CHARTS AND PRODUCT NEWS
week ending
29 JANUARY 1994

● D:ream tighten grip on No 1 ● Chaka Demos & Pliers reach LP summit

CHART FOCUS

D:ream's Things Can Only Get Better continues to impress at the top of the singles chart, where its sales are equivalent to that of the number two and three records combined.

In a fairly sluggish Top 10, it is interesting to note the importance of Germany as an A&R base. For the first time there are three different acts in the upper echelon whose records originate from there; Culture Beat, Haddaway and Enigma.

Enigma, comprising Romanian Michael Cretu and his German wife Sandra, who actually record on the Spanish island of Ibiza, topped the chart four years ago this very week with Sadness, the introductory single from their successful debut album.

Their new single Return To Innocence, which is the highest placed of only 14 new entries in this week's Top 75, is likewise the first single from their forthcoming second album.

With two hits in four weeks The Tag Team have one of the fastest starting chart careers, but they must be disappointed by the lack of real success for either Whoop! (There It Is) released on the Club Tools label and Adams Family (Whoop!) on Atlas.

Though it never climbed higher than number two, the first title was far and away the biggest selling single in America last year racking up sales of more than 2,800,000 copies in

The album chart accommodates its first new entries of 1994 this week with Richard Thompson's Mirror Blue and Toni Braxton's self-titled debut. But it's the resurgent Ingenue by k.d.Lang (moving to number 12 after her Unplugged session on BBC2) and Chaka Demos & Pliers extended and reissued Tease Me that impress. Tease Me initially peaked at number 26 last July, but before the success of She Don't Let Nobody and Twist & Shout. It romps to the top of the chart this week, outselling the number two album by a margin of two to one, and becoming only the fourth reggae album ever to head the chart.

what so far has been a 36 week chart career - 24 in the Top 10.

Picked up here belatedly, the record peaked at number 34 a fortnight ago, and has tumbled to number 54 one notch below the position held by the debuting Addams Family (Whoop!) which, as its name suggests, is actually a version of Whoop! (There It Is) and elements of the original Addams Family theme.

Had the two records been combined for chart purposes this week, they would still occupy only the number 31 slot.

The Top 10 is a difficult nut for country singles to crack, and Garth Brooks hasn't made it yet, though his single The Red Strokes makes a solid 22 to 13 move this week. If Garth makes it he'll become only the second country artist to have a Top 10 hit in the nineties following Billy Ray Cyrus who took his Achy Breaky Heart to number three in 1992.

Depeche Mode's decision last week to release the second and third CD singles of In Your Room simultaneously must be deemed a success as the single spurts from 18 to 8, giving them the ninth Top 10 hit of their 30-strong single chart career.

But it slipped towards the end of the week, with Mute reporting a number two midweek placing on Thursday. Had it held on, it would have become their biggest hit to date, their previous best effort being the number four posting of 1984's People Are People. The only group to have more Top 10 hits without hitting the summit at least once are The Who.

Alan Jones.
