CHARTS AND PRODUCT NEWS

week ending 23 JULY 1994

■ Wets clock up 8 weeks at No 1 ● Stones album outsells all compilations

n the US, All-4-One's I Swear has doomed Warren G & Nate Dogg's Regulate, Janet Jackson's Any Time, Any Place and Madonna's I'll Remember to peaking at number two, as it has remained at number one for 10 weeks in a row. Madonna was particularly unlucky: I'll Remember is one of her 10 biggest selling singles ever Stateside, but couldn't quite make it to the top, spending four weeks holding down second place before finally giving up the fight.

In the UK, it's All-4-One who have held the runners-up slot for four weeks, as they have tried and failed to catch up to Wet Wet Wet's Love Is All Around, which has ruled the roost now for eight consecutive weeks.

That makes it the longest running chart-topper since Whitney Houston's I Will Always Love You. And the Wets' run seems far from over – All-4-One are actually falling further behind, and the only other challengers with even half as many sales last week as All-4-One were the BC52's, whose sales nationally increased by one measly panel sale.

The Euro-invasion continues, with the continental content of the Top 40 up to seven this week. Movies also make their mark, with five songs from soundtracks in the Top 15.

Half of the Top 10 artist albuare compilations, with notable performers including Nina Simone's Feeling Good – the first Top 10 album of her career, some 29

Thirteen years after their last visit to the mit, the Rolling Stones register their tenth number one album with nge. It's a proper number one too, outselling all compilations, something few of this year's 18 artist album chart-toppers can claim. Only the Beatles, with 12, have had more number one albums than the Stones, who first topped the chart in 1964. Their average age then was a mere 22; now (with a different core membership of Jagger, Richard, Watts and Wood) it's 50, making them comfortably the most elderly group ever to top the chart.

vears after her album chart debut. and The Eagles' Very Best Of The Eagles, which storms into the chart at number eight, equalling the 1985 peak of their Best Of The Eagles album. Adding the word "Very" to the title of their latest hits package suggests it's more succinct - in fact. it's an expanded version of The Best Of The Eagles, including all of the 13 tracks that were on that, plus four

It's not just in the artist albums chart that compilations are doing well either - if the two album charts were merged, no fewer than 15 of the Top 20 albums would be comprised entirely of compilations of old recordings.

Multi-artist albums would dominate the Top 20, taking 11 places, and the only albums comprising new material in the Top 20 would be those by the Rolling Stones, the Prodigy, Ace Of Base, Mariah Carey and the Four Weddings & A Funeral soundtrack.

For a change, let's mention some records that haven't made the chart or, at least, the published sections. Daniel O'Donnell, Ritz's countryand-Irish star, has had seven chart albums in less than six years, but his latest, The Last Waltz, got off to a slow start last week, and ranks no higher than number 142.

Meanwhile John Mellancamp. who last glimpsed album chart action with Human Wheels last September, is doing well in the US with his quickfire follow-up Dance Naked, but UK record buyers have given a thumbs down to the album -which retails at regular price, but includes a mere 29 minutes of music, some 50 minutes fewer than many current albums.
