CHARTFILE

BY ALAN JONES

- While Maria Mckee's 'Show Me Heaven' - featured in the film 'Days Of Thunder' — narrowly holds off Bobby Vinton's 'Blue Velvet' to remain at Number One a former Number One from another Tom Cruise film returns to the fray, 'Take My Breath Away' by Berlin topped the chart in 1986, and re-surfaced two years later, peaking at number 52. Recently re-issued by CBS to tie-in with last Saturday's first-ever TV screening of 'Top Gun', it debuts at number 41 this week and is likely to climb higher still next week, partly because of the film, and partly because the TV advertising campaign for the Peugeot 405GTX (in which it is featured) has recom :ed.
- 'From A Distance' was a single for Nanci Griffith two years ago, it failed to chart then, despite much airplay, but you can't keep a good song down, and it enters the chart this week in two versions. one by Bette Midler, the other by Cliff Richard.

In this particular battle, Cliff, who will be 50 next Sunday (14th), is showing his 44-year-old rival a clean pair of heels, his recording of 'From A Distance' debuting at number 19, a massive 39 places ahead of Bette's.

Saint Cliff and Sleazy Bette appear to have little in common, yet oddly enough they've each had a hit with the same song before — Cliff's uptempo 1962 single 'Do You Wanna Dance' being rendered much more slowly by Bette, for whom it provided her debut American hit, reaching number 17 early in 1973.

● No listing that appears in Chartfile is complete without a couple of typographical errors, it would seem. The latest victim of this ongoing plague was last week's survey of the most popular Rolling Stones recordings, from which were missing number seven ('Paint It Black', 1966, 2353 points) and number eight ('Brown Sugar', 1971, 2340 points).

● 'Praying For Time' moves to pole position on the US Hot 100 this week to earn George Michael his eighth Number One hit. Starting with Wham!'s 'Wake Me Up Before You Go Go' (1984). George has also topped with 'Careless Whisper' (1985). 'I Knew You Were Waiting (For Me)' and 'Faith' (both 1987). 'Father Figure', 'One More Try' and 'Monkey' (all 1988).

Despite the success of 'Praying For Time', George's latest album, 'Listen Without Prejudice', is having a tough time in its attempt to reach Number One in the album chart, moving up just one notch to number four this week. George will have to loosen MC Hammer's vice-like grip on the Number One position -Hammer's been there for 18 weeks, frustrating even Wilson Phillips' selftitled debut album, despite the fact that it contains the girls' two Number One singles. 'Wilson Phillips' has sold three million copies so far without reaching Number One. This week it is number two again — for the tenth time.

● Last week, the Righteous Brothers became the first act in 14 years to have two versions of the same song on the US Hot 100 at the same time. This week they go one better — their 1964 recording of 'Unchained Melody' climbs from number 19 to number 15, while their brand new waxing of the same song vaults from number 45 to number 30. They thus become the first act ever to have simultaneous Top 40 hits with two different versions of the same song.

• THE STONE ROSES practice their Shadows routine outside court

THE STONE ROSES COURT CASE

Last Friday at Wolverhampton Crown Court the four members of The Stone Roses were fined £3,000 each when they pleaded guilty to the charge of criminal damage brought against them by Paul Birch, head of their former lat FM Revolver.

During the case, which lasted barely 30 minutes, the court heard how in January of this year the band had daubed the label's Wolverhampton offices, Birch, his girlfriend and three cars (including a Mercedes) with paint in retaliat for FM Revolver's re-issue of the single 'Sally Cinnamon' and accompanying video.

Re-adjourned from March, when the prosecution's Mr Ron Lee had request the trial be referred to the crown court due to the seriousness of the offences damages being sought, a small crowd gathered outside as the band arrived f their 10am appointment.

Referred to by their defence as "four young men with an obsessive regard their music" their admittedly "stupid" behaviour was nevertheless the result of Revolver releasing product the band regarded as "damaging to their professi reputation" and "blatant cashing in". The video, in the band's words, was "utte third rate".

One of the issues raised was the matter of damages being claimed by the label. An original figure of £10,000 had now jumped to £20,000, which the band were contesting. In no mood to unravel all the noughts and with FM Revolver still failing to produce any invoices, Judge Michael Mott deferred the issue until a later date.

As the judge perused photographs of the vandalised offices, Court Two awaited his verdict. Would it be a Strangeways stretch or would the boys be spending Friday night painting the town red?

Determined not to increase The Stone Roses' notoriety ("I've no intention of doing that"), the judge decided on the £3,000 fines payable in six months. (Extended from three months on appeal from the defence.)

Back outside the court house the boys signed T-shirts and albums before be whisked away in a couple of Range Rovers. All in all a bit of a storm in a pai pot. Patrick Weir
