CHARTS

THIS WEEK'S CHART
ANALYSED BY ALAN JONES

● PAULA ABDUL: "One word about the spot on my cheek and you're dead"

Al Green that reached number 28 some 15 months ago.

● Debuting at number 51 on the album chart is the self-titled first album by the 49ers, which replaces Kylie Minogue's 'Enjoy Yourself' as the shortest album on the chart, with a playing time of just 30 minutes and 25 seconds.

● Adam Ant's 'Room At The Top' has peaked here, but it debuts at number 84 in America, to become his first hit there since 'Strip' reached number 42 six years ago. Adam's only top 40 hit Stateside was 'Goody Two Shoes', which reached number 12 in 1983. There's little else of interest happening in America this week, with Janet Jackson and Paula Abdul respectively heading the singles and albums charts, Janet for the second week, and Paula for the seventh with her LP 'Forever Your Girl', but it's marginally less boring than last week, when none of the top 13 albums moved. Abdul's album has now sold six million copies in America, a figure bettered by only two albums in the past two years — Milli Vanilli's 'Girl You Know It's True' (6½ million) and New Kids On The Block's 'Hang Tough' (7½ million) both of which are still selling heavily.

Finally, a mental brainstorm caused me to refer to Seduction, Exposé and the Cover Girls as duos last week. They are, of course, trios.

Beats International's 'Dub Be Good To Me' continues its run at number one this week, but the 'Brits 1990' reggae mix surges to number two, setting up an interesting confrontation next week with the new Jive Bunny single 'That's What I Want' which, to all intents and purposes, is also a multi-artist reggae mix. Making way for 'Brits 1990', Sinead O'Connor's 'Nothing Compares 2 U' dips to number four. On the credit side, Sinead's single has now sold more copies than any single by a female singer in Britain since Kylie Minogue's 1988 chart-topper 'I Should Be So Lucky', and it's still number one in Holland, Sweden and Norway. It is also the best-selling cover of a Prince single, replacing Chaka Khan's recording of 'I Feel For You'. In third place, The Bangles' 'Manic Monday'.

Sinead's brilliant new album 'I Do Not Want What I Haven't Got', which was released on Monday, stands more chance than most of toppling Phil Collins' '... But Seriously', which is number one again in its week for the 14th time. It thus equals The Straits' 1985/86 run of success with 'Brothers In Arms'. Of the 12 albums in chart history to spend longer at number one, the last to do so was the Bees various soundtrack album 'Saturday Night Fever', an 18-week topper in 1978. Only two albums by solo artists have ever spent longer at number one than '... But Seriously'. They are 'G.I. Blues' and 'Blue Hawaii', both soundtrack albums to films by Elvis Presley. 'G.I. Blues' was top for 22 weeks in 1961, 'Blue Hawaii' for 18 weeks in the following year. '... But Seriously' has, therefore, spent longer at number one than any album by a solo artist for nearly 30 years.

● Rod Stewart's 'Downtown Train' has finally gone into reverse, but it did reach number 10 last week, to become Rod's 19th top 10 solo hit. That's the same number as David Bowie. Elvis Presley (55), Cliff Richard (54), Madonna (21) and Michael Jackson (20) are the only soloists to have more. Cliff, of course, would have equalled Elvis' record had 'Stronger Than That' reached the top 10. Instead, it dips from number 14 to number 22 this week.

● Exactly 10 years ago, Shakin' Stevens was enjoying his first hit with 'Hot Dog'. This week his 30th hit (31st, including his rockin' good duet with Bonnie Tyler) 'I Might' climbs to number 18, to become his most successful single since 'A Little Boogie Woogie' (In The Back Of My Mind) reached number 12 in 1987.

● He's topped the chart with Soft Cell and with Gene Pitney, but as a solo singer Marc Almond never seems to achieve quite the level of success he is undoubtedly capable of. His latest solo hit, 'A Lover Spurned', climbs to number 29 this week, but probably won't get any higher. It's his 12th solo hit, but none has topped the number 23 peak of 1985's 'Stories Of Johnny'. No other act has had so many hits without reaching the top 20 at least once.
