THIS WEEK'S CHART

● ANALYSED BY ALAN JONES

Wet Wet Wet's version of John Lennon and Paul McCartney's 'With A Little Help From My Friends' triumphs again this week by the slender of margins to complete a fourth week at number one. It's the seventeenth number one hit for the Lennon/McCartney team with an act other than the Beatles, and arguably the most successful, being the first to spend more than three weeks at number one.

Meanwhile, Tiffany registers her third consecutive top 10 smash with another Lennon/McCartney composition, 'I Saw Him Standing There'. It's the first time that two Lennon/McCartney songs have appeared simultaneously in the top 20 by acts other than the Beatles, since February 1969, when Marmalade's version of 'Ob La Di, Ob La Da' and Wilson Pickett's 'Hey Jude' were listed and, incredibly, it's the first time ever that two have been in the top 10 at the same time.

Wet Wet Wet are extremely unlikely to be number one next week, and, in fact, were narrowly outsold some days last week by Kylie Minogue, whose 'Got To Be Certain' has now been runner-up for three weeks on the trot. But Kylie's in decline too, and next week's number one will either be Desireless's 'Voyage Voyage' or, most likely, the Time Lords's 'Doctorin' The Tardis', which makes a massive leap from number 22 to number four. It's not entirely impossible that Wet Wet Wet will dip as low as number five, with Brotherhood 'Owe You Nothing' also likely to be in great demand.

Incidentally, in mentioning some of the earlier recordings of 'With A Little Help From My Friends' I inexcusably overlooked the godlike genius of Jack Duckworth, aka actor Bill Tarney, whose inspired and definitive version can be heard on K-Tel's 'Coronation Street' album, along with lesser mortals like Brian Tilsley's 'All You Need Is Love' and Sally Webster's 'Yellow Submarine'.

● 19-year-old Italian TV presenter Sabrina Salerno smashes into the chart at number 24 with her reissued debut single 'Boys (Summertime Love)'. When first released in February it peaked at number 60. Sabrina's sensational return brings to a record six the number of teenage soloists in the chart — and they're all females. The others: Kylie Minogue, Mica Paris, Tiffany, Debbie Gibson and Roxanne Shante. 18-year-old Elisa Fiorillo is also bidding for a chart place, alongside 12-year-old Tracie Spencer (not to be confused with CBS recording act Tracy Spencer, or, indeed, actor Spencer Tracy).

● Their tally of 37 hit singles is greater than that of any other group, but Status Quo can't be happy that their latest, 'Who Gets The Love', peaked at number 34. It's their least successful single in a dozen outings, since, in fact, 'She Don't Fool Me' fizzled out at number 36 in 1982.

For all their British success, Quo have made only two forays into the US chart, reaching number 12 with 'Pictures Of Matchstick Men' and number 70 with 'Ice In The Sun', both in 1968. Since no other group has had more than 33 hits here, the difference between the number of hits Quo have had here, and the number they've had in the States is obviously a record.

Problems too for the Style

Council, whose 'Life At A Top People's Health Farm' peaked at number 28, to become only the third of the group's 15 hits to fall short of the top 20, the others being 'Come To Milton Keynes' (number 23, 1985) and 'Waiting' (number 52, 1987). Three low key Style Council EPs released earlier this year fell short of the chart altogether.

There's some comfort for Paul Weller in the news that as the leader of the Style Council and the Jam — they had 18 hits — he's only the second individual to feature in two groups with as many as 15 hits apiece. The other is Paul McCartney, who had 28 hits with the Beatles, and 21 with Wings.

● 'You Have Placed A Chill In My Heart' enters the chart at number 37 this week to become the fourth hit lifted from Eurythmics's latest album 'Savage'.

None of the first three made the top 20 — 'Beethoven (I Love To Listen To)' reached number 25, 'Shame' got to number 41 and 'I Need A Man' stopped at number 47 though its sales were boosted considerably by being released as CD single in a metal box — a trick RCA has repeated with 'You Have Placed A Chill In My Heart'. Last week, the CD, which entered the singles chart at number one, accounted for 51 per cent of the sales of 'Chill'.

Eurythmics fan Neil Richardson from Hull points out that, if, as seems likely, 'Chill' fails to reach the top and, in the absence of any other obvious singles, 'Savage' will be the first Eurythmics album not to yield top 20, or even top five, hit since their introductory album 'In The Garden' in 1981.

Neil also observes that Eurythmics have had nine top 10 hits, all of which have peaked in different positions. They now need only a number seven hit to complete what would be a unique feat.

● DESIRELESS: up to five this week, and a good bet to go the whole way
