CHART COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

● 911 register their ninth hit this week with How Do You Want Me To Love You? Written by US songwriters Carl Sturken and Evan Rogers, who also penned Boyzone's recent chart-topper All That I Need, it continues their streak of consecutive Top 10 hits, which now stands at seven. However, its number 10 debut is a little disappointing – it seems likely to spoil their sequence of top five hits, which started with The Day

SINGLE FACTFILE

We Find Love (four) and continued via Bodyshakin' (three), The Journey (three), Party People...Friday Night (five) and All I Want Is You (four). The only boy band with a longer current streak of Top 10 hits than 911 is Boyzone (11 in a row), though the Backstreet Boys have also had seven Top 10 hits. 911's only album to date, The Journey, peaked at 13. Their second album Moving On, is due in July.

Football fever continues to dominate the chart, with Baddiel/Skinner and the Lightning Seeds' 3 Lions '98 and Vindaloo by Fat Les taking the top two positions for a third week. Both are in steep decline, however, and while there were 11 football-related hits in the Top 75 last week, there are only eight this week. Among these are two new entries – Jamalca United's Rise Up (54) and the Wimbledon Choral Society's interpretation of Faure's Pavane, which serves as the theme to BBC coverage of France 98.

It's a big week for new releases by boy bands, with 911, Ultra, Hanson and Code Red all debuting their latest hits – though, in this overcrowded genre, all have reason to be somewhat disappointed by their chart positions. Code Red had consecutive Top 40 hits last year with Can We Talk and Is There Somebody Out There and continue their inquisitive line with What Would You Do If, though rather less successfully, making a number 55 debut. Ultra are the newest boy band on the block, and must have been delighted by the number 11 success of their first single, Say You Do, in April. Despite heavy media coverage, their second single Say It Once debuts more modestly, at 16.

PERCENTAGE OF UK ACTS IN THE CHART

911 stretch their run of consecutive Top 10 hits to seven but the number 10 debut of their latest single How Do You Want Me To Love You? suggests it won't make the top five, something their last five singles all managed to do. Finally, Hanson get huge kudos not just for their extreme youth and the fact they write their own songs but also for the fact that their debut album Middle Of Nowhere has spawned five hits. Even so, each of their hits to date has peaked lower than its predecessors – after starting their career a year ago with the number one hit Mmmmbop, they've peaked at four with Where's The Love, at five with I Will Come To You and at 19 with Weird. Thinking Of You debuts this week at number 23.

The Beastie Boys have the week's highest debut, entering at five with Intergalactic. The introductory single from their new album Hello Nasty is the veteran rappers' first hit in four years, and their biggest to date, beating the number 10 peak of 1987's She's On It.

by ALAN JONES

Five's self-titled debut album sold just enough copies last week (29,700) to dethrone The Corrs' Talk On Corners (27,600), these two albums selling considerably more than any other.

The most impressive move within the chart is the Lighthouse Family's 12-4 jump with Postcards From Heaven, which registered a week-on-week sales increase of 115%, partly due to the success of the album's latest single, Lost In Space, and partly because of publicity surrounding the group's participation in the Memorial concert for the Princess of Wales. Released three months ago, Postcards From Heaven has sold 880,000 copies, going some way to proving that its phenomenal predecessor Ocean Drive - 1.35m sales to date - is no fluke. Bob Dylan's latest album, Time Out Of Mind, registered an impressive 71% increase, and climbs 113-60, as a result of the veteran's involvement in Glastonbury.

With airplay beginning to snowball for Viva

Six months ago Five were complete unknowns. Now, after scoring three consecutive Top 10 singles in a row, they have the number one album in the UK with their self-titled debut, which sold nearly 30,000 copies last week to capture pole position. They're the first boy band to have an album debut at number one since Hanson did so exactly a year ago. The 17 track album includes all three Five hits to date - Siam Dunk

(Da Funk), which reached number seven, When The Lights Go Out (number four) and Got The Feelin', which debuted at number three three weeks ago. The three singles have all sold over 200,000 copies, with Got The Feelin' poised to become the biggest seller of the lot. Five are the first new RCA act to debut at number one with their first album since Robson & Jerome in 1995, and the first group on the label to have a

Forever, and the video for the song premiered on TV last week, the Spice Girls' Spiceworld album also made excellent progress, climbing 36-22 with sales up by almost half in the week. Spice followed in its slipstream, increasing its week-on-week sales by 5% to move 84-75.

While her hit duet single The Boy Is Mine has sold more than 240,000 copies in the past five weeks, Brandy's album Never S-A-Y Never has made a quieter but still impressive start to its chart career. After debuting at 21 a fortnight ago, it dipped a place to 22, but now returns to 21. In three weeks it has sold more than 20,000 copies - more than Brandy's first, self-titled, album has sold since its release four years ago.

Major hit singles seem beyond them but Morcheeba's album Big Calm has sold more than 64,000 copies since it was released in March. Never rising higher than 18 in the chart, it has spawned two minor hit singles - Blindfold reached 56, and Let Me See peaked at 46 - while itself selling at a steady rate. Some of the album's buyers are Radio Two listeners, seduced by the charms of Let Me See, which has been a big hit on the station in its 1963 mix, which includes Bacharach style strings.

COMPILATIONS

The busiest week of the year in the compilation sector sees five new entries among the top six, with Fresh Hits 98, the latest Warner Music, Global (RCA), and Sony collaboration, making a huge impression at number one, selling more than 75,000 copies - three times as many copies as its nearest challenger, namely the Ministry Of Sound's Clubbers Guide To Ibiza. Fresh Hits 98 - which includes tracks like Feel It by the Tamperer, Divya by Dana International and Ghetto Supastar by Pras Michel - replaces The Box Hits 98 - Vol 2, which has the most spectacular fall ever from the compilation summit falling 1-10.

Madonna's Maverick label had a major success with its Jackie Brown soundtrack, which increased its sales for 10 consecutive weeks, and sold more than 60,000 copies earlier this year. Now it's getting similar results from the Wedding Singer soundtrack, which has climbed 23-19.15 thus far. The audio companion to the Adam Sandler movie that is currently top of the box office chart, it contains 14 tracks, of which 10 are Eighties recordings by British acts, among them Culture Club's Do You Really Want To Hurt Me, the Smiths' How Soon Is Now and Billy Idol's White Wedding - though the most memorable moment is probably the remake of Rappers Delight by Sugarhill Gang featuring 70-something actress Ellen Dow. Considering the fact that, by my reckoning, the movie is stuffed with 38 songs, the soundtrack album could easily have been more generously proportioned, with Adam Sandler's own pastiches and Alexis Arquette's version of Do You Really Want To Hurt Me obvious add-ons.
