THE OFFICIAL UK CHARTS

After opening up a 19% lead at the top of the singles chart last week, George Michael's FastLove was pushed all the way to retain its title this week and ended up just 4% ahead of the record it dislodged, Mark Morrison's Return Of The Mack. Both records are fading fast, and neither looks strong enough to withstand the challenge of Gina G's Ooh Aaah...Just a Little Bit, which has started picking up steam again, and is due in a new CD format next week. Though FastLove has had two weeks at number one, compared to the one week rule of George's last single Jesus To A Child, the two records have sold substantially the same in their first fortnight in the shops. Jesus To A Child opened with 113,000 and then declined to 76,000. FastLove has declined from 110,000 to 74,000.

Exactly five years after their debut Top 10 hit There's No Other Way, Blur are in the upper echelon for the seventh time, and the fourth in a row, with Charmless Man making the week's highest debut at number five. While the Oasis/Blur battle has been long and decisively resolved in favour of the former, Blur are still doing incredibly well. Their Great Escape album is a chart ever-present, selling 820,000 copies in 34 weeks.

Meanwhile, Oasis's (What's The Story) Morning Glory? dips to number four this week, ending a 30-week run in the top three. That's the most consecutive weeks in the top three by any album since Simon & Garfunkel's Bridge Over Troubled Water, some 26 years ago. Morning Glory? has sold 2.8m copies to date, and, with a steady sale of more than 30,000 a week it must be in with a chance of becoming the biggest-selling album in Britain ever.

And despite the release last week of two Oasis cover versions, the group's Don't Look Back In Anger is still the highest-placed Noel Gallagher composition in the chart. It holds at number 36, while Supernova's Some Might Say debuts at number 55 and Bombayblue's Wonderwall bows at number 82.

Alanis Morissette's Jagged Little Pill increases its sales for the sixth week in a row, selling 65,000 copies in a week, to bring its total to 820,000, overtaking her record company boss Madonna's Something To Remember to become the biggest-selling record on the fledgling Maverick imprint. Alanis's strength is such that The Cranberries are denied, for the time being, the opportunity of scoring their third consecutive number one album. Their To The Faithful Departed sold nearly 50,000 copies last week.

With due respect to Tom Jones and Shirley Bassey and a couple of others, the Welsh rarely make much of an impression on the chart, but there's something stirring in the valleys at the moment. Following the Manic Street Preachers' valiant failure to reach number one (they'd have been the first Welsh chart-toppers since Shakin' Stevens in 1985), they were joined in the chart last week by Catantonia, and this week by both Super Furry Animals and 60Ft Dolls, making it an excellent week for the Welsh.

Moving up a notch to number four this week, Cecilia is Suggs' biggest solo hit (out of four) and his biggest hit in any guise since Madness flew to number two on the Wings Of A Dove in 1983. Cecilia started slowly, but has since shown great and unexpected strength, thanks initially to a lottery slot, moving 33-9-6-5-4. It's the highest charting cover of a Paul Simon song.

Finally, Elvis Costello's first single in two and a half years, It's Time, debuts at number 58. It's Elvis's 33rd hit, an impressive tally, though he's not reached the Top 20 in the Nineties, and has never had a number one. No other artist has had as many hits without at least one number one. Elvis came closest in 1979 when Oliver's Army climbed to number two behind the Bee Gees' Tragedy and Gloria Gaynor's I Will Survive. Alan Jones

Support for Gabrielle's Give Me A Little More Time finally subsides enough for the five week chart-topper to be overtaken by both of the hottest sales successes of the moment, Mark Morrison's Return Of The Mack and George Michael's FastLove. George's single was the most-played last week, but Mark's tops the Airplay chart as it was aired to a larger audience, though the difference between the two is small and shrinking all the time. Even Atlantic 252 is now getting on board the George Michael bandwagon and gave his single 27 plays last week, enough to make it the station's highest new entry at number 22.

Exploding into the Top 10 of the CIN chart, and taking a more tentative 70-40 move on the Airplay chart, Busta Rhymes' Woo Hah!! Got You All In Check managed 72 plays last week, approximately one for each station monitored by Music Control. Its biggest supporter has been, and continues to be Kiss 100FM, where it was first played early in February and has since logged more than 330 plays, though Radio One is also a strong believer, and gave the record 20 plays last week, delivering an impressive 91% of its audience.

Kiss is extremely important in shaping the capital's tastes, especially with unproven dance/R&B/rap records. It has also been a big fan of Chantay Savage's Will Survive, which is now getting much broader support, with 397 plays last week across the panel, earning it a 101-34 jump in the chart.

Though it remains higher in the chart, Everything But The Girl's Walking Wounded has once again been overtaken by the duo's enduringly popular Missing. While Missing topped the Airplay chart, Walking Wounded peaked at number 14 a few weeks ago, and has now descended to number 30 with only 372 plays, while Missing drops eight places to number 41 but tops 500 plays – it has 508 – for the first time in five weeks.

The number of plays a record receives, of course, often bears no relation to the amount of audience impressions it makes, and there's a vivid illustration of that in this week's chart, with Gloria Estefan's Reach single debuting at number 97 with 267 plays, which is 17 plays more than Sleeper's Sale Of The Century. The Sleeper record, however, is largely featured on bigger stations, and was heard by four times as many punters as Gloria's single.

Sony, which issued Reach, consistently manages to impact the smaller regional stations with records by artists like Estefan, helping to build a sales base regardless of the attitude of larger outlets. Alan Jones
