PHYSICAL — Olivia Newton-John (1 November 1981)

A few qualifications as to why certain records are included:

- David Rose was born in Britain, but has lived in America since four years old. He still retains his British passport. Similarly Nick Gilder was British - born but emigrated to Canada with his family at the age of ten.
- Rupert Holmes was born in Northwich of Anglo-American parents. He moved to America at an early age and later claimed that all he could remember of England was Rupert Bear and Sherlock Holmes — hence his professional name!
- ON-J, the Bee Gees and Andy Gibb were all born in Britain. Though brought up in Australia they still regard themselves as British.
- 60% of Fleetwood Mac can claim to be British, thus qualifying the group for inclusion.

A couple of artists excluded from the list:

- Gilbert O'Sullivan — No.1 in August 1972 with 'Alone Again (Naturally)' was born and raised in Waterford in the Republic Of Ireland.
- Carl Douglas, responsible for the December 1974 chart-topper 'Kung Fu Fighting' was born in Jamaica.

CHARTFILE

THIS WEEK'S Chartfile is devoted to answering one of the most frequently recurring questions encountered during the column's three-year lifespan. It's one of those questions I usually pass over until the next time whilst hoping desperately there won't be a next time. No such luck. Sooner or later — usually sooner — somebody else enquires, very politely, whether I would care to satisfy their curiosity on the matter. So I've finally given in. For regular correspondent Syd Robinson and some thirty or more who enquired before him here's a complete list of British singles which have topped the American charts.

CHARTFILE

THE year ends as it started — with Abba staring down from the apex of the album chart. 12 months ago it was 'Super Trouper' that was making the cash registers ring, now it's 'The Visitors'.

'The Visitors' sold a million before release and predictably entered the chart at Number One. It's the sixth album this year to do so, and the sixteenth thus far in the eighties. Here they are, complete with dates:

1. THE PRETENDERS — Pretenders (19 January 1980) •
2. DUKE — Genesis (5 April 1980) •
3. MCCARTNEY II — Paul McCartney (31 May 1980) •
4. EMOTIONAL RESCUE — Rolling Stones (5 July 1980) •
5. BACK IN BLACK — AC/DC (9 August 1980) •
6. TELEKON — Gary Numan (13 September 1980) •
7. NEVER FOREVER — Kate Bush (20 September 1980) •
8. SCARY MONSTERS (AND SUPER CREEPS) — (27 September 1980) •
9. ZENYATTA MONDATT — Police (11 October 1980) •
10. SUPER TROUPER — Abba (22 November 1980) •
11. FACE VALUE — Phil Collins (21 February 1981) •
12. NO SLEEP 'TILL HAMMERSMITH — Motorhead (27 June 1981) •
13. DEAD RINGER — Meat Loaf (12 September 1981) •
14. ABACAB — Genesis (26 September 1981) •
15. GHOSTS IN THE MACHINE — Police (10 October 1981) •
16. THE VISITORS — Abba (19 December 1981)

For their record company CBS, Abba's return to the top is the icing on the cake. The company's Epic and CBS labels have been responsible for a third of the 18 number one albums this year. The most successful of these was 'Kings Of The Wild Frontier', 12 weeks at Number One. In total CBS group albums topped the chart for 24 weeks during 1981 — a phenomenal achievement bearing in mind the current growing diversification with small labels in the ascendancy.
