CHART FOCUS

George Michael & Queen's Five Live EP powers even further ahead at number one on the singles chart, but it's an historic top five this week: the first in chart history to include three new entries.

There had never been even one new entry to the Top 10 in the same week until 1991, but it's happened no fewer than 10 times since, including this week.

Of this week's trio, Janet Jackson's Virgin label debut, That's The Way Love Goes, is top dog, debuting at number two. It's Janet's fifth solo hit, but her only single to debut even in the Top 10 previously was her duet with Luther Vandross, The Best Things In Life Are Free, which bowed at number seven last year.

Janet's high flying debut is two places ahead of Tribal Dance, the sixth hit by 2 Unlimited, and their first single since the chart topping No Limit, which also debuted at number four.

Both Jackson and 2 Unlimited were expected to make a high debut, but the same cannot be said of Swedish group Ace Of Base, whose very first UK hit, All That She Wants, enters the chart at number five.

Another Euro-hit, Inner Circle's Sweat (A La La La Long), was a number one single in 12 countries last year, but peaked at number 43 here. It's making a much bigger impact this time, vaulting from number 20 to number six. And, hoping for similar success on the continent, Sonia's Better The Devil You Know climbs to number 18 this week, to become the highest charting Eurovision entry by a UK act since 1984 when Belle & The Devotions' Love Games reached number 11.

While REM's single Everybody Hurts holds at number nine, their album makes another surge to reach the chart summit for the third time, overcoming the challenge of World Party and PJ Harvey, who enter at number two and three respectively, each making a their Top 10. World Party's previous best placing was number 36 with their last album, Goodbye Jumbo, in 1990, while PJ Harvey reached number 11 last year with Too Pure.
