CHARTS

THIS WEEK'S CHART
ANALYSED BY ALAN JONES

LISA STANSFIELD: "Rhubarb, rhubarb, get your rhubarb here"

An electrical fire at Gallup's London headquarters knocked out their main computer on Sunday. Consequently, that evening's countdown of the new chart on Radio I covered sales up to Friday, instead of Saturday. This stop-gap chart was replaced by the real McCoy on Monday, after Gallup staff succeeded in running a chart on the full week's data at a standby site in Rickmansworth. This, alas, occurred after This Week's Charts deadline, so please excuse any major developments not covered herein.

Whatever effect Saturday's sales had on the chart — and Saturday generally account for a whopping 35 per cent of the we. sales — Britain's new number one is Lisa Stansfield's 'All Around The World'.

Lisa, from Rochdale in Lancashire, is the second artist to have a number one solo nit after making her chart breakthrough as a featured vocalist on a Coldcut record, the first being Yazz. But Lisa is already something of record industry veteran, naving made her first record, 'Your Alibis', for Devil Records when still a schoolgirl nearly eight years ago.

- ●Adeva's third hit, 'I Thank You', continues its gentle descent of the top 40 after peaking a fortnight ago at number 17. It reached number 17 as did both of her previous solo hits 'Respect' and Warning'.
- The two highest new entries on this week's chart are by acts each of whose combined ages add up to over 80 years but one of the acts consists of five very uvenile members, while the other features wo rather older individuals.

Narrowly winning this generation game

are New Kids On The Block, whose reactivated 'You Got It (The Right Stuff)' explodes onto the chart at number 23 five months after it was first released. The reason for its sudden success — their appearance on a pop awards show on TV recently, followed by heavy support from Radio 1. The Kids just about won the race for highest debut, beating off the duo of

LINDA RONDSTADT

43-year-old Linda Rondstadt and 48-year-old Aaron Neville and 'Don't Know Much'. Linda has previously scored with solo hits like 'Tracks Of My Tears' and 'Blue Bayou', but her only hit to date to make a greater impression than 'Don't Know Much' was her last outing, 'Somewhere Out There', a 1987 duet with James Ingram that reached number two. Aaron has been recording for nearly 30 years, and had a US million seller with 'Tell It Like It Is' in 1967, but has never charted here before.

Aaron is trying to make up for lost time, and must be fancied to score another hit next week, this time with siblings Art, Charles and Cyril as the Neville Brothers, whose version of the Bob Dylan song 'With God On Our Side' has all the hallmarks of a major hit.

The Wonder Stuff land their sixth hit inside two years with the double Asided single 'Golden Green/Get Together'. The group wrote each of their first five singles themselves, and also penned 'Golden Green', but 'Get Together' is a Chet Powers song that was previously a UK number two hit as 'Everybody Get Together' for the Dave Clark Five in 1967. Coincidentally, the song, which was a US hit for We Five and the Youngbloods, has also been recorded recently by the Indigo Girls, their fine version appearing exclusively on 'The Wonder Years', a rather odd album released recently by Atlantic Records. Comprising music featured on the Emmy Award winning TV show of the same name, it includes original Sixties hits by the likes of Joe Cocker, Buffalo Springfield and Van Morrison plus new versions of songs from the era, amongst them Julian Lennon's update of the Rolling Stones' 'Ruby Tuesday'. Debbie Gibson's homage to the Five Satins' 'In The Still Of The Night' and Was (Not Was) with a smooth and sassy remake of the Four Tops' 'Baby I Need Your Loving'.

CHARTFILE US EXTRA

Anglo-American rock band Bad English's debut single 'When I See You Smile' soars to the top of the Hot 100 this week, displacing Roxette's 'Listen To
