THE OFFICIAL UK CHARTS

CHART FOCUS

Wafer thin margins separate both the top two singles and the top two albums this week. On the singles chart,

The Prodigy's two-week reign with Breathe is curtailed by Peter Andre, whose I Feel You debuts in pole position only 12 weeks after Flava did likewise. In terms of sales, Flava had a much better debut, selling 129,000 copies in its first week, compared with 87,000 for I Feel You.

Meanwhile, Spice Girls' Spice regains the album chart title it lost to Robson & Jerome's Take Two three weeks ago. Spice had an exceptional week, selling over 170,000 copies to enjoy its best week yet. Its four-week tally is over 570,000. Take Two sold 168,000 copies to take its three week total to 523,000. That compares unfavourably with their debut album Robson & Jerome, which was released at exactly the same time last year, and had sold 757,000 copies after three weeks, going on to top the million in 26 days and the two million in 48 days, passing both targets more quickly than any other album before or since.

With most of the potentially big Christmas sellers already out there, the albums chart is beginning to stabilise after a flurry of new entries recently, though the fact that Enigma's Le Roi Est Mort, Vive Le Roi! – the week's highest new entry – could only debut at number 12 when both of the act's previous albums were number ones is a surprise. It's not the first album to underachieve in recent weeks. The Livin' Joy album Don't Stop Movin' peaked at number 41 last month even though it contains all of their three Top 10 hits, among them the chart-topper Dreamer. Even more surprising was the total failure of MNS's Freaky. Their debut album To The Next Level reached number 13 in 1995, and they've had seven consecutive top 25 singles, the last two of which are on Freaky. Despite that, the album's highest chart position four weeks into its life is number 114.

Similarly, though it was always going to be a tough one because of its high price and following in the unspectacular wake of Chaos & Disorder, Prince's Emancipation album has performed very poorly. It debuted at number 18 last week, and now sinks to number 43. On the plus side, it's the 11th album by Prince to chart in the Nineties, more than any other act, even if we subtract the three hits albums and Gett Off, which was really an overlong single.

Now seven times platinum, with the majority of its sales coming this year – over 1.5m of them – Alanis Morissette's Jagged Little Pill is 1996's biggest seller. And it's on the Despite increased plays and audience for the eighth week in a row, Toni Braxton's Un-Break My Heart fails to unseat East 17 and Gabrielle's If You Ever at the top of the airplay chart. The latter disc seemed to have peaked, having lost support for two weeks in a row but, even though all of its main supporters have been on it for some time, it rallied this week, managing to find an extra 143 plays and another 2.5m listeners from somewhere.

Betcha By Golly Wow! is Prince's biggest airplay hit since Gold. The introductory single from his triple Emancipation set, Betcha By Golly Wow! moved 73-33 last week, and now climbs to number 13. Its rate of increase is accelerating, though Radio One is still fairly lukewarm on it, playing it only nine times last week. It played 43 other records 10 times or more, with The Prodigy's Breathe topping the list with a mighty 31 plays, the highest granted by Radio One for any record for some time. This helped Breathe to climb to number 16, its highest airplay position yet.

Though the Prodigy record is not getting as much radio support as most number ones do, sales and airplay are closer at the moment than they have been at any time this year, with six records in both Top 10s. One that isn't is 3T's I Need You, which has had a miserable time at radio. Even Radio One, which has previously played a big part in promoting the group, have turned a deaf ear to the charms of I Need You, and it actually sinks 76-83 on airplay this week, even as it debuts at number three on the sales chart. Aside from the fact they've had three other big hits this year, I Need You has been helped by TV, where 3T have made a number of crucial appearances both live and on video on all the right shows.

Even though its commercial release has now been put back until December 16, Spice Girls' upcoming third smash 2Become1 has already gone out to radio, and amassed 137 plays last week to capture 77th place on the airplay chart. It will doubtless start moving more quickly but currently has to compete with the still hot Say You'll Be There, which was played 1222 times last week.

Another act up against their own oldies are Everything But The Girl. Their current single Driving (actually a 1990 oldie remixed) made the Top 40 of the CIN chart this week but got there largely thanks to club play, as radio exposure for it has been fairly limited. It moves 85-84 this week but is still behind Wrong and Missing which are rock steady and placed 73rd and 75th respectively.

Alan Jones

march again, having moved 25-15-11 in the past fortnight, as it responds to airplay for its sixth single All I Really Want. But while the other five singles found a home in the top 30, All I Really Want debuts at a lowly number 59 this week, the consequence of its being a limited edition release. Among the tracks featured on the single is a live take of Ironic, which means that anyone who has bought all of Alanis's singles thus far will now be able to assemble their own all-live version of the album from singles bonus tracks.

Spending a third week at number eight on the albums chart, The Smurfs' Christmas Party was heralded here as the only album of yule fare to reach the Top 10 in the past 20 years. Unfortunately, that's not true – though it is still the highest charted. I missed out Cliff Richard's Together With Cliff, a number 10 album in 1991, whose title doesn't immediately betray its contents. My apologies.

Some of the other Christmas albums which have charted in the past 20 years without reaching the Top 10 are by Daniel O'Donnell, The Monks Chorus, Joe Longthorne, Nat King Cole, Foster & Allen, Chas & Dave, Bing Crosby, Dionne Warwick & Placido Domingo, Howard Blake, Elaine Paige and Kiri Te Kanawa.
