THIS WEEK'S CHARTS

ANALYSED BY ALAN JONES

nia becomes the latest Stock, tken and Waterman protege to reach number one this week, climbing to the summit with her debut single 'You'll Never Stop Me Loving You'. The record is the 11th number one produced by SAW, and the seventh written by the trio. Both figures are bettered by only four individuals in chart history. The more successful producers are George Martin and Norrie Paramor, both of whom produced 27 number ones, Mitch Miller (15) and Steve Scholes (11). The more successful writers are John Lennon (7), Paul McCartney (26) and the team of Johnny Anderson and Norman Anderson and Ulvaeus (10). So far, 11 singles have topped the chart in 1989, six of them SAW productions. SAW have now produced number ones for nine different acts (Dead Or Alive, El & Kim, Ferry Aid, Rick Astley, Kylie Minogue, Jason Donovan, Kylie & Jason, Paul McCartney with Holly Johnson, erry Marsden and the Christians and Sonia. SAW thus equal a record held by Norrie Paramor, who worked with artists like Cliff Richard, Frank Ifield and Helen Shapiro. At 18, Liverpudlian Sonia is the youngest Briton to have a solo number one since 1968, when Mary Hopkin topped with 'Those Were The Days', Mary was a mere eight days younger than Sonia is now. In the interim, foreign-born youngsters to have reached number one at an earlier age are Glenn Lewis, Tiffany and Nicole. Whilst Sonia and 20-year-old Bobby Brown represent youth in the top 10, Lady's Knight (45) and Bette Midler (43) represent experience.

● As Simply Red's single 'A New Flame' climbs to number 20, their album of the same name returns to number one. It debuted at number one in February, and returned to the summit again in April.

With dramatically increased sales in the last couple of weeks, 'A New Flame' has overtaken Gloria Estefan and Miami Sound Machine's 'Anything For You' as the best-selling album of 1989, and will probably go on to become the first album this year to sell a million copies.

'A New Flame' is the first Simply Red album to spawn three top 20 hits, the title track following the number two success of 'If You Don't Know Me By Now' and the number 13 hit 'It's Only Love'.

With Sonia and Simply Red claiming pole positions on the singles and albums charts, Soul II Soul suffer a double defeat. They topped both charts last week, becoming the first black group ever to top singles and albums charts simultaneously.

● 'Days' celebrates its 21st birthday this week by becoming the second song penned by Kinks' leader Ray Davies to become a top 20 hit for two acts.

Last year, the Stranglers remake of 'All Day And All Of The Night' reached number seven. The song was originally a number two hit for the the Kinks in 1964. 'Days', currently at number 15 in a version by Kirsty MacColl, was a number 12 hit for the Kinks in 1968.

Meanwhile, Kirsty's erstwhile partners the Pogues latest single 'Misty Morning, Albert Bridge' dips 21 to number 67, having failed to climb any higher than its debut position of number 41.

The pairing of Kirsty and the Pogues produced the number two hit 'Fairytale Of

MICK HUCKNALL: "I know newsprint comes off on your fingers, but this is ridiculous"

New York', whilst a further Pogues collaboration with the Dubliners resulted in the number eight hit 'The Irish Rover', but of the 10 chart entries the group has had in its own right, none has climbed higher than 1988's 'Fiesta' which reached only number 24.

● Singles sales are likely to be around 60 million this year, the same as in 1988, but with upwards of 160 million albums expected to be purchased (an all-time record) competition to chart singles and, therefore, albums by the same acts, is fierce. The silliest symptom of this desperate battle to appear in the chart is that singles are appearing in ever more formats and configurations. Fairly mundane records achieving only moderated success (eg: 'Be With You' by the the Bangles) are available in up to six different editions, whilst the current hits by the Pet Shop Boys and Waterfront are each available in 8 different editions, as was Sam Fox's recent and very minor hit 'I Wanna Have Some Fun'.

CHARTFILE USA EXTRA

The Fine Young Cannibals' 'The Raw And The Cooked' ends its seven week reign atop the US album chart, making way for Prince and the soundtrack album 'Batman'. It's Prince's third number one album, following 'Purp Rain' (1984) and 'Around The World In Day' (1985) and represents a major triumph for him after the disappointing number 11 peak of his last album 'Lovesexy'.

Prince is also poised to top the Hot with 'Batdance', which moves up from number six to number four, but the new number one in the singles chart this week (the 10th in as many weeks) is 'Toy Soldiers' by 20-year-old Martika, who leapfrogs over Madonna's 'Express Yourself', which is number two for the second week in a row. The irony here that the melody of the verses of 'Toy Soldiers' are heavily based on Maddy's 'Live To Tell'.
