CHARTS

THIS WEEK'S CHART
ANALYSED BY ALAN JONES

● All change at the top of the chart this week, with Lisa Stansfield's 'All Around The World' overtaken by New Kids On The Block's 'You Got It (The Right Stuff)'.

With an average age of 18, the Kids are the youngest act to have a number one hit since 1983 when New Edition topped the chart with 'Candy Girl'. Their average age was just 15.

It's no coincidence that Maurice Starr wrote and produced both 'Candy Girl' and 'You Got It' — the former with his brother Michael Jonzun — as his aim in forming New Kids On The Block was to create a white New Edition.

The youngest member of New Edition at the time of their number one was Bobby Brown. Now 20, Bobby returns to the chart this week with 'Roni', his sixth top 40 hit of the year, a total unmatched by any other act. 'Roni' debuts at number 29, beating at a stroke the peak position of Bobby's last hit 'Rock Wit'cha' which disappointingly stalled at number 37.

● Manchester really comes into its own this week, with three of the six highest debuting singles by acts hailing from the city — The Stone Roses, Morrissey and Happy Mondays. And if that's not enough, the fastest mover in the top 20 is 'Pacific 707' by Mancunians 808 State, and the number two single is by Lisa Stansfield, who was born in the city's Crumpsall District, though she now lives in nearby Rochdale.

'Ouija Board, Ouija Board' is Morrissey's fifth consecutive top 20 hit since The Smiths split. Including that group's 16 hits, he has charted 21 times in the last six years. In the same period, no other act has been so productive and so successful. Even so, 'Ouija Board, Ouija Board' is likely to be his least successful solo hit. Conversely, The Stone Roses and Happy Mondays are already enjoying the biggest hits of their respective careers.

Happy Mondays whose 'Madchester Rave On EP' debuts at number 30, have released several singles, but despite consistent indie chart success, they made the top 75 for the first time only a couple of months ago, when 'W.F.L. (Wrote For Luck)' reached number 68.

Coincidentally, the very week Happy Mondays' first single 'Forty Five EP' was released in September 1985, so was The Stone Roses' debut offering 'So Young' on the Thin Sliced label — and they too made their chart breakthrough with their last single 'She Bangs The Drum' which reached number 36.

● Eleven years after it was first a hit, 'Eve Of The War' re-enters the chart at number 24, a full dozen places higher than its original chart peak. Little of the original track remains, with vocalist Justin Hayward's contributions now submerged beneath a contemporary house rhythm track by Dutchman Ben Liebrand.

● It's been very quiet recently by their standards, but the Stock Aitken Waterman bandwagon is starting to roll again. Though their top artist Kylie Minogue's 'Never Too Late' dips from its peak of number four to number five this week, bringing to a close her career opening sequence of number one/two hits, a pair of new hits written and produced

● THE STONE ROSES: "Now we're popstars, where's all the sun-kissed beaches and dancing girls?"

● Last week I said that Linda Ronstadt and Aaron Neville were only the second pair of duettists over 40 to have a top 10 hit, emulating Bill Medley and Jennifer Warnes. In fact, they're the third, as I somehow forgot Phil Everly and Cliff Richard's 'She Means Nothing To Me' which reached number nine in 1983, when Phil was 44 and Cliff was 42. Linda (43) and Aaron (48) have a collective age of 91, so they are still the oldest duo to hit the top 10, but Cliff, now 49, will snatch the title if his new single 'Whenever God Shines His Light', a duet with 44-year-old Van Morrison, reaches the top 10. by SAW debut this week, Big Fun's 'Can't Shake The Feeling' and Donna Summer's 'When Love Takes You

Over'. Also imminent: Sonia's 'Lister Your Heart' and Jason Donovan's 'When You Come Back To Me'. Bookmakers William Hill think it will, have even made it one of the front runners in the battle for the Christmas number one, behind the new Jive Bunny single which will be a season medley for which, I can reveal, Roy Wood has recreated his 1973 Wizzard classic 'I Wish It Could Be Christmas Everyday', as EMI wouldn't licence the original for use. Meanwhile second favourite, Lionel Bart's hit 'Happy Endings (Give Yourself A Pin)' debuts at a lowly number 68 this week despite pre-release saturation airplay enough to restore your faith in human nature.
