RCA achieve first time hat trick

SALES

After a massive 310,000 sale in its opening week on the chart, Robson Green & Jerome Flynn's Unchained Melody/White Cliffs Of Dover returns an even more impressive sale on its second week, with approximately 460,000 copies crossing the counter in the week ending Saturday (20). That's the highest one week sale achieved by any single since Band Aid's Do They Know It's Christmas re-wrote the record books in December 1984.

Robson & Jerome's single sold nearly seven times as many copies as the number two, and more copies than the rest of the Top 15 added together last week. It accounted for more than one in four (27%) of all singles sales, compared to the more usual 8% average for a chart-topper.

Incidentally, gremlins conspired to change the meaning, and lessen the impact of one of our Robson & Jerome chart facts last week. What appeared was "Eight different versions of Unchained Melody have now been a hit, something no other song can match." The original copy read, "Unchained Melody has now been a hit in eight different versions, equalling the record held by White Christmas. It has hit the Top 10 in five versions, and has reached number one in three versions, something no other song can match."

Trailing Robson & Jerome in second and third place in the singles chart are Perez Prado's Guaglione and Scatman John's Scatman (Ski-Ba-Bop-Ba-Dop-Bop), giving RCA the entire top three.

The last label to simultaneously occupy the singles chart's top three berths was Decca, with the Rolling Stone's The Last Time, Unit 4+2's Concrete And Clay and Tom Jones' It's Not Unusual achieving a shut-out over thirty years ago on April 1 1965. RCA has never previously held all top three positions at the same time.

Paul Weller earns his first ever number one solo album, as Stanley Road debuts in pole position after selling around 90,000 copies last week. It's a decade, give or take a week, since Paul's band Style Council had their one and only chart-topper with Our Favourite Shop. Surprisingly, his previous band, The Jam, also had only one number one album, reaching the summit in 1982 with The Gift.

Another chart veteran, Elvis Costello, debuts at number 21 with his covers album Kojak Variety. Unless it improves on this position it will be Costello's least successful album release. His previous covers album, 1981's Almost Blue, peaked at number seven.

AIRPLAY

After six weeks at the top of the airplay chart, Take That's Back For Good finally makes way for Bobby Brown's Two Can Play That Game, which has had remarkably consistent support, spending three weeks at number three and then three weeks at number two before making its move. Like Back For Good, it's actually some way past its airplay peak, and the fact that it scamped to the top of the chart this week is more to do with the weakness of other contenders than with the strengths of its own, though it is number one with 44 plays at Capital, and sits aloft the listings of Atlantic 252's chart with some 91 airings last week.

Radio One also has a new number one. After three weeks as the station's favourite song, Oasis's Some Might Say drifts to second place behind Pulp's upcoming monster Common People, which registers 30 plays at the station. It debuts at number 24 nationally, with Radio One providing 84% of its audience.

One of the more surprising records to attract major support from Radio One in recent weeks has been The Real McCoy's Love And Devotion. Their fifth most played disc this week, even though it has declined to number 37 on the CIN chart, Radio One are favouring the Development Corporation remix, which is the third track on the CD single and far less poppy than the radio mix, dispensing with the Ho-la Ho-la Hey hook that has its origins in a seventies Ripple single.

Sustained airplay for Dionne Farris's single I Know was one of the most important factors in its re-release last week. It ranks ninth in airplay this week, but is still meeting retail resistance – when first released in March it peaked at number 47 on the CIN chart. This week, it re-charts at number 41 and could miss out again.

Radio has responded to the runaway success of Robson Green & Jerome Flynn's single this week. Ostensibly a double A-side, pairing Unchained Melody and White Cliffs Of Dover, it's the former that is getting the airplay, with 216 plays detected compared to none at all for White Cliffs Of Dover.

Even though it wasn't distributed to radio until Friday, Michael and Janet Jackson's Scream managed to accumulate 108 plays by midnight on Saturday, enough for it to debut on the chart at number 50. The Jackson's late surge kept U2's eagerly awaited new single Hold Me, Thrill Me, Kiss Me, Kill Me from making its debut on the published chart, entering at number 51.
