Take That take seventh top spot

SALES

Comfortably matching the sales of the number two and number three singles added together, Take That's Never Forget debuts in pole position this week.

It's their seventh number one from eight releases in the past two years and two weeks. Their only failure (this is, of course, comparative terminology) was Love Ain't Here Anymore, which peaked at number three a year ago.

Only five artists have had more number one hits than Take That and, among Nineties acts, they're in a league of their own.

Never Forget is the third consecutive number one from Take That's double platinum album, Nobody Else, which has rallied considerably in the past fortnight, climbing 23-11-7. Seal's self-titled album has also made considerable strides (49-30-5), as has REM's Monster (44-32-12), not least because there are so few new albums of note being released at present.

Proof of this can be found in the number of new entries to the chart - four last week and just two this week: Bobby Brown's remixes album Two Can Play That Game at number 24 and Todd Terry's A Day In The Life Of at number 73.

The REM rise comes despite the fact that their latest single Tongue Slides from its debut position of 13 to 28 this week. It's the fifth hit pulled from Monster, following What's The Frequency, Kenneth? (number nine), Bang And Blame (15), Crush With Eyeliner (23) and Strange Currencies (nine). In all, REM have had 16 Top 40 hits in the Nineties. Only Madonna, about to have her 18th with Human Nature, has had more.

It's not just Monster that's doing well for REM - they have three other albums in the Top 50, all of them climbing. Automatic For The People moves from 49 to 34, The Best Of glides 58-42 and Out Of Time rises 53-46. This may, however, have something to do with the fact that they're playing their first British tour dates for six years.

Cocky newcomers Supergrass retain their lead at the top of the albums chart with I Should Coco, also now outselling the top compilation. When Paul Weller debuted at number one with Stanley Road 11 weeks ago, I Should Coco was close behind. For the past two weeks, however, Supergrass's album has kept Stanley Road in runners-up position.

Finally, commiserations to Isaac Hayes, whose cover of the Sting hit Fragile is at number 77 this week. That's just two notches short of becoming his first chart hit in 19 years.

THE OFFICIAL CHARTS MONITOR

AIRPLAY

Already a handsome leader at the top of the airplay chart, Seal's Kiss From A Rose forges further ahead this week.

Its elegant style continues to win new admirers and it logged 1,300 plays last week, the highest tally yet recorded from our recently-expanded panel of 67 stations. That's more than 200 plays ahead of its nearest rival and suggests Seal's next PRS cheque will be a sizeable one.

Radio One offered massive support to Black Grape's In The Name Of The Father last week, while other stations ignored it, even though the group's previous single Reverend Black Grape was recently a Top 10 hit at retail.

The other 66 stations monitored by Media Monitor spun In The Name Of The Father a mere 16 times last week, while Radio One's 31 spins made it the station's top track.

With the song debuting on the CIN chart this week at number eight, it will clearly attract more widespread support from now on.

Suggs' recording of the Lennon/McCartney composition I'm Only Sleeping continues to pick up steam. It increases from 240 to 387 plays this week and climbs to number 13 on the airplay chart.

It is already the most-played record at Virgin Radio and Capital 95.8 FM and commands more support than any other unreleased track, although Blur's Country House (up 19 places to number 22) and Oasis' Roll With It (new at number 56) will be competing for that title this week, with Suggs' single due in the shops today (Monday).

Take That's Never Forget continues to climb, but it is a long way from commanding the support one might expect for the band's 10th consecutive top three hit. It moves up five notches to number 16, although, up until Sunday, it still hadn't had a single play from numerous stations, particularly in Scotland. It was, however, a Scottish station, Clyde FM, that gave it its most support, with 30 plays.

● A computer error at Media Monitor last week led to the airplay totals for a small number of records being understated. The records affected included 3 Is Family by Dana Dawson, Edwyn Collins' A Girl Like You, The Connells' 74-75, You Oughta Know by Alanis Morissette and Paul Weller's You Do Something To Me. The error was rectified last Monday but some plays for this week's chart were also missed, meaning these titles are again under-represented.

Media Monitor and Music Week apologise for any inconvenience these errors may have caused.
