Livin' Joy oust best-seller Oasis

SALES

For the second week in a row, Britain's best-selling single is Oasis's Some Might Say...but it's not number one.

This strange situation comes about because Some Might Say was released in four formats. Chart regulations now permit a maximum of three formats to count towards a chart position, with the result that the belated 12-inch release of Some Might Say stands alone at number 71 in the chart, after selling around 3,000 copies last week – more than enough to make up the wafer thin (500 sales) margin which separated the other three formats of the track from the new chart-topper, Livin' Joy's Dreamer. It's arguable that, had Oasis's single not been released on 12-inch, some of those who opted to buy it in that format would have bought one of the others, and it would still have been number one.

It's not, so let's concentrate instead on Livin' Joy and Dreamer. Put together by the Italian Visnadi brothers, Venturi and Vianni – the same team who masterminded Alex Party's Don't Give Me Your Life, a number two hit earlier this year – Dreamer was a number 18 hit when first released last September. It's the third number one in a row to debut in pole position, equalling a record established in 1991, and the 40th in total. Dreamer was penned by Livin' Joy's American singer Janice Robinson and the Visnadis. Robinson has since left the group to pursue a solo career.

After making a huge impression all over Europe, Scatman John's single Scatman (Ski-Ba-Bop-Ba-Dop-Bop) debuts at number six this week.

We've saved the biggest news till last. Take That's Nobody Else storms into the album chart at number one. It sold a massive 240,000 copies last week, but there are plenty left in the shops: RCA initially shipped more than half a million, and re-orders lifted it to double platinum status (600,000 shipped) by the end of the week. Heavy discounting was the order of the day, with the CD selling for as little as £9.99.

It outsold the number two album, by Wet Wet Wet, by a margin of nine to one, and sold as many copies as all of the records between numbers two and 34 in the artist chart added together – this group including Take That's own Everything Changes (at 13) and Take That & Party (33), which re-entered the chart after massive discounting found them on sale for as little as £7.99 on CD. The last album to sell more copies in a week than Nobody Else was the Beautiful South's Carry On Up The Charts, which sold more than 270,000 copies in Christmas week. Alan Jones

THE OFFICIAL CHARTS

MONITOR

AIRPLAY

Oasis's Some Might Say still commands more Radio One play than any other record this week, its tally being three more than any other record. But its explosive debut at number one on the sales chart precipitated a more muted reaction from Radio One's competitors than might have been expected. Indeed, if Radio One's audience were to be deducted, Some Might Say wouldn't feature in the Airplay Top 50. It garnered only four plays on Capital and seven on Virgin Radio, for example, and clearly has some way to go before reaching its radio peak. It climbs to number 20 on the Airplay chart this week.

The chart is still led by Take That's Back For Good, which commanded an audience a quarter bigger than Bobby Brown's Two Can Play That Game to enjoy a fifth week at the summit. Back For Good is also number one at Atlantic 252, where it gets a tally of 89 plays. Over the 56 stations tracked by Media Monitor, it exceeds a thousand plays for the fifth week in a row.

Although the Dave Stewart documentary Greetings From The Gutter, aired on BBC1 last week, didn't do anything to remedy the identically titled album's lack of chart success – it failed to consolidate mid-week gains, and still fell short of the top 150 – it did generate some extra play for the current Stewart single Jealousy. Previously in decline, the single saw a marked increase in airplay, climbing from number 179 to 86.

Dave's former Eurhythmics partner Annie Lennox also enjoyed increased support for her version of Procul Harum's Whiter Shade Of Pale. Destined to become Annie's next single, it moved from 121 to 72, while No More I Love You's finally dipped out of the top 100.

MOR instrumentals have difficulty generating airplay, no matter how well they sell. Bill Whelan's Riverdance probably has a higher sales/airplay ratio than any other record in the past 12 months.

Perez Prado's Guaglione is shaping up in similar style, and is ranked 68th on airplay while occupying the number three sales berth.

The Boo Radleys achieve the rare feat of having two records among Radio One's 30 most played songs at the same time, with a dozen plays for Wake Up Boo! and 10 for Find The Answer Within. It's typical of the Radio One policy, conscious or not, of giving more exposure to British acts than overseas artists. All but nine of its top 30 tracks are by homegrown acts. Alan Jones
