CHART COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

After debuting at number one last week, Irish girl group B*Witched hang on to pole position, though with a much decreased majority. C'Est La Vie sold 93,000 copies last week, 17,000 more than Mousse T's Horny, which moves 3-2, swapping places with Brandy & Monica's The Boy Is Mine.

Lack of space last week precluded any mention of the fact that the Irish double at the top of the charts was also something of a triumph for the Lynch family — twins Keavy and Edele of B*Witched are the sisters of Boyzone's Shane. They're the second siblings to be members of groups who

Itaneously topped the singles and albums chart — the only precedent being in December 1968 when Paul McCartney and the Beatles were riding high atop the album chart with The Beatles (the "White Album"), while Paul's brother Mike McGear's medicinal compound was clearly working well enough for the Scaffold's Lily The Pink to top

Mariah Carey registered her 13th American number one with My All a couple of weeks ago, a remarkable achievement, and one which places her behind only Elvis Presley (17 number ones) and the Beatles (20) in the roll of honour. She's a major artist here too — but not in that league. My All debuts at number four this week, becoming her 21st hit in all, and her 14th Top 10 entry. That tally of Top 10 hits includes 12 in a row, ending only when her last single Butterfly peaked at 22 last December. Butterfly, Honey (number three last September) and My All are taken from Mariah's Butterfly album, which has underachieved compared to her previous releases, selling only 220,000 copies so far. Ironically, Mariah's only UK number one, Without You, reached only (!) number three in the States.

With the World Cup about to get under way, three "official" football records enter the Top 40 this week, though they're all likely to be overtaken next week by the unofficial update of Three Lions by the Lightning Seeds/Baddiel/Skinner and Vindaloo by Fat Les. For the moment however, the soccer strikes are made by Chumbawamba, whose Top Of The World (Ole, Ole, Ole) debuts at number 21; Del Amitri, in at 15 with Don't Come Home Too Soon; and England United, who lead the stampede at number nine with (How Does It Feel To Be) On Top Of The World. Chumbawamba's track appears on the official FIFA album Allez! Ole! Ole!, while the Football Associations of England and Scotland have endorsed the England United and Del Amitri tracks. The Del Amitri record is, naturally, number one in Scotland, where — perhaps surprisingly — England United is doing well enough to rank 39th, according to CIN.

by ALAN JONES

Simply Red's Blue returns to pole position, as Boyzone's Where We Belong slumps to number four. With Rod Stewart debuting at number two and The Corrs maintaining their highest ever position at number three, the top three are once again all Warner Music releases, repeating the feat the company first performed a fortnight ago. Blue sold 46,000 copies last week, to take its three week tally to 190,000.

Aside from Rod Stewart (see story above), there are two other new entries in the Top 10 — The Smashing Pumpkins' Adore at number five and Shed Seven's Let it Ride at number nine — both of which maintain the 'rps' impetus.

The Smashing Pumpkins' previous two albums, 1993's Siamese Dream and 1995's Mellon Collie And The Infinite Sadness, peaked at number five. Shed Seven reached number 16 with 1994's Change Giver and number eight with 1996's A Maximum High.

One of the most celebrated veterans of the British music scene, Rod Stewart almost secured a surprise eighth number one album this week with When We Were The New Boys. In the end, Rod had to settle for number two, a position he has now secured with three albums in the Nineties, the others being 1991's Vagabond Heart and 1993's Unplugged...And Seated. The reception given to When We Were The New Boys, which sold nearly 40,000 copies last week, suggests that fans approve of Rod covering the material of artists like Oasis and Skunk Anansie. But they also like his old hits, and a Woolworths promotion, in which buyers of When We Were The New Boys were entitled to purchase his Spectrum label "best of" Maggie May — The Classic Years for £2.99, was an unqualified success. The album debuts at number one on the budget chart this week.

ALBUM FACTFILE

Altogether, there are 14 new entries in the Top 75, the highest intake for 19 months — since there were 17 new entries on November 17 1996. This avalanche of new chart product had a very disappointing impact on overall sales, however, with the artist albums' market increasing by a miserly 0.4 percent. A corresponding decrease in the number of sales of compilations leaves the market flat overall.

One of the effects of the simultaneous arrival of so many hit albums is to send recent favourites into decline. Among the albums suffering is Madonna's Ray Of Light, which declines 8-11, losing its Top 10 status after 13 weeks in the upper echelon. The last Madonna album to enjoy a longer introductory spell in the Top 10 was True Blue, way back in 1986. Catatonia's International Velvet has been severely buffeted by the glut of newcomers too, though this alone cannot explain its 1-2-5-10 decline in the last three weeks.

Possibly to cash in on resurgence of popularity of ska as practised by American bands like No Doubt, the Mighty Mighty Bosstones and Smash Mouth, Virgin has issued The Heavy Heavy Hits by Madness, which debuts this week at number 24.

COMPILATIONS

After eight weeks at number one, Now That's What I Call Music! 39 is finally dethroned, but it didn't give up without quite a fight. It sold over 20,000 copies last week, in a close three-way battle for the title, just 350 less than The Box Hits 98 — Volume 2 and 500 more than Massive Dance:98 — Volume 2, which debut at one and three respectively.

Despite the arrival of these two new heavyweights, the compilations market remains in the doldrums and recorded its second lowest sales of the year last week. The Box Hits 98 — Volume 2 — released by Telstar in association with the increasingly influential cable music station The Box, which also broadcasts tops the number two peak of Box Hits 98, which was a hit in March but couldn't get past The Full Monty.

While the Top 20 is dominated by the usual mixture of hits compilations, most skewed towards dance music, the number 21 album this week is The Very Best Of Latin Jazz, Global Television's excellent compilation which includes lots of good music but only two bona fide hit singles among its 27 tracks — and even these were fairly minor, with George Duke's Brazilian Love Affair reaching number 38 in 1980, the same year Azymuth's Jazz Carnival reached number 19. Other well known tracks on the album include Mongo Santamaria's classic Watermelon Man and Sergio Mendes' Mais Que Nada.
