CHART FOCUS

Whitney Houston stands firm at the top of the singles chart, increasing her lead over Michael Jackson still further. There seems no doubt now that I Will Always Love You will not only be the Christmas number one, but also the biggest selling single of 1992, the latter status being achieved by this weekend, at the expense of Snaps' Rhythm Is A Dancer, which has led the pack for some time.

In an otherwise unchanged top five, Take That's Could It Be Magic conjures up a little movement, rising from number nine to number five. It thus becomes the group's biggest hit to date. Fellow RCA act The Wedding Present have yet to register a top five hit, but No Christmas, which debuts at number 25, brings their 1992 hit score to 12. They thus equal the record set by an even more famous RCA act, Elvis Presley, who also scored a dozen hits in 1957.

The last flurry of major releases before Christmas sees a further 20 singles make their chart debuts this week. The 1992 total is now over 1,000, a new record. Of this week's intake, the highest is The Shamen's Shorever People at number seven. It thus maintains the group's record of debuting inside the Top 10 with each of its singles from the Boss Drum album; L.S.I. debuted at number nine, while both Ebenezer Goode and Boss Drum debuted at number six.

Boney M's Megamix climbs to number 10 to become the group's biggest charting hit since 1979. More famous and revered acts like the Beatles, the Beach Boys, Elvis Presley, Wham and The Hollies have all charted with megamixes of earlier hits, but Boney M are the first act to score with two separate mixes, having reached number 52 with another record, which though a different mix, bore the same title. In fact, they've released four different megamixes, but the other two didn't chart.

On a similar subject, Gloria Estefan's Miami Hit Mix springs to number 16, surprisingly becoming her biggest hit since 1989. Its success comes despite the fact that the mix has been issued twice before as a CD bonus track. On Live For Loving You it was 7.35 minutes. By the time it was hitched to Always Tomorrow it had grown to 9.10 minutes. As a hit in its own right it has been clipped to a mere 5.17 minutes. It's not easy to see why, since the total playing time of the CD is a little over 13 minutes, well below the limit allowed by chart regulations.
