MUSIC WEEK 29 JULY 1995

Supergrass take it to the top

SALES

Supergrass's challenge for the singles throne falters this week as Alright/Time dips from number two to number three, but the group climb to the top of the album chart with their debut long player I Should Coco.

The Oxford trio have pulled four hits from the album, which has taken 10 weeks to reach the summit and dethrone Bon Jovi's These Days which has held the title for the last four weeks.

Supergrass are the second act to top the chart with a debut album this year, emulating Elastica who did it with their self-titled album in March. More impressively, excluding artists like Morrissey who'd previously released records with The Smiths, Supergrass are the first new EMI act to top the chart with its debut since The Beatles reached the summit with Please Please Me in 1963.

A rather more difficult fact to check is that I Should Coco is very probably the first number one album to be recorded in Cornwall, having been 'laid down' at the Sawmills Studio in Fowey.

TV-promoted instrumental MOR albums have long been part of the UK chartscape but whereas they were usually by established artists like The Shadows, James Last and Richard Clayderman, 1995 has seen a clutch of wholly anonymous artists entering the chart with albums that would probably sell precious few copies without the impetus provided by TV advertising.

The first and most spectacular success was that of Pan Pipe Moods, number two in February for Free The Spirit on PolyGram TV. A gold album, it has inspired others to work the same ploy with Symphonique's Mood Symphonique reaching number 21 in April on Vision Music, Inspirations' Pan Pipe Inspirations reaching number 10 in May on Pure Music and In Tune reaching number 21 with their Global TV album Acoustic Moods in May.

This week, Dino join battle with their Sax Moods album Blowing Free debuting at number eight.

Back on the singles chart, the Outthere Brothers continue to rule the roost with Diana King moving into second place. She's not likely to reach number one though, not least because Take That's new single Never Forget was released today.

Following the heavy exposure they received after Robbie's departure from the group last week (coincidentally, two years to the day after they first topped the chart with Pray), they must be fancied to have their seventh number one sewn up by this time next week.

AIRPLAY

After peaking at number 12 on the airplay chart last August, Seal's Kiss From A Rose continued to command an impressive level of support through the autumn, winter and spring, spending much of its time in the Top 100 despite the fact that it wasn't really one of his biggest sales hits, reaching only number 20 on the CIN chart.

Reissued to tie-in with its use as the love theme for the new Batman movie Batman Forever, it has sold much better this time around - and its airplay has gone through the roof. This week, it surges to the top of the airplay chart with both the largest number of plays and highest audience of any track.

Officially, I'm Alive is coupled with Kiss From A Rose as a double A-side but, despite the fact that I'm Alive was a major club hit, it commands very little support from radio, giving further proof that no matter what it says on the sleeve, radio almost never looks beyond the first listed track on a CD. If there are two titles, one has to be listed first and it's invariably this that gets the lion's share of radio play.

While Kiss From A Rose was played 1,179 times by the 67 stations used for our airplay chart last week, I'm Alive managed just four plays.

There are three other double A-sided hits in the Top 40 sales chart and here too the second listed are practically ignored.

Robson & Jerome picked up 396 plays for Unchained Melody but none for White Cliffs Of Dover last week. Similarly, Liquid's Sweet Harmony outspun One Love Family 96-0 while Supergrass had 626 plays for Alright and just one (from GLR) for Time.

Suggs is the latest artist to release a double A-side. His cover of I'm Only Sleeping - originally a cut on The Beatles' Revolver album - was played 240 times last week while his self-penned Off On Holiday was aired just twice, despite sharing top billing. The 34-year-old former Madness singer is the latest in a long line of artists to discover that recording a Beatles song pays.

Sometimes the logic employed by radio defeats me. If a hit in the sales chart for six weeks climbs from number nine to number four, you'd expect radio to at least maintain if not increase support. But for Edwyn Collins' A Girl Like You, that's not the case.

Last week, even as it was climbing to a new sales pinnacle, it was abandoned by radio. Its plays plummeted from 1,145 to a mere 370 and its audience was slashed by nearly three-quarters. As a result, it dips from number one to number 24 on the airplay chart.

Alan Jones.
