CHART FOCUS

Bryan Adams' hit (Everything I Do) I Do It For You has been number one for so long now that its extraordinary tenacity and longevity are taken for granted. For the record, this is its tenth week in pole position - and sales power diminished so slightly again last week that it a) sold more copies than it did on its first week at number one, b) increased its margin over eight Said Fred, whose I'm So Sexy is beginning to flag after five weeks as runner-up and c) will undoubtedly be number one again next week, thus claiming a half share in the all-time record of 11 weeks at number one, established by Jim Whitman's Rose Marie. It now seems certain to become the first single ever to spend 12 weeks at the chart summit. Meanwhile, Adams' new single, Can't Stop This Thing We Started, is surprisingly only the third highest debut of the week, at number 5, behind Cliff Richard's More To Life (23), and the Stone Roses' I Wanna Be Adored — the latter is a track from the group's self-titled 1989 album.

Status Quo, Motley Crue and Queensryche all saw their latest singles debut inside the Top 40 last week, but this week they're all missing from the upper echelon. Of the three, Quo's reversal is most surprising. Their single Can't Give You More is otherwise unavailable and follows two Top 20 hits.

Maybe they can console themselves with the fact that hit singles and hit albums don't necessarily go hand-in-hand: Paul Young's last single, a collaboration with Clannad didn't exactly cover itself with glory — in fact, it peaked at 74 — but his retrospective From Time To Time enters the album chart at number one. It's Young's third album chart topper, following 1983's No Parlez and 1985's The Secret Of Association. The first act to top the chart after the latter album was Dire Straits, with Brothers In Arms. On Every Street, their belated follow-up to that album, will doubtless overshadow From Time To Time next week.

Other album highlights: Level 42 register their fifth consecutive top five album with Guaranteed; Bon Jovi guitarist Richie Sambora's solo album Stranger In This Town debuts at 20; and, even though You Belong In Rock & Roll was their biggest hit to date, Tin Machine's second album debuts disappointingly at number 23 — 20 places lower than its predecessor.

ANALYSIS

In reaching number 126 in the album chart, BBC Enterprises' Sir John Betjeman cassette marks a triumph for spoken word. The success of the late poet laureate's recorded memoirs, Summoned By Bells, although humble in chart terms, is a landmark. Only Just William, read by actor Martin Jarvis, has taken speaking books into the chart before, reaching number 118 last summer. Both successes hinged on an old-fashioned music marketing principle: the promotional cost given by radio airplay. The recordings were both released on cassette just after their broadcast on Radio 4's morning book at breakfast slot. BBC head of spoken word Ian Anstruther says: "It proved to be useful promotion.

celebrates its third birthday this month — EMI's Listen With Pleasure label has used TV to its advantage. Titles such as All Creatures Great And Small and Darling Buds Of May are boosted by using their TV stars as readers.

Such creative releases have helped turn the market into a £35m earner, which WH a big seller like BBC's A Year In Provence has sold just 20,000 and the Betjeman title 8,000 in four weeks.

Listen For Pleasure general manager Roger Woodhead says: "It is not like rock music. You don't sell immense volumes. A recording will average about 5,000 to 10,000 a year."

In addition, a large percentage of sales are not even registered by Gallup, because of the high number of sales coming from bookshops.

On average, around 60% of spoken word sales go through record shops, but that is likely to increase, says Brian Worrell.

"Record retailers will soon realise the potential in spoken word."

With one of the sector's biggest ever hits — David Niven's 150,000 selling The Moon Is A Balloon — selling
