JONES

adonna's remix of 'Crazy For You' was the best-selling single for much of last week, but was eventually overtaken by The Clash's 'Should | Stay Or Should |

The first single by The Clash to reach the top 10, the nine-year-old song becomes one of the oldest recordings to reach number one in chart history, beaten only by Jackie Wilson's 'Reet Petite', Ben E King's 'Stand By Me', The Hollies' 'He Ain't Heavy, He's My Brother', MASH's 'Theme From M*A*S*H', The Steve Miller Band's 'The Joker' and The Righteous Brothers' 'Unchained Melody'.

'Should I Stay Or Should I Go?' is the second single to reach number one after featuring in a TV ad for Levi's 501 jeans, following the aforementioned Ben E King hit, 'Stand By Me.'

Had 'Crazy For You' reached the top, Madonna would have become the first artist to have two number one singles in the '90s. She was the top act of the '80s, with six number ones

Olt's third time lucky for Ned's Atomic Dustbin, whose latest single, 'Happy', debuts at number 16 this week. Last year, a couple of singles charted, though neither was exactly a big success: 'Kill Your Television' peaked at number 53; its follow-up 'Until You Find Out' reached 51.

EXpansions' 'Move Your Body (Elevation)' climbs to number seven on its 1990 chart peak. Its success has tempted BMG, who released the record, to resurrect a trio of also-rans from the dance fraternity, namely Alison Limerick's 'Where Love Lives' and Mike 'Hitman' Wilson's 'Another Sleepless Night', both of which originally peaked outside the top 75, and N-Joi's 'Anthem', which stalled at number

A-side with 'Mama Said Knock You Out' a mere three months ago. Warrant's 'Cherry Pie', which peaked at number 59 last November, is likely to be less successful on reissue and returns to the chart at number 60 this week.

●As mentioned in Chartfile (page 48) Chris Rea's 'Auberge' album makes its chart debut at number

this week. In fact, it was the chart champ by a massive margin, selling over three times as many as the number two album by Oleta Adams and, indeed, more copies than the rest of the top five added together.

Most of Rea's fans own compact disc players - well over half of all copies of 'Auberge' sold last week were on CD. Vinyl, on the other hand, accounted for less than one sale in every nine.

'Auberge' sold sufficient copies

this week, a 42-place improvement 45. Expect to find them in a top 40 near you soon, which is exactly where you can find LL Cool J's 'Around The Way Girl' this week. It debuts at anchor position in the top 40, a place higher than it climbed when originally released as a last week (100,000) to earn an immediate gold disc, but the single of the same name suffered from the album's release, dipping from number 16 to number 25.

Olf it's 1991, it must be time for an album from Joni Mitchell. The Canadian singer-songwriter has settled down to an "album every three years" cycle, delivering her first four Geffen label releases in 1982, 1985, 1988 and 1991

This year's model, entitled 'Night Ride Home', debuts at number 25 this week, thus becoming her highest charting disc since 1979's 'Mingus'. A chart regular for 21 years. Joni used to be less frugal with her releases, and has charted a total of 13 albums in all.

A succession of house hits made Italy the fourth biggest provider of UK hits last year, behind the UK, the USA and Australia. One of the earliest and biggest hits was FPI Project's 'Rich In Paradise'. They return to the chart this week with their latest single 'Everybody (All Around The World)'.

OMariah Carey has the number one album and the number one single in America this week. She's the first artist to simultaneously top both lists since Sinéad O'Connor did so almost a year ago. 'Someday' is the third number one from her self-titled debut album, following 'Vision Of Love', which spent four weeks at number one last August and 'Love Takes Time', number one three weeks October-November. Her album is selling at an ever-increasing rate. and recently topped four million sales

Meanwhile, Whitney Houston, with whom Mariah is often compared, gets off to a rapid start in her quest for a ninth number one hit. Her recording of the American 'The national anthem, Spangled Banner', debuts at number 32 in a wave of patriotism fuelled by the Gulf War.

The war is also a major factor in the success of two other new entries: the Peace Choir's 'Give Peace A Chance' and the Rolling Stones' 'Highwire'.
