CHART FOCUS

The top three of the singles chart remain static this week, but, if you think that Big Mountain and Dawn Penn, or even The Grid are eating away at Wet Wet Wet's lead at the top of the chart, think again. The Wets are in their fourth week at number one, and last week they sold as many singles as the number two, number three and number four discs added together, for the second week in a row. It'll take something a little stronger to shift them from their perch.

With no movement in the top three, and eight records climbing inside the Top 20, there's a great deal of stability in the chart. The highest new entry this week is Anticappella's Move Your Body, at number 21, closely followed by Aretha Franklin's Willing To Forgive and Let Loose's Crazy For You, at numbers 23 and 24 respectively.

The Let Loose single was originally released last year, when it peaked at number 44. It returns to the chart this week, at number 24. Its success must be heartening for Phonogram, for whom Let Loose are a priority act, but Crazy For You would actually have been the highest new entry, replacing Anticappella at number 21, had sales of its 12-inch format been eligible for inclusion.

For the record, the maximum playing time for a single is 40 minutes if there is just one song featured – the total duration can be made up from as many mixes as is desired – but there is a lower, 25 minute, limit imposed on singles including between two and four different tracks. With two different songs and a 28-minute span, the Let Loose 12-inch thus meets neither criteria, and becomes a budget album.

It's nearly two years since ambient pioneers The Orb's U.F.Orb album debuted at number one. It was a triumph not only for the group, but also for Big Life, the label to which they were signed at the time. Times change, and in 1994 Big Life and the Orb have gone their separate ways. Both make fresh starts this week. The Orb's Pomme Fritz mini-album, their first on the Inter-Modo/Island label, is the album chart's highest new entry at number six. Meanwhile, Big Life's new distribution deal with Pinnacle gets off to a fairly quiet start with Zunga Zeng, the new K7 & The Swing Kids single which debuts this week at number 63.

Remixes, remakes and reissues continue to be all the rage, but there's only one newcomer which combines all three: Degrees of Motion's Do You Want It Right Now. Originally recorded by Taylor Dayne (it was a track on her introductory 1988 album Tell It To My Heart), it was a number 31 hit for Degrees Of Motion in 1992. After the recent remix success of another Degrees Of Motion song, Shine On, Do You Want It Right Now has been overhauled, and returns to the chart at number 26 this week.

It's not often records which haven't made the Top 75 get a mention, but Bill Whelan's River Dance is a special case. Written to fill the gap between the performances and voting segments of the Eurovision Song Contest, it has topped the chart in Ireland, and has now spent seven weeks hanging about just outside the Top 75 UK singles chart. This week, it glides gently to number 81, its highest placing yet, thanks to continued support from Radio Two and local radio.

TV advertising shows its potent power yet again this week, as Diana Ross's former number one album One Woman soars from number 113 to number nine, thanks to a renewed campaign. Ross is likely to climb still further next week, as the effect of her performance at the World Cup opening ceremony kicks in.

Alan Jones.
