CHARTS

THIS WEEK'S CHART
ANALYSED BY ALAN JONES

While new protégé Lonnie Gordon's debut hit 'Happenin' All Over Again' storms onto the chart at number 32, Stock Aitken Waterman's most successful artist Kylie Minogue climbs to number one with 'Tears On My Pillow'. It's SAW's 13th number one as producers, Kylie's fourth as an artist, a tally which includes her duet with Jason Donovan and three solo hits.

Kylie is only the fourth female in chart history to accumulate three number one solo hits, following Sandie Shaw, Madonna and Whitney Houston. Kylie succeeds New Kids On The Block at number one, even though 'Hangin' Tough' is selling substantially more copies per week now than when it first reached pole position. Incidentally, the five weeks that elapsed between 'You Got It (The Right Stuff)' dropping from number one and 'Hangin' Tough' recapturing the crown for the Kids was the shortest period between number ones by the same artist since John Lennon scored consecutive chart toppers nine years ago with 'Imagine' and 'Woman'.

Even as Kylie settles in at number one, her supremacy is under threat from Sinéad O'Connor, whose recording of Prince's 'Nothing Compares 2 U' soars from number 30 to number three. It's the fourth Prince composition to become a top five hit for another artist, following 'I Feel For You' (a number one hit for Chaka Khan in 1984), 'Manic Monday' (number two for The Bangles in 1986) and 'Kiss', which climbed to number five a little over a year ago. The Art Of Noise featuring Tom Jones.

● Still counting the cash from their recent top 10 remake of the Chi-Lites' 1974 hit 'Homely Girl', UB40 return to the chart with their new hit 'Here I Am (Come And Take Me)', which is of even greater vintage, having been originally written and recorded in 1973 by the great Al Green. But as 'Homely Girl' came to UB40's attention via a reggae remake by Jackie Robinson, so 'Here I Am (Come And Take Me)' is known to them only by another reggae act, Skin, Flesh & Bones.

● The latest Italian to be welcomed to the top 20 is Gino Latino, whose debut hit 'Welcome' climbs to number 19. Latino is better known as Jovanotti, under which names he topped the Italian chart with 'Gimme 5' — a record which later lent its name to the BBC2 series of TV programmes from overseas, which Jovanotti himself introduced.

Meanwhile, FBI Project — which started out its chart career as a wholly Italian act, but is now a hybrid thanks to the belated introduction of British vocalist Sharon Dee Clarke — climb to number nine with 'Going Back To My Roots'. Clarke's vocals undoubtedly gave a new lease of life to what was formerly a more or less instrumental track, and has certainly boosted her own career. Such a ploy was once impossible, as BPI Chart regulations previously expressly forbade the introduction of a 'new' artist once a record had charted — but this would appear to be no longer the case.

● Public Enemy equal their highest chart placing to date as 'Welcome To The Terrordome' climbs to number 18 — a peak previously attained only by their 1988 hit 'Don't Believe The Hype'.

● Sybil's 'Walk On By' debuts at

MEL DIES

Mel Appleby lost her three year battle against cancer last week and died in hospital after contracting pneumonia.

23-year-old Mel had been suffering from cancer of the spine. She'd had operation to remove a tumour a couple of years ago followed by intensive periods of chemotherapy and radiotherapy treatment.

"She was beating the cancer but she was so weak that when she contracted pneumonia it proved too much," says a spokesperson. "She was always brave, good humoured and determined that she was going to win."

Mel and Kim were groundbreakers for the SAW empire with hits like 'Shout Out' and 'Respectable'. Paying tribute to Mel's courage Pete Waterman says, "Mel's bravery made most of us feel ashamed when we complained about minor illnesses."

Two years ago when Mel was starting her struggle against cancer she showed what a fighter she was when she said, "You've got to keep looking up, don't look down. We've had to laugh at a lot of things. I feel I could handle anything."

Mel and her sister Kim were great to work with and gave Record Mirror some excellent interviews and photo shoots. We'll miss her.

number 39 this week. It's the fifth version of the classic Hal David/Burt Bacharach song to chart. It was previously a hit for Dionne Warwick (number nine, 1964), The Stranglers (number 21, 1978) The Average White Band (number 46, 1979) and D Train (number 44, 1982). A further version by Smith & Mighty (styled 'Walk On...') fell just short of the top 75 a couple of years ago.

The only songs to be a hit more times than 'Walk On By' are now 'White Christmas' (a hit in eight versions), 'Unchained Melody' (seven versions) and a brace of songs that have each charted in six editions: 'Stranger In Paradise' and

'Theme From The Threepenny Opera', also known as 'Moritat' and 'Mack The Knife'. 'Only You' has also been a hit 11 times.

Burt Bacharach says: "If there's one song I'd like people to remember me it's 'Walk On By'. It came to me so early that I figured somebody else had already written it! David convinced me it was new tune, and that I wasn't plagiarising someone else's work, and then wrote some of the finest lyrics of his career. I guess other people must like it too, because far as I know there's over 250 recordings of it by everything from a Russian Arr Band to a heavy metal group. I'm very proud of it."
