ever though a rock ballad romps to an easy seventh week in a row at the top of the singles chart, and a rather unexpected rock album debut at number one on the album chart — Metallica’s scintillating offering — dance music is still making all the

Four of the five highest debuts on this week’s chart are by dance acts, none of whom have ever reached the Top 40 before, and only one — 20/3’s Sunshine On A Rainy Day — has had any support from mainstream radio.

Leading the way at number nine is 19-year-old Bavarian Liam Howlett — The Prodigy — with Charly. Available only on 12-inch and CD, the single actually entered the Top 200 last week at number 180, following a distribution leak. Now firmly in its stride, it far surpasses the 118 peak of the debut Prodigy single What Evil lurks, and tops M.W’s Dance Chart, outselling all of singles by a margin of

The quartet of dance breakouts is completed by the Utah Saints, a pair of deejays whose debut hit cleverly samples Gwen Guthrie and Eurythmics’ hits.

As mentioned above, Metallica’s eponymous album debuts at number one. It’s their first number one album — their previous highest charting album... And Justice For All reached number four in 1988. It’s the first album on the Vertigo label to top the chart since Dire Straits’ Money For Nothing the same year.

Meanwhile, at the other end of the album chart (number 74) Prince and the New Power Generation debut with Gett Off.

Not, in reality, an album at all, it is a US single on which the 12-inch and compact disc formats fail the 20 minute/four track rule that determine what’s what in the UK. The seven-inch and cassette single are eligible, and, indeed, their sales place Gett Off at 114 in the singles chart.
