SALES

The top three singles are the same for the fourth week in a row and have racked up some useful sales. Take That's Back For Good slumps by 38% this week, but has now sold 750,000 copies. It sold 70% more copies last week than The Outthere Brothers' Don't Stop (Wiggle Wiggle), which has sold some 475,000 copies in seven weeks. And Bobby Brown's Two Can Play That Game has surpassed 300,000 sales in a five-week tenure, making it his biggest hit to date. This triumvirate is likely to be broken up next week, with Boyzone, the Irish band who reached number two with Love Me For A Reason, already breathing down Bobby Brown's neck, as they debut at number four with Key To My Life.

With Grace, Strike and Deuce all new, there are only two native British acts in the Top 10 - Take That and MN8, the latter via If You Only Let Me In, which debuts at number six. MN8's first hit, I've Got A Little Something For You, peaked at number two earlier this year, and is the eighth biggest hit of 1995 to date.

EMI's persistence pays off this week, as Joshua Kadison's single Jesse debuts at number 27. That's a 21-place improvement on the number 48 peak it scaled when released last October. And that, in turn, was a 21-place improvement on its original number 69 peak of a year ago.

Love City Groove continue to turn midweek slumps into end-of-week growth and their eponymous Eurovision entry climbs to number 12 this week, to occupy the highest berth of any UK entry to the competition since 1984, when Belle & The Devotions' Love Games reached number 11.

In a week when important new albums were somewhat scarce, Wet Wet Wet's Picture This holds up well to occupy pole position for the second week in a row. Aided by a Top Of The Pops slot for the group, Picture This has sold 200,000 copies in a fortnight, and sold the number two album - Bruce Springsteen's Greatest Hits - by a margin of nearly four to one.

After the success of the anonymous Free The Spirit album Pan Pipe Moods, which reached number two for PolyGram TV, Telstar's Pure Music subsidiary ventures into similar territory with the equally faceless Inspirations album Pan Pipe, which debuts at number 15 this week. Containing updates of familiar tunes in whimsical MOR style, it is the first chart album to contain a version of Take That's current hit Back For Good.

THE OFFICIAL CHARTS MONITOR

AIRPLAY

Only two records have managed to register upwards of 1,000 plays a week for three weeks this year. Annie Lennox managed it with No More I Love You, and this week Take That's Back For Good joins it, after another good week which saw it get 1,060 spins.

No other record comes near in terms of plays, though Freak Power's Turn On, Tune In, Cop Out continues to run it a close second in audience. The Freak Power single has been an airplay favourite for 10 weeks and radio's continued support is due to audience research which suggests that listeners have not even begun to tire of it.

Simon Sadler, recently appointed as head of music at Kiss 100 in London, has made significant changes to the station's playlist (including phasing out a lot of oldies) making it more upfront than ever before, but it still programmes Tune In... heavily, thanks to listener response. The same excuse earns the disc a further 97 plays at Atlantic 252, where it continues to top the playlist.

The title track from Elton John's Made In England is the pick of the unreleased singles. Its radio support more than doubles this week as it moves from 61 to 25 on the airplay chart. Elton is a perennial radio favourite, and his last three singles all made the Top 10 of the airplay chart while falling short of the sales Top 10. Made In England looks set to repeat the pattern.

Proving that radio can use its head, early play for Definition Of Sound's Boom Boom has prompted exposure for the Moody Blues' Go Now on at least two occasions. Boom Boom uses a slowed-down sample of the middle eight piano solo from the Moody Blues hit and the instant familiarity of the phrase helped DOS to get 32 plays last week.

Virgin 1215 surprisingly elects Bon Jovi's Someday I'll Be Saturday Night as its top disc, with 29 plays, some two months after it was released. Virgin 1215 is two years old this week. It should be noted that its fledgling London FM outlet opts out of 1215's output at various times, and thus cannot be guaranteed to deliver the same number of plays.

London's 22nd radio station, it appears to have been temporarily joined at the top end of the FM waveband (105.8) by a French language radio station, which broadcasts to London on 106.2, and provides a very interesting alternative to Bon Jovi and Freak Power, including some good rap and rock, en francais, naturellement.
