THE OFFICIAL UK CHARTS

It's hard to find for less than £3.99 but Puff Daddy, Faith Evans and 112's tribute to The Notorious B.I.G., I'll Be Missing You, is proving to be a very substantial hit. It sold 156,000 copies last week, a big increase over its first week 109,000, and enough to beat off a strong challenge from Sash!, whose Ecuador debuts at number two with over 130,000 sales.

It's tough on Sash! who also reached number two with his last single Encore Une Fois, and on the Multiply label, a Telstar imprint. Ecuador would have been Telstar's first number one single in 15 years of trading – though, to be fair, it has concentrated on albums for much of that time.

Ecuador is easily the biggest hit to use as its title the name of a country. Excluding titles like America (it's actually a continent, even if those who sing about it mean the USA), Russians (people, not the place) and the like, the full list of sovereign territories which have loaned their names to hit records are, in descending order of chart success: Ecuador, Australia, Bangladesh, Lebanon, Cuba, Mexico, Cambodia, Brazil, Argentina, Israel, Vietnam, China, Congo and Panama. Ecuador is the fifth South American state to be namechecked, making it the most popular continent.

Dutch group The Course land their second consecutive Top 10 single, debuting at number eight with Ain't Nobody – and like their first, Ready Or Not, it's a cover of a very familiar hit. Ain't Nobody was written by Rufus group member "Hawk" Wolinski, and was originally a number eight hit for the group and its principal member Chaka Khan in 1984. A remixed version also peaked at eight in 1989. But the song has really got into its stride in the past three years, becoming the decade's most persistent hit. In 1994 a battle for chart honours between rival versions by Jaki Graham and KWS featuring Gwen Dickey was resolved in favour of the latter, who peaked at number 21, 23 places ahead of Jaki. The following year saw Diana King climb to number 13 with her version, while earlier this year LL Cool J took the track to number one.

Another oldie back in the thick of it, Somebody, was introduced in the musical West Side Story, and provided PJ Proby with a number six hit in 1964. It's the 4th successful cover by Pet Shop Boys and their 30th hit in all, the latter figure proving a significant one, since it means that Chris and Neil have now topped the previous record of hits by a duo, the 29 accumulated by The Everly Brothers between 1957 and 1984.

(see news) is enough to prevent Paul Weller from registering his second consecutive number one album. Weller, who topped the chart with Stanley Road in 1995, was expected to do likewise with Heavy Soul but CIN's legitimate sales figure for Weller is 45,700 – 2,500 fewer than the second week sale of Radiohead's OK Computer, which thus retains pole position.

Weller will get no second chance, with Prodigy likely to beat both albums by a huge margin next week.

The week's other album sales success comes from David Gates & Bread, a popular Seventies group, whose Essentials makes a surprisingly high debut at number 13. Comprising both solo Gates material and Bread favourites, it's made up of material recorded for Warner Music's Elektra label, and has been licensed to Jive, which is promoting it on TV and radio.

It's 10 years since the last attempt to sell the group's back catalogue via TV resulted in failure, Telstar's The Sound Of Bread peaking at number 84. Exactly a decade before that – and precisely 20 years ago this week – Elektra released a more successful TV compilation, The Sound Of Bread, which climbed to number one.

Alan Jones

A surprisingly severe slump in support for Hanson's Mmmboop allows Eternal/Bebe Winans to regain leadership of the airplay chart, even as I Wanna Be The Only One continues its own slow fade. Neither record should take the prize next week, with Oasis's D'You Know What I Mean? the most likely successor.

It surges 50-4 this week, amassing 869 plays and 53.2m audience impressions. If the other tracks on the EP are added – Stay Young had 18 plays and an audience of 10.8m, Angel Child five plays and 3.7m, Heroes seven plays and 2.0m – the Oasis single should be number one. It is at Radio One, where D'You Know What I Mean? was played 31 times – one more than runner-up Free by Ultra Nate. Radio One also provided the majority of play on the other tracks, spinning Stay Young 18 times (its entire exposure), Angel Child four times and Heroes once.

Spice Girls debut at number 37 with Step To Me, the track which will feature in Pepsi promotions. It was played 52 times last week, with Radio One accounting for 23 of them. The station's enthusiasm for the track was tempered somewhat by the actions of one of its DJs, who deliberately left dead air either side of the song having previously invited listeners to tape it. Pepsi must have been well cheated off, as it is trying to sell cola to punters with the promise of a copy of the track for collecting ring pulls.

As was the case when they released their debut singles, former Take That stars Gary Barlow and Robbie Williams have new singles competing for airplay simultaneously. Gary is looking for his third number one with So Help Me Girl while Robbie will be looking to consolidate his success with Lazy Days. At this early stage, honours are about even. Robbie gets the higher chart placing – 38 compared with Gary's 70 – but Gary has more plays, with 240 airings of So Help Me Girl against 184 of Lazy Days.

Radio Two continues to surprise and delight. It's the prime mover behind Gloria Lynne's debut at number 81 with Speaking Of Happiness. The song, used in the Ford Mondeo ad, is already out, but Radio Two only leapt on it last week, airing it 10 times.

The only song to be played more times by the station is Prefab Sprout's new single Electric Guitars, which enjoyed 11 spins. Radio Two is almost the sole standard bearer for Lynne's single which got only five plays elsewhere, but the Sprouts' disc won a further 90 airings from many and diverse stations across the country.
