Slow Celine equals Rush record

SALES

A ready top of the album chart, Celine Dion completes the double this week as Think Twice moves to the top of the singles chart, albeit by the smallest of margins.

Think Twice debuted 16 weeks ago and has twice gone into reverse on its way to the summit, its full chart history reading 53-42-52-30-28-22-20-9-8-5-6-4-2-2-2-1. It thus equals the record for most weeks on the chart before reaching number one with Jennifer Rush's The Power Of Love - a song that Celine herself had a number four hit with exactly a year ago.

Though Celine is a French-Canadian, Think Twice was written and produced by Brits, providing the second number one hit for the writing team of Andy Hill and Pete Sinfield (the first was Bucks Fizz's The Land Of Make Believe in 1982) and the first number one for veteran producer Chris Neil, six years after his production of Mike & The Mechanics' The Living Years peaked at number two.

Curiously, even though Celine's album The Colour Of My Love has sold in huge quantities, particularly in America and Canada, Think Twice has been something of a disappointment elsewhere, failing to reach the Top 20 in Canada and only peaking at number 95 in the US.

Meanwhile, Des'ree is striking a rare blow for British music in America. Her single, You Gotta Be, has made painstakingly slow progress on Billboard's Hot 100. It finally arrived in the Top 10 last week - its 22nd in the chart - and this week it stands at number six, while her album, I Ain't Movin', climbs to number 61.

Des'ree's success is welcome but there's an alarming dearth of Brits in the Hot 100 - just her and Sting, unless we count the UK-based Pretenders. Britain has had an uninterrupted presence in the Hot 100 since November 3, 1963 but the current tally is the lowest since January 18, 1964.

Back home, proving that good marketing can count for more than star names, PolyGram TV's latest album, Pan Pipe Moods by the completely unknown Free The Spirit, explodes on to the album chart at number nine. Cannily advertised on TV and radio, the album includes remakes of 18 popular love songs, including Can You Feel The Love Tonight?, Without You and Love Is All Around - mention of which brings us finally to Wet Wet Wet, whose record-breaking version of the song finally drops out of the Top 75 this week after 37 consecutive appearances in the chart, a total surpassed by only nine records in chart history. Alan Jones

AIRPLAY

Despite having peaked in the sales chart, Human League's Tell Me When continues to gain popularity on the airwaves, becoming the first track to log more than 1,000 plays in a week. It thus retains a healthy lead over all other records, both in terms of number of plays and audience.

It registers 10 times as much airplay as (MC Sar & The Real McCoy's Run Away, which languishes in 97th place on the airplay chart, though it is number six on sales. Conservative programmers are sticking with the German duo's previous hit, Another Night, which ranks 51st, 13 weeks after it first charted.

Madonna continues to be the darling of the airwaves, with heavy rotation still for Take A Bow (number 29) and Secret (number 68), while there's still plenty of early support for her upcoming single, Bedtime Story, which debuts at number 53.

Radio is also quick to embrace For Your Love, Stevie Wonder's first single for more than three years, which debuts at number 79, while N-Trance's Set You Free continues to defy its sales popularity by drifting from its airplay peak of number 47 to number 64.

Having been taken a little by surprise by the popularity of Crocodiles Shoes, radio is quick to embrace Jimmy Nail's new single, Cowboy Dreams, which vaults 89 places to number 38. It is one of seven Warner Music titles in the Top 50 - a tally equalled, somewhat surprisingly, by A&M, whose promotions departments are clearly more on the ball than most, tempting radio to play recent and future hits in abundance, despite the fact they have only one single in the Top 50 sales chart.

Annie Lennox's No More I Love You's continues its rapid climb and has now reached number three on airplay before getting a commercial release - a rare display of support for a song that has yet to prove its over-the-counter appeal.

Of the other unreleased discs, only Sting & Pato Banton's This Cowboy Song (number six) gains anything like the same support. Among unproven acts, Lavina Jones' Sing It To You, at number 73, is most favoured unless we count the superstar collective, BMU, whose U Will Know is at number 44.

Finally, it's interesting to note that after getting much early support from radio, MN8's I've Got A Little Something For You has been unable to make any further impression. It drifts from number 58 to number 60 this week, while it debuts at number seven on the sales chart. Expect it to do some catching up next week. Alan Jones
