CHART FOCUS

The tenuous toe-hold on the singles throne that Culture Beat established last week has turned into a vice-like grip, as sales of Mr. Vain soar to more than twice that of nearest challenger Bitty McLean - and all this without being released on 7-inch.

Even though the format skulks in fourth place behind CD, cassette and 12-inch on current singles market share, the last number one hit NOT to be released as a seven-incher was in 1959, when 7-inch was in the ascendancy, taking over from the old 10-inch 78RPM discs.

Meanwhile, a single not released on 12-inch - Billy Joel's River Of Dreams - moves into third place and becomes his biggest hit single since his one and only chart topper Uptown Girl in 1983. Uptown Girl is one of only four of the 17 singles to top the chart in 1983 NOT on the Now That's What I Call Music 1983 compilation, which makes its introductory foray into the compilation chart this week at number 10.

Predictably, the five Now albums unleashed simultaneously to celebrate the series' 10th anniversary have charted in descending order of seniority, with the 1984 compendium placed 14th, followed by 1985 (15th), 1986 (16th) and 1987 (17th).

One other theory - that the CD share of sales would be highest on the 1983 volume and lowest on 1987 since the older consumer would be more likely to have invested in a CD

Hailing from the unfashionable (in rock terms) seaside resort of Brighton, the Levellers have made giant strides since their debut album Weapon Called The Word failed to chart. Now favourites with fawning coverage in the inky, the group's self-titled third album debuts at number two this week, coming closer than any album yet to dethroning UB40's seven week topper Promises And Lies. The UB40 album has led the chart since it was released a week after U2's Zooropa album. However, even though it has spent seven times as long at number one, it has still sold fewer copies than the U2 album.

player didn't translate into fact with the CD penetration as follows: 1983 - 39%, 1984 - 40%, 1985 - 42%, 1986 -

36% and 1987 - 40%.

It would appear that few punters decided to buy all five volumes - a net outlay of at least £90 for CDs - either. For every hundred buyers of NOW 1983, there were only 62 for 1984, 57 for 1985, 56 for 1986 and 46 for 1987.

On the artist album chart there's little evidence to support the conflicting reports that the current furore has caused Michael Jackson's sales to increase (BBC) or decrease (ITV). Jacko's current album Dangerous drifts down two places this week (from 26 to 28) but increases its sales by 1%. If anything, it's possible that the publicity has helped rather than hindered the album, which had experienced decreases in sales of more than 20% for each of the two previous weeks as the influence of his dying hit single Will You Be There declined.

Back in the singles chart, the recently becalmed Top 10 admits just one new entry this week, 2 Unlimited's Faces, which becomes the Dutch duo's seventh consecutive hit. With two number four hits to their credit already this year, they will become 1993's biggest selling singles act within the next couple of weeks, pushing aside Whitney Houston who has led the rankings all year.

Their last single All That She Wants is Britain's biggest-seller so far in 1993, but Ace of Base are struggling with their follow-up Wheel Of Fortune which inches up from number 21 to number 20, despite getting a boost from Top of The Pops.
