CHART FOCUS

The combined effects of the televising of Michael Jackson's interview with Oprah Winfrey, the Brits and the fact that it was half-term in some areas of the country (others follow this week) was not enough to stop sales from picking last week, with singles down 7% and albums off by 12%, compared to the previous week, when Valentine's Day provided the impetus.

Those who gained from Brits exposure include Simply Red whose Stars album moves from number 22 to 11, Tasmin Archer, up from number 40 to number 18 with Great Expectations, and Annie Lennox, up from number 11 to number three with Diva.

The big winners of the week, however, are KD Lang, whose Ingénue album re-enters the chart at number 15, eleven months after it originally peaked at number 28, and Michael Jackson whose Dangerous hurtles from number 46 to number nine. The 9½m audience garnered by his Oprah interview was the spur for Jackson. The show also highlighted Jackson's latest single, Give In To Me, which debuts at number six. Dangerous thus emulates his Bad album by yielding a sixth Top 10 hit.

A seventh single from Dangerous, Jam, peaked at number 13, while a remix of Black Or White peaked at number 14. And despite the album itself being widely described as a "stiff", it has now sold well over 1.5m copies, making it the second biggest selling album of the Nineties, excluding compilations.

Take That were widely expected to move to the top of the singles chart this week, but actually lose ground to 2 Unlimited, and must now be regarded as extremely unlikely to provide Britain's first homegrown number one since Tasmin Archer's Sleeping Satellite last October. In Your Care, Tasmin's slightly belated follow-up to that hit, powers its way from number 44 to number 18 this week.

It's worth noting that, for all their singles success, none of Take That's singles has sold as many copies as their album Take That & Party. The album, now nearly double platinum, climbs to number five this week. Meanwhile, their biggest rivals in the teen stakes, East 17 capitalise on the success of their first three singles by topping the album chart with their debut LP Walthamstow. It's the first number one for their label, London, since the Fine Young Cannibals' The Raw And The Cooked in 1989.
