THIS WEEK'S CHARTS

ANALYSED BY ALAN JONES

After leading the race for much of the week, Simple Minds' 'Belfast Child' flagged slightly at the weekend, and, as a result, narrowly fails to enter the chart at number one, debuting instead at number two. Instead, Marc Almond and Gene Pitney enjoy a fourth week at number one with 'Something's Gotten Hold Of My Heart', which has now sold over 350,000 copies.

To Simple Minds falls the consolation of being only the second Scottish act to have a single debut inside the top 10 in the whole of the Eighties. The first was Wet Wet Wet, whose update of the Beatles song 'With A Little Help From My Friends' was a double A-sided hit (with Englishman Billy Bragg's 'She's Leaving Home') which debuted at number five on 14 May 1988. Another Beatles song, 'Let It Be', as recorded by Ferry Aid, was the last single to debut at number one, doing so on 4 April 1987. It is likely that another cover of a Beatles song will make its chart debut in the top 10 next week — Bananarama and Lalaneeneenoonoo's 'Help!'.

Simply Minds' single was available last week on cassette, compact disc and 12 inch vinyl, but the seven inch version of 'Belfast Child' was not released until Monday. Given the fanatical nature of their followers, many would undoubtedly have added the seven inch single to their collection last week as well as the others, had it been available, so its belated release may well have robbed them of the chance of debuting at number one. Still, it's over 30 years since a single climbed as high as number two without being available as a seven-incher, all singles before 1958 being 10 inch only, and thereafter on both seven inch and 10 inch for a couple of years.

● Samantha Fox's remake of 'I Only Wanna Be With You' has a lot to live up to. Three earlier versions of the song, written by Ivor Raymonde and Mike Hawkes, reached number four — those by Dusty Springfield, the Bay City Rollers and the Tourists. Sammy performed her version of the classic on 'Top Of The Pops' last Thursday, but its progress is slow — it climbs four places to number 16 this week — and it now seems unlikely to reach the top 10.

That being the case, 'It's Only Make Believe', written by Fifties heartthrob Conway Twitty with Jack Nance in a seven minute intermission during a performance in Canada, will remain for the time being the only song to reach the top 10 in as many as four different versions. Twitty took the song to number one in 1958. It has subsequently been a number 10 hit for Billy Fury in 1964, a number four hit for Glen Campbell in 1970 and a number 10 hit for Child in 1978. As is so often the case when two songs are linked in Chartfile, the only person I can find who has recorded them both is German bandleader James Last.

● Immediately behind Ms Fox in the chart is another girl named Samantha, specifically Sam Brown, whose emotion-wracked 'Stop' soars 20 places to number 17.

Sam is the fourth solo hitmaking daughter of a solo hitmaking father, if you get my drift. Two of the others also have hits at the moment: Natalie Cole, daughter of Nat, and Kim Wilde, offspring of Marty. The odd girl out is Nancy Sinatra daughter of the legendary Frank.

Sam's dad Joe scored several hits in the Sixties, some with his backing group the Bruvvers, others without.

Miss Brown is a talented lady, and it is to be hoped that she, like Kim Wilde, will be a chart fixture for long enough to overshadow her father.

● BROS in split yawn. One down, two to go

BROS SPLIT

Mystery surrounds the future of Bros as a threesome. On Sunday, Ca Radio DJ Mick Brown announced during the London station's 'Junior Disco In Town' show that Craig Logan would be leaving the line up.

"Bros are now a twosome," said Brown and hinted that an official announcement would be made about the split soon. Brown has been there and compered on the band's two tours and is a close friend of theirs.

Craig has been suffering from nervous exhaustion since the band began their world tour late last year and Bros have been using a stand in. Other reports say that he's now well on the road to recovery and will be rejoining Bros soon.

As I went to press there was no word from Bros' record company (but we heard that Craig was due to be with Matt and Luke at this week's Brit Awards ceremony being held at the Royal Albert Hall.)

Marty Wilde registered 13 hits, whilst Kim has scored 17 solo plus one with Junior, Marty and Kim are the only parent and child to separately register more than 10 hit singles.

● The Fine Young Cannibals' album 'The Raw And The Cooked' debuts at number one this week in the wake of their recent number five hit single 'She Drives Me Crazy'. It's the Cannibals' second album. Their first, a self-titled collection, reached number 11, in 1985.

● The Style Council register their hit in a row this week as 'Promised Land' debuts at number 32. It's the first single the group to be written by an outsider, namely Joe Smooth, whose own version of the song, released a few weeks ago, is presently at number 56.

The Style Council have now had one less hit than chief councillor Paul Weller's previous group, the Jam. F total number of hits is 37, this figure includes Band Aid's 'Do They Know Christmas' and the Council Collective's 'Soul Deep'.
