CHART
COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

The least convincing sight of the week was Andrew Lloyd Webber's much-publicised appearance with Boyzone on Top Of The Pops. His Lordship had the grace to look a little embarrassed about it all – and so he should, since he was ostensibly playing, even though there is clearly no piano used on No Matter What. Boyzone's fourth number one is the third for its writers, the aforementioned Lloyd Webber and Jim Steinman. Lloyd Webber's previous number ones are Don't Cry For Me Argentina (Julie Covington, 1977) and Any Dream Will Do (Jason Donovan, 1991) both written with Tim Rice, while Steinman penned Total Eclipse Of The Heart (Bonnie Tyler, 1983) and I'd Do Anything For Love (But I Won't Do That) (Meat Loaf, 1993), both solo compositions.

After trailing all week to Stardust's Music Sounds Better With You, Boyzone's No Matter What came from behind to retain its number one position, selling 176,000 copies last week, more than 5,000 units more than its rival.

Stardust would have been the first French act to top the chart since 1974, when Charles Aznavour reached the summit with She, although we've already had big hits this year by a couple of French acts, namely Air, who reached number 13 with Sexy Boy and 18 with Kelly Watch The Stars, and Jean Michel Jarre, who reached 12 with Rendez-Vous 98. Daft Punk, whose Thomas P...ter is a key member of Stardust, had the... top 40 hits last year, with the biggest, Around The World, hitting number five.

The Stardust single is one of five new entries in the top seven, an unprecedented intake which helps the singles market to make a 9% week-on-week improvement. The others are: To The Moon And Back, in at number three for Savage Garden nearly a year after peaking at number 55; I Want You Back, the third top five hit for Cleopatra in their first six months as a chart act; The Air That I Breathe, the third consecutive Top 10 single for Simply Red, a career best; and

PERCENTAGE OF UK ACTS IN THE CHART

Everything's Gonna Be Alright, the debut hit for German-based Americans Sweetbox. Based on Bach's Air On A G String, it was a number 12 hit in Germany in January, and has since reached the top five in France, Norway, Italy, Spain, Sweden and Austria.

The Air That I Breathe was originally a number two hit for the Hollies in 1974, and is the second song written by Seventies songsmith Albert Hammond to reach the Top 10 this year, following When I Need You by Will Mellor in February. Two other songwriters have the distinction of landing two new hits on the chart this week. Missy Elliott charts at 25 with her own hit 'Em Wit Da Hee and at 22 with newcomer Nicole's Make It Hot, on which she also contributes a rap. Meanwhile, Diane Warren is the writer of both Xscape's The Arms of The One Who Loves You and Juice's I'll Come Runnin', new at 46 and 48 respectively. Warren's How Do I Live is at number 32 on its 25th week in the chart for LeAnn Rimes.

by ALAN JONES

Switching to EMI after spending his entire hit career at Epic, Luther Vandross has made one of his better recent albums with I Know. But, with no single yet, the record-buying public approached it with some trepidation last week. Fewer than 3,000 actually bought the album, which thus debuts at a lowly number 42, giving Vandross his lowest charting LP of new material since his 1984 breakthrough. With Nights In Harlem due as a single, it should improve, but it's a further sign of his sharp decline - his Covers album reached number one in 1994 but the subsequent Your Secret Love peaked at 12, which, together with a couple of underperforming hits compilations, signalled Vandross's departure from Sony. Luther's not the only R&B veteran to have a difficult week - Mica Paris's first album in five years, Black Angel, debuts at 59 this week.

With rapidly increasing exposure for their upcoming smash hit What Can I Do - it climbs 23-13 on the airplay chart this week and was featured on the Lottery show on Saturday - The Corrs' Talk On Corners registers a 6% week-on-week increase in sales to retain its position at the top of the album chart by a comfortable margin from Catatonia, who - after improving four weeks in a row - hold at number two with International Velvet.

In a Top 10 with no new entries, the only significant upwards movement is that of Simply Red's Blue, which advances 7-3, registering a 29% hike in sales last week, primarily as a result of the attention given to the second Top 10 hit from the album, The Air That I Breathe.

The highest new entry comes from Ace Of Base, whose third album, Flowers, debuts at 15. The Swedish group topped the chart with their 1993 debut Happy Nation, though it took more than a year and extensive follow their current hit Life Is A Flower, the album is likely to put even more distance between it and The Bridge.

The original cast recording of Saturday Night Fever runs Ace Of Base a close second for highest new entry honours. Prominently featuring Adam Garcia, who had a hit single with Night Fever earlier this year, it debuts at 17. It includes a dozen songs, 10 of them from the original movie and two written especially for the stage production, these being Immortality - already a hit single for Celine Dion - and First And Last. The original Saturday Night Fever soundtrack was number one exactly 20 years ago, remaining at the summit for a mind-blowing 18 weeks.

Madonna's 40th birthday on Sunday (16) excited something of a media frenzy with VH 1 declaring Saturday Madonna Day, and Radio One counting down Madonna's 40 biggest hits. The result was a 128-75 jump for The Immaculate Collection, while her current album Ray Of Light moves 18-16.

COMPILATIONS

Still outselling the number one artist album by The Corrs by a margin of more than four to one, and the number two compilation by a margin of more than six to one, Now That's What I Call Music! 40 actually sold more copies last Monday than any other album sold in the entire week. It is - match - the number one compilation for the second week in a row, the 113,000 copies it sold last week taking its two-week tally to 266,000.

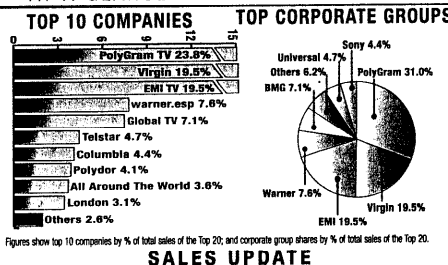

The highest of four new entries in the Top 10 is Ibiza Uncovered 2, which debuts at number two after selling more than 18,000 copies. This is the follow-up to Ibiza Uncovered, which was issued to accompany Sky's bacchanalian documentary on British holidaymakers. The final album was a great success and has sold more than 300,000 copies since being released last September. The follow-up continues the theme, even though there is no companion TV programme - Sky has moved on to Greece Uncovered - and even though most of the tracks it contains were not even recorded when the series was shown, much less hits. Half a dozen tracks are common to both Now! 40 and Ibiza Uncovered 2, including Los Umbrellos No Tengo Dinero, which hasn't even been released as a single yet but which has an inevitability about it...

Grease remains the number one soundtrack, holding down sixth place on the compilation chart, but has a new runner-up in Armageddon, which capitalises on the popularity of Aerosmith's power ballad I Don't Want To Miss A Thing and the movie's successful cinematic opening, by sprinting 46-25 this week.
