THE OFFICIAL UK CHARTS SINGLES

2 MAY 1998

CHART COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

After outselling Run-DMC's It's Like That by 31% last week, Boyzone's All That I Need debuts at number one. It's their third chart topper, the others being Words and A Different Beat. They are only the second act from Ireland to have more than two number ones, emulating the estimable U2. Boyzone have equalled another impressive chart record by becoming only the second act ever to reach the top five with their first 11 singles. Kylie Minogue did it first, but peaked at number six with her 12th single, What Do I Have To Do. All That I Need was written by American songwriters Evan Rogers and Carl Sturken, whose first UK success was Soldier Of Love, for Donny Osmond 10 years ago. Their biggest success hitherto was The Power Of A Woman, a number five hit for Eternal in 1995.

After becoming the longest running number one since the Spice Girls' debut hit Wannabe, Run-DMC's It's Like That is dethroned after six weeks at the summit by Boyzone's third number one hit, All That I Need. Amazingly for a label as successful as Polydor, Boyzone are their only number one act since 1982, when The Jam topped with Beat Surrender.

1998 is proving to be an important year for Catatonia, especially lead singer Cerys. The group speed to their second hit top five record with Road Rage, just three months after reaching number three with Mulder & Scully. Between their own hits, Cerys found time to guest with Space on their number four hit The Ballad of Tom Jones, giving her three top five hits already, with two-thirds of the year still to come.

Another act consolidating its 1998 breakthrough are Steps, who sold

Thing On My Mind, is off to an impressive start, debuting at number six. It's an Abba-esque reading of an old

PERCENTAGE OF UK ACTS IN THE CHART

Stock/Waterman/Dallin/Fahey song which peaked at a lowly 71 for Bananarama in 1992. To complete the Abba/Steps/Bananarama triangle, the original Bananarama line-up (Siobhan/Keren and Sara) have reunited to record Abba's Waterloo for the C4 TV programme/EMI album A Song For Eurotrash, a selection of Eurovision favourites given new interpretations by contemporary recording artists.

Tex-Mex favourites the Mavericks capitalise on their National Lottery Show appearance by landing their debut hit single Dance The Night Away, which enters this week at number nine. It's the third Top 10 hit by a country act in less than three months, following Shania Twain's You're Still The One (number 10) and LeAnn Rimes' How Do I Live (number seven). Due to a technical error, last week's Year So Far chart did not include data for the whole week.

by ALAN JONES

Robbie Williams' reign atop the album chart is comprehensively brought to a halt after a fortnight, with sales of Life Through A Lens last week of just 26,000 being comprehensively overwhelmed by Massive Attack's Mezzanine which debuts in pole position, (see panel).

Selling a couple of thousand less than Robbie, Jimmy Page and Robert Plant, debut at number three with Walking Into Clarksdale, their second post-Zeppelin collaboration. Even though the first, No Quarter, traded on their mighty past – it was essentially a collection of unled versions of some of the group's most popular tracks – it was taken at a comparatively low number 50. Walking Into Clarksdale offers fans something different, and has been helped enormously by factors like the duo's appearance on TFI Friday and the release of a hit single – something No Quarter lacked – in the form of Most High, which reached number 27 a couple of weeks ago.

SALES UPDATE

Fuelled by the success of their latest single Road Rage, Catatonia's International Velvet album vaults 13-5, the highest position of its 12 week chart career. Also home to their Mulder & Scully hit, its previous peak was the number 11 position peaked at number 13, while 1994's Protection reached number four. A darker album than their previous efforts, Mezzanine includes vocals from reggae veteran Horace Andy and Elizabeth Fraser (Cocteau Twins) as well as Grant Marshall and Robert Del Naja of the band. Mezzanine is the first Massive Attack album to come out before any of its singles - Teardrop explodes today (26th).

ALBUM FACTFILE

in which it debuted in February. With the 20,000 copies it sold last week, the album has now sold over 110,000 copies.

Congratulations to Universal, who have broken the Billie Myers album Growing Pains on the strength of just one single. Billie's Kiss The Rain single, which peaked at number four, has sold over 160,000 copies in the last month, and proved potent enough for over 8,000 punters to invest in the album last week, earning it a number 19 debut. Billie is the first new British female to land as much as a Top 75 album thus far in 1998.

Though consistent singles chart makers for several years, James have had only one single sell more than 200,000 copies - their 1991 singalong Sit Down. Their best of album is destined to outsell even that, and is clearly settling in for a long chart career. After debuting at number one, the album has sold 186,000 copies in five weeks, and is a major success for the band and Mercury.

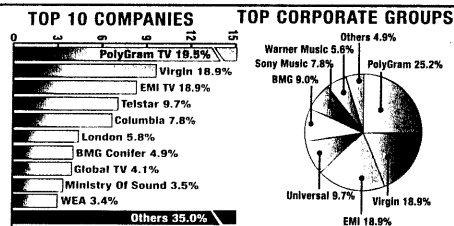

COMPILATIONS

Another easy triumph for Now That's What I Call Music! 39, which sold 69,000 copies last week, more than four times as many as the new runner-up, Telstar's Club Hits 98, which debuts at number two. Though Now! 39 is suffering slightly from a highly competitive marketplace, it has sold almost as many copies in its first three weeks as its Spring '97 counterpart Now! 36. Now! 39 has sold 360,000 copies so far, while Now! 36 sold 367,000 copies in the same time frame last year.

The Jackie Brown soundtrack pauses at number 11 this week - the first time since it's release that it hasn't climbed the compilation chart. Its chart progress to date: 78-58-44-39-26-19-11-11. It's for any album to climb the chart for so many weeks in a row, and even rarer for a soundtrack, though it's quite easy to see why Jackie Brown bucked the trend. Its debut before the film was released was a tribute to director Quentin Tarantino and the good taste he has shown selecting music for previous soundtracks. It started to gather steam as the movie went on limited release, and expanded as the film has reached more screens. Thus far, Jackie Brown has sold nearly 30,000 copies. The tracks featured on it include Who Is He (And What Is He To You) by Bill Withers, a remake of Street Life by Randy Crawford, Natural High by Bloodstone and Holy Matrimony (Letter To The Firm) by Foxy Brown, though its main drawing card is Bobby Womack's Across 110th Street.
