THIS WEEK'S CHART

● ANALYSED BY ALAN JONES

● With Yazz And The Plastic Population's 'The Only Way Is Up' fading rapidly, Britain could well have a new number one single next week. It won't be Kylie Minogue, also in decline, or Breathe, who are gaining too slowly. Instead, it now looks like a straight race between Brother Beyond, who climb a further five notches to number three this week with 'The Harder I Try', and the Julio Iglesias/Stevie Wonder duet 'My Love', which makes a double digit jump for the third week in a row, surging from number 17 to number six. It's going to be close, but the odds are slightly in favour of 'My Love'.

'The Only Way Is Up', meanwhile, continues to climb the year-to-date rankings, and is now the third best selling single of 1988, behind Kylie Minogue's 'I Should Be So Lucky' and 'I Think We're Alone Now' by Tiffany, completing an all Hi-NRG top three.

● Her remake of 'The Loco-Motion' holds at number two on the singles chart for the fourth week in a row, but Kylie Minogue can celebrate this week as her first LP 'Kylie — The Album', which has sold over 400,000 copies in seven weeks, climbs to the top of the album chart, replacing the five week champion 'Now That's What I Call Music 12'.

Kylie is only the second woman solo singer ever to have a number one hit with her debut album, emulating the feat first achieved only eight weeks ago by Tracy Chapman.

At 20, Kylie is also the youngest woman to have a number one album, replacing Kate Bush, who was 22 when she first topped with 'Never For Ever' in 1980.

Of 353 albums to top the chart since its inception in 1958, only 14 have been by women. The roll of honour reads

- 1 20 ALL TIME GREATS — Connie Francis (1977) ● 2 GREATEST HITS VOLUME 2 — Barbra Streisand (1979) ● 3 NEVER FOR EVER — Kate Bush (1980) ● 4 GUILTY — Barbra Streisand (1980) ● 5 LOVE SONGS — Barbra Streisand (1982) ● 6 FASTER THAN THE SPEED OF NIGHT — Bonnie Tyler (1983) ● 7 ALF — Alison Moyet (1985) ● 8 LIKE A VIRGIN — Madonna (1985) ● 9 HOUNDS OF LOVE — Kate Bush (1985) ● 10 TRUE BLUE — Madonna (1986) ● 11 THE WHOLE STORY — Kate Bush (1986) ● 12 WHITNEY — Whitney Houston (1987) ● 13 TRACY CHAPMAN — Tracy Chapman (1988) ● 14 KYLIE-THE ALBUM — Kylie Minogue (1988).

Melbourn Kylie is the third Australian act to have a number one album, following the Seekers ('Best Of The Seekers') in 1969 and Men At Work ('Business As Usual') in 1985. AC/DC topped with 'Back In Black' in 1980, with a line-up that included three Brits against only two native born Australians.

● As mentioned above, Tracy Chapman's self-titled album was a number one in Britain earlier this year. This week it completes the double, climbing to number one in America.

Twenty five-year-old Tracy, from Boston, Massachusetts, is the first 'folkie' to top the US album chart since Bob Dylan reached the summit in 1976 with 'Desire'.

Chapman wrote all 11 songs on her album, without assistance from

DONINGTON DEATH

It looks likely that the Castle Donington Monsters Of Rock heavy metal festival will go ahead next year, despite the deaths of two fans at this year's event on Saturday.

The two fans died when crowds surged to the front of stage during a performance by Guns N' Roses. Two other people were seriously hurt and at least 30 others were taken to hospital with injuries. Police have named one of the dead as Alan Dick from Scotland and as he went to press they were still trying to identify the other man.

"The two lads who died fell down six to seven feet in front of the stage," says a spokesperson. "They were slam dancing this form of dancing is completely unknown at Donington and we were utterly amazed to see it. We are all devastated by the tragedy."

A full enquiry will be held into the incident and a final decision will be taken on future heavy metal festivals at Donington after that. Previously Donington has had an excellent safety record, and the feeling from sources close to the organisers is that future festivals will go ahead after this isolated tragic incident.

anyone else. The last woman to do this was Janis Ian, who was similarly responsible for all the lyrics and tunes of her 1975 number one album 'Between The Lines'.

The first woman to turn the trick was the Singing Nun, who topped the US chart for 10 weeks in 1963 with her album, also called 'The Singing Nun'. It included her similarly chart-topping single 'Dominique' and other religious songs all sung in French. Amongst the more popular were 'J'Ai Trouve Le Seigneur' ('I Have Found The Lord'), 'Entre Les Etoiles' ('Amongst The Stars') and 'Complainte Pour Marie-Jacques' ('Lament For Marie-Jacques').

● Jane Wiedlin's 'Rush Hour' makes a mighty 17 notch jump to number 21 this week.

Thirty-year-old Jane co-wrote the song with Peter Rafelson. Both have previously penned one hit — and in both cases the song made the top 10.

With Terry Hall from Fun Boy Three, Jane wrote the Go-Go's only UK chart entry 'Our Lips Are Sealed'. A number 47 hit for the group in 1982, it climbed as high as number seven for the Fun Boy Three the following year.

Peter Rafelson, meanwhile, teamed up with Gardner Cole and Madonna to write the latter's number four hit, 'Open Your Heart'.

Jane's leap into the top 20 comes just as her former Go-Go's colleague Belinda Carlisle's re-release 'About You' dips out of the chart. Another girl group has spawned two solo hitmakers at any time, let alone simultaneously.

● A good week for Natalie Cole whose re-issue 'Jump Start' climbed number 39, a year after it peaked at number 44.

Natalie also debuts on America's Hot 100 this week with 'When I Love' a song her father first recorded in 1957.
