THIS WEEK'S CHART

● ANALYSED BY ALAN JONES

st year, Stock, Aitken and Waterman hitched their idiosyncratic production style to a charity remake of a Beatles song (et It Be') by Ferry Aid, and were rewarded with a number one hit, but this week their newest star Kylie Minogue is deprived of a number one hit by the chart-topping exploits of another charity remakes of a Beatles song — namely Wet Wet Wet's update of 'With A Little Help From My Friends'. Whilst 'Got To Be Certain' fights a long battle against 'With A Little Help From My Friends', Kylie's previous single, 'I Should Be So Lucky', remains the best seller of the year, but 'The Wets' single has already sold over a quarter of a million copies — including over 10,000 last week when it achieved a highest seven day sale of any single so far this year — and is rising fast. 'With A Little Help From My Friends' is the seventh charity record to reach number one in less than four years, following Band Aid's 'Do They Know It's Christmas', USA For Africa's 'We Are The World', the Rowells' 'You'll Never Walk Alone', David Bowie and Mick Jagger's 'Dancing In The Street', iff Richard And The Young Ones' 'Living Doll' and Ferry Aid's 'et It Be'.

Aside from the charted versions by Joe Cocker, Joe Brown, the Jung Idea, the Beatles and Wet Wet Wet, 'With A Little Help From My Friends' is available in a plethora of other versions by a wide range of artists including Herb Alpert, Joni Mitchell, Barbra Streisand, Joe & Linda Turner and Sergio Mendes. Most of these, you will note, are Americans — despite this 'With A Little Help From My Friends' is never been a major hit single stateside. Joe Cocker subsequently became a much bigger star in America than in the UK, but his version of the song, a number one hit here, peaked at number 68 in the USA, and the Beatles' own recording reached only 71 when belatedly released as a single in 1978. Though Joe Cocker was mightily miffed by America's rejection of his record, he recorded another Lennon/McCartney song — 'She Came In Through The Bathroom Window' — the following year, and this time was rewarded with his first top 30 hit.

● BANANARAMA: the faces may have changed, but the song remains the same

● The top 10 success 'I Want You Back' was the first hit by the new Bananarama line-up of Keren Woodward, Sarah Dallin and Jacqui O'Sullivan, after the original Bananarama trio of Woodward, Dallin and Siobhan Fahey chalked up 14 straight hits as a trio and enjoyed two further successes in partnership with Funboy Three. (Note: on the album 'Wow!', it's Bananarama Mark 1 you hear performing 'I Want You Back', Jacqui's vocal replacing Siobhan's only on the single).

Although the collective Bananarama hit tally is therefore inferior to the Supremes' 24 hit haul, the Woodward/Dallin/Fahey partnership gains admission to the Guinness Book Of Records as the most successful ever amongst girl groups. The most fruitful Supremes line-up was that of Diana Ross, Mary Wilson and Florence Ballard, who scored 11 hits between 1964 and 1967, from 'Where Did Our Love Go' to 'Reflections'. Some sources credit Florence's replacement Cindy Birdsong with singing on 'Reflections' but, although Birdsong certainly helped to promote the disc, it was Ballard who sang on it with Ross and Wilson, as Mary recalls in her 1986 biography 'Dreamgirl — My Life As A Supreme'.

● Stevie Wonder, Paul McCartney, Michael Jackson, Diana Ross and Julio Iglesias seem to have their own rather incestuous appreciation society.

Since Ross and Jackson eased on down the road together in 1978, several other combinations of these names have made singles together. Michael and Stevie hit with 'The Girl Is Mine' and 'Say Say Say', Paul and Stevie made it with 'Ebony And Ivory'. Diana and Julio crooned 'All Of Me' together and this week Stevie and Michael's duet 'Get It' debuts at number 41. This will be followed in a matter of weeks by Stevie and Julio's 'My Love'. Both songs are Wonder compositions.

Michael recently re-recorded 'I Just Can't Stop Loving You' in Spanish, and was rewarded with a million selling single in the Hispanic countries, and much increased sales of 'Bad'. Now it's whispered that he would be happy to duet with Iglesias, who's signed to the same record company, and is even bigger than Jackson in Spanish speaking territories. Finally, both Iglesias and Ross have separately wooed McCartney to record with them, though so far Macca has resisted.

● MICHAEL JACKSON: rent a hit

● ERRATUM: A fortnight ago a line of type went missing, turning an entirely sensible piece about Derek B into so much gibberish. What I actually said was that Derek mentions Lennon and McCartney in his single 'Bad Young Brother', and that he also namechecks himself periodically throughout the disc. He is also mentioned on Harry Enfield's hit 'Loadsamoney (Doin' Up The House)'. Both records are in the top 20, and it may well be the first time an artist has found himself mentioned on two simultaneous major hits.

Last week's error, all my own work was stating that 'Hey Mr. Heartache' was the first Kim Wilde hit on which she is credited as a writer. Not so — she also contributed to 'Another Step (Closer To You)'. Kim's co-writer on both songs was Steve Byrd.
