CHART FOCUS

Bryan Adams' (Everything I Do) I Do It For You continued to lead the chart by a massive margin. This week — its third at number one — it is outselling the number two single by a ratio of more than three to one, the biggest victory by any single in the past year. It seems likely that it will overtake Cher's 'Shoop Shoop Song' to become the best seller of 1991 within the next three weeks. Meanwhile, Cher's new single Love And Understanding climbs to number 10. It's the first time she has had back-to-back Top 10 hits in over 25 years. Her singles' success continues to spark massive sales of her album Love Hurts, which remains a comfortable leader of the chart for the fifth week in a row.

The highest debuting single of the week is More Than Words by the Extreme. A&M passed over this single initially, preferring to establish the band with Get The Funk Out, but their US chartopper was too strong to deny, and enters the chart at number eight this week. The Shamen's Move Any Mountain also debuts in the Top 10, having originally peaked at number 55 when first released last year as Pro-Gen.

Less impressive, ABC makes its Parlophone debut at number 47 with Love Conquers All. The band previously released 15 singles (16 including a remix of The Look Of Love) on its own Neutron logo, all hits.

The introductory single from her album Spellbound, Paula Abdul's Rush Rush holds at number six, as the album debuts at number four, thus beating the number five peak of her debut album Forever Your Girl.

Marketing notes: Stimulating sales during the summer slump by advertising on television is a ploy used by many companies, but none as well as PolyGram. Their TV division is responsible for three of this week's four best-sellers, all consisting of repackage of previously released material. The Jam's Greatest Hits, Luciano Pavarotti's Essential Pavarotti II and the multi-artist compilation Wings Of Love are the leaders among eight PolyGram made-for-TV albums in this week's combined Top 50.

Meanwhile, Sony's attempt to revitalise the career of Meat Loaf's Bat Out Of Hell album by adding Dead Ringer For Love to its track listing appears to be having the desired effect. The album re-enters the chart this week at number 32, and looks set to soar much higher once the TV campaign begins to bite.

As independent retailers continue to close at an alarming rate, there appears to be one popular tactic for survival — starting your own record label.

Undeterred by the problems endured by Rough Trade since it diversified from its record store roots, retailers are attacking the Top 100 from behind the sales counter.

Dance specialist City Sounds recorded a number 76 with its first release Kinda Groovy by Cool 2 a fortnight ago and collectors' shop Vinyl Solution's latest release The Promise by Subject: 13 came in at 97 last week.

It is a natural progression for a retailer, says Vinyl Solution's French owner Yves Guillemot, who moved into releasing records in 1987. "Retailing can be a bit dry," he says. "Starting a label is Darren Stokes of City Sounds says: "We often get people coming in saying they want to release white labels on a sale-or-return basis. Instead of sending them to record companies, we thought, 'We want some of this'."

It is hardly surprising that record companies have got wind of the benefits of record shop tie-ins, a fact which prompted Cooltempo's deal with Flying Records, owned by dance impresario and Thatcher and Jags. But Cooltempo is banking on the link generating new talent.

The tie-in with dance specialist Cooltempo suggests the phenomenon is particularly relevant for club sounds. General manager Ken Grunbaum says: "There are a lot of people making home-made records. It is a bit like punk was, but the music is different," he says.

Vinyl Solution's Guillemot says: "I make money out of
