CHART FOCUS

After a small but definite dip in sales last week, when it reached number one by default, Boyz II Men's End Of The Road single shows the form of a true chart champion this week, almost doubling its popularity as it distances itself from the pack. Renewed TV exposure and wide release for the movie in which it features — Boomerang — have obviously helped.

Meanwhile, PM Dawn's I'd Die Without You, the second single from Boomerang, bows fairly quietly at number 43.

Making a much bigger initial impact, The Shamen's Boss Drum debuts at number six and 58. Their label, One Little Indian opted to simultaneously issue no fewer than five configurations of the single, but, chart regulations being what they are, they had to let one format float free. Their number six posting represents the combined might of 7-inch, cassette and two CD versions of Boss Drum, while the 12-inch fares less well.

With The Shamen's lofty debut, and Erasure's remixed Who Needs Love (Like That) debuting at number 10 — a huge improvement on the original version's 1985 peak of 55 — a total of 50 singles have already entered the chart inside the Top 10 this year.

The previous record for the whole year, 43, which was set only last year. And even that was a massive increase on the previous record of 30 established in 1989. In fact, just a decade ago, only nine records made an instant Top 10 debut in the entire year.

Several other singles give impressive performances, lifting the market out of the doldrums. A 21 percent surge in week-on-week singles sales is accompanied by a 23 percent increase in the album market. Unfortunately, neither quite manages to match last year's levels, but with a busy and impressive schedule in the next six weeks leading up to Christmas, it's not exactly a disaster either.

In perhaps the most surprising move of the week, Annie Lennox's single Cold — available only on CD and cassette — moves smartly into reverse gear, dipping from its debut position of number 26 to number 39, even though fans buying all three CD formats of the single gain nine exclusive recordings.

Defenders of vinyl will point to this as evidence that the medium is still important. As the preferred format of 40 percent of singles buyers, they may have a point and this week — the 16th birthday of the 12-inch single — is as good a time to make it as any.
