CHART FOCUS

At 6.20 am last Friday, the morning DJ on London's KISS 100FM announced that Shut Up And Dance's Raving I'm Raving was number one on the midweek chart (information not intended for public consumption) and insisted that "nothing can catch them". In reality, although the record took off in sensational fashion, it was probably prevented from becoming the first record to debut at number one in 1992 by the terms of SUAD's settlement with Marc Cohn, (see below).

As mentioned above, no single has entered the chart at number one yet this year. Even so, the level of new entries debuting inside the Top 10 has increased greatly, with 27 thus far, a total not achieved last year — itself a record year — until the end of September. Aside from SUAD, this week's instant entry to the upper echelon is Kris Kross' Jump, which enters at four, becoming the highest new entry by a previously uncharted act for just over a year. The last, Crystal Waters' Gypsy Woman (La La Dee), debuted at number three last May.

With a very high percentage sale on cassette, the Kris Kross single is clearly attracting not only the slightly older buyer of dance singles, but also an audience of their own age, who have been somewhat short of new idols in recent times.

Meanwhile, a month after Wish became their first number one, The Cure are threatening to achieve their biggest single success with Friday I'm In Love; up 23 places to 8. Their previous biggest hit was Lullaby, a number five in 1989.

Despite all the rapid to-ing and fro-ing taking place inside the Top 10, there have been only five number ones in 1992 including K.W.S.'s Please Don't Go, champ for the fourth week in a row. The only previous year in which we have gone into June with this few chart-toppers was 1954.

The album chart continues to be fairly volatile, with Michael Ball's self-titled Polydor album becoming the 11th chart-topper of the year to date. Amazingly, even though his first single, Love Changes Everything, was a hit over three years ago, it's his first ever solo album. It is undoubtedly being helped by the inclusion of Ball's single One Step Out Of Time, which finished second in the Eurovision Song contest. Meanwhile, Ireland's Linda Martin makes her singles chart debut at 59 with the competition winner Why Me?

CHART NEWCOMERS

2 SHUT UP AND DANCE/PETER BOUNCER: Raving I'm Raving, Shut Up And Dance. The legal dispute with Marc Cohn, whose Walking In Memphis is sampled here, means that this single was effectively deleted even before it was issued, with only 35,000 copies being available. The upcoming SUAD album, Death Is Not The End, will feature a re-recorded version of the song that doesn't infringe on Cohn's copyright, and, as a result, has been delayed from June to July. SUAD have released several singles before, of which the most successful was Autobiography Of A Crackhead/The Green Man, which reached number 43 earlier this year. A production duo consisting of Smiley & PJ, SUAD are joined on Raving I'm Raving by vocalist Peter Bouncer, whose surname is also his former profession. Bouncer is seven feet tall, and is due to release a solo single called Love Is All We Need.

4 KRIS KROSS: Jump. Ruffhouse/Columbia. This teen rap duo soared to the top of the US singles chart in four weeks, to become the fastest-breaking new act in the US since Zager & Evans in 1969. Even today Jump is still number one in America, six weeks after it first reached the summit, and has been joined at the top of the chart by Kris Kross's album, Totally Krossed Out, which took six weeks in its ascent, to reach number one — faster than any debut album since America's self-titled 1972 work.

32 INSPIRAL CARPETS: Two Worlds Collide. Cow/Mute. Quickfire follow-up to the Inspiral Carpets seventh and (so far) biggest hit, Dragging Me Down, which reached number 12. A new track, taken from their current studio residency, which is expected to yield an album in the autumn.

45 JULIA FORDHAM: I Thought It Was You (Circa). A reissue of a single from Julia's current album, Swept, the self-penned I Thought It Was You reached number 64 when originally released last August, since when she has had her first Top 20 hit with (Love Moves In) Mysterious Ways. Issued, like so many current singles, on two CDs, the first of which is housed in a double box to also accommodate the second. CD1 includes Mysterious Ways, Melt and Swept, while CD2 adds Sweet Little Mystery, And I See and Rainbow Heart to a piano and vocals only demo of I Thought It Was You.
