● Morrissey album debuts at summit ● London dominant as Aces rebound

CHART FOCUS

It's a great week for London Records which has five top 15 singles and two Top 10 albums, all either new entries or heading upwards. The surprise package is Ace Of Base's single The Sign, which rebounds to number two as Mariah Carey weakens.

The success of The Sign is also the main reason why Ace Of Base's album Happy Nation re-charts at three. The LP originally peaked at 21 last summer but has had four new tracks added, including The Sign.

London's other album success is via Cappella, whose Internal Dance debut U Got 2 Know enters the chart at number 10. Though distributed by RTM/Pinnacle, Internal Dance is ultimately part of London.

At the top of the chart, Doop strengthen their hold, though they will obviously be under pressure from Madonna and Take That in the next couple of weeks.

While Things Can Only Get Better is the best-selling single of the year to date and is showing a marked reluctance to leave the Top 40, D:Ream also have the chart's highest new entry this week. It is U R The Best Thing, which debuts at number five some 11 months after it originally peaked at 19.

Bon Jovi's Keep The Faith album spins off its sixth hit, and third Top 10 hit, as Dry County debuts at number 10. The album responds in low key fashion, slipping three notches to number 61.

Dr. Alban's latest single, Look

Six years ago this week Morrissey's first solo album Viva Hate debuted at number one. Subsequent solo LPs have done less well - Bona Drag reached nine, Kill Uncle peaked at eight and Your Arsenal climbed to four - but the fifth, Vauxhall And I, makes its debut at number one this week. It follows the rapid collapse of first single The More You Ignore Me, The Closer I Get, which has progressed 8-31-61 thus far. Morrissey 45s have always been short-lived affairs though; all 15 to date have reached the Top 40, but the total weeks on the chart add up to far less than any other act with a similar number of hits.

Who's Talking, makes a subdued debut at number 55. It would have been 18 places higher but for the fact that the initial CD shipment broke chart rules by including two different songs among its five tracks. Another "single" that fails to show is Killing Joke's Exorcism. A similar problem here (three different songs among its five tracks) means it too is excluded. These ineligible formats qualify instead as budget albums by dint of their dealer prices; Alban at number one and Killing Joke at two.

Prince's The Most Beautiful Girl In The World is the most successful import single for some time, and has spent the past four weeks hanging around just outside the Top 75. It slips a little this week, after climbing to number 90 last week, but the fact that it's showing at all - it contains two mixes of the lead track and only about eight minutes of music for a similar number of pounds - is a fair indication that it will be a major hit when it is unleashed here next week by Music Of Life through TBD.

Finally, at a time of much discussion over the longevity of hit singles, it is heartening to see two current hits pottering around the Top 40. Reel 2 Real's I Like To Move It reaches its highest position this week, number seven, and hasn't been below number 12. Meanwhile, The Cranberries' Linger continues to do just that, slipping a place to number 19, making its seven week range 13-19.

Another record that didn't know when to let go, Toni Braxton's Breathe Again, makes a precipitous drop this week from number 10 to number 28, but that's only because Arista is fed up with it hanging around and has deleted it.
