CHARTFILE

BY ALAN JONES

'Unchained Melody' is once again way ahead of the field at the top of the singles chart, with no currently available records looking to be sufficiently popular to challenge its supremacy for at least a fortnight.

'Unchained Melody' has now sold well over half a million copies, and has come from nowhere to number three in the 1990 rankings in less than a month. Here's the year-to-date Top 20, which shows also the fine progress being made by Maria KcKee's 'Show Me Heaven': 1 Nothing Compares 2 U — Sinéad O'Connor. 2 Sacrifice/Healing Hands — Elton John. 3 Unchained Melody — The Righteous Brothers. 4 Killer — Tommy Stinson. 5 Dub Be Good To Me — Blacks International/Lindy Layton. 6 Show Me Heaven — Maria KcKee. 7 Vogue — Madonna. 8 World In Motion — England/New Order. 9 The Power — Snap!. 10 Nessus Dorma — Luciano Pavarotti. 11 Turtle Power — Partners In Kryme. 12 It Must Have Been Love — Roxette. 13 U Can't Touch This — MC Hammer. 14 Itsy Bitsy Teeny Weeny Yellow Polka Dot Bikini — Bombalurina. 15 Get Up (Before The Night Is Over) — Technronic/Ya Kid K. 16 Black Velvet — Alannah Myles. 17 Dirty Cash (Money Talks) — The Adventures Of Stevie V. 18 Mona — Craig McLachlan. 19 Love Shack — B-52's. 20 The Joker — The Steve Miller Band.

On the albums front, nothing looks capable of topping the sales of Phil Collins' '... But Seriously'. Phil's new live album, 'Serious Hits ... Live' is one of three live albums by long established acts to debut in the Top 20 this week. It enters the chart at number two ahead of Cliff Richard's 'From A Distance ... The Event' and Paul McCartney's 'Tripping The Live Fantastic'. The albums neatly represent the extremes of live discs, whatever your personal tastes, it has to be admitted that Collins' set features an impeccable vocal performance from the old buffer with no studio overdubs in evidence. McCartney's 'Tripping' is equally undeniably live, with Macca's vocals ranging from barely adequate to excruciating. Cliff, God bless him, is a good Christian, and for him to release what purports to be a live album when it is clear that a good deal of it was overdubbed in the studio is a little bit naughty.

That Collins and McCartney have fallen short of the chart summit with live follow-ups to Number One studio albums is not too surprising — live albums almost always perform less well chartwise than studio albums — though it is something of a shock to see Whitney Houston's latest (and studio recorded) album 'I'm Your Baby Tonight' debut as low as number six, when her last album 'Whitney' not only debuted at Number One — it stayed there for six weeks.

● Elton John's 'The Very Best Of ...' continues at Number One on the album chart, while his 'Sleeping With The Past' falls to number 45. They will be joined in the chart shortly by another E.J. album, an expanded version of 'The Very Best Of ...' entitled 'To Be Continued' — a "67 song, five hour journey through Elton's greatest hits and rarities," according to record company blurb.

A four record boxed set, it comes with a 44 page booklet, photos and an in-depth interview with Elton. It also includes newly recorded material, the original demo of 'Your Song' and other previously unreleased tracks.

● WHITNEY HOUSTON

Incidentally, I boomed last week when I suggested that Elton was the first artist to have two Number One albums in a year since 1983. Gloria Estefan turned the trick only last year. Sorry, Glo.

● The La's single 'There She Goes' advances strongly again this week, climbing from number 20 to number 13. When it was first issued at the beginning of 1989, it peaked at number 59.

● Jason Donovan's 'I'm Doing Fine' dips seven places from its peak of number 22 to number 29. It's the first single by Donovan to fall short of the Top 20.

Incidentally, Pete Waterman, who wrote and produced the single with Mike Stock and Matt Aitken responded to the suggestion that SA were unrepresented in the Top 75 for the week recently by suggesting that this was not the case, and that they had a couple of hits in the chart on which their name did not appear.

I'm not so sure — 'Ole Ole Ole' was certainly written and produced by the pseudonomously, but that peaked three places short of the Top 75. If you wondered about its writers' credit of 'Kear/Carter/Mattowski/Armaty/Dejo', re-arranging the first three words and have a perfect anagram of 'Stock/Aitk Waterman'.
