CHARTFILE

BY ALAN JONES

he absence of a strong challenger, Partners In Kryme's 'Turtle Power' stays a third week at number one.

LA featuring Suzanne Vega move up a notch to number two with 'Tom's Diner' and could snatch the crown next week. But there's no chance of glory for MC Hammer's 'U Can't Touch This', Blue Pearl's 'Naked In The Rain' or the Soup Dragons' 'I'm Free', which move up, and now occupy third, fourth and fifth place respectively. In reality they're weakening, especially 'U Can't Touch This', which is now on its 10th week in the charts.

New Acts On The Block's 'Night Train' bumps to number eight to come the group's fifth Top 10 hit of the year, following 'Hangin' Tough', 'I'll Be Loving You (Forever)', 'Cover Girl' and 'Step By Step'. The last group to notch five Top 10 hits in a year was Adam & The Ants, who turned the trick with 'Young Parisians', 'Kings Of The Wild Frontier', 'Stand And Deliver', 'Prince Charming' and 'Ant Rap' in 1981.

● Bananarama's brave new (post-SAW) world isn't proving as friendly as they would have hoped. 'Only Your Love' dips to number 32 this week, having apparently peaked at number 27. Unless it recovers, it will have made the worst showing of any Bananarama single since 'Trick Of The Night' peaked at number 32 in February 1987.

Disappointment too for Phil Collins as 'That's Just The Way It Is' dips from its peak of number 26 to number 30. That's his lowest charting single since 'Don't Let Him Steal Your Heart Away' in 1983.

Phil can console himself in the knowledge that 'That's Just The Way It Is'

is the fourth single of his current album '... But Seriously', and couldn't really have been expected to fare much better in view of the phenomenal two million plus sales posted by '... But Seriously'. No such excuses for Bananarama — 'Only Your Love' is the first single off their yet to be released new album.

● Wet Wet Wet are back on the hit trail with their double A-sided hit 'Stay With Me Heartache/I Feel Fine'. The former track is a new group composition, while 'I Feel Fine' is a new version of The Beatles' 1964 chart topper.

The Wets, of course, previously topped the chart in 1988 with their recording of another Beatles' song, 'With A Little Help From My Friends' off the Fabs' 'Sgt Pepper' album.

'I Feel Fine' is the 12th Beatles' hit to subsequently return to the charts in a cover version. Wet Wet Wet joining the following exclusive group of acts who have dared to cover a Beatles' hit and be rewarded for their gall with a hit of their own. In the order in which they have achieved it, the others are: Ella Fitzgerald, Peter Sellers, Otis Redding, Ray Charles, Wilson Pickett, Shirley Bassey, Stevie Wonder, David Cassidy, The 4 Seasons, Dollar, Tina Turner, Ferry Aid and Bananarama/LaNeeNeeNooNoo. There are, of course, many other acts who have successfully covered Beatles' album track and others who have had hits with songs actually donated by The Beatles. All will be revealed in a forthcoming edition of Chartfile.

● Record companies rarely feel well-inclined towards boot leggers, but A&M Records must be an exception. They have two current major hits that stiffed when first released, and owe their current popularity to bootleggers.

The story of Suzanne Vega's 'Tom's Diner' is already well-documented. A number 58 hit in 1987, in its original a cappella version, it became a serious chart contender only after DNA added a dance rhythm track to it and pressed up enough copies to create a major buzz. A&M sensibly decided to play Ball with the erstwhile bootleggers and are now reaping rewards.

Sting's 'Englishman In New York' failed to impress in 1988, peaking at number 5 but was subsequently given a legal dance remix by the ubiquitous Ben Liebrand for DJs. It caused a few ripples at the time, and remained in demand until an unauthorised version of it appeared a while ago, prompting A&M to secure Liebrand's remix for themselves. The single was released last Monday, and is a instant hit, debuting at number 26 this week.
