CHART COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

The Manic Street Preachers register their 19th hit and their first ever number one, courtesy of If You Tolerate This Your Children Will Be Next, which sold upwards of 146,000 copies last week. They're the first act from Wales to have a number one since 1985, when Shakin' Stevens topped with Merry Christmas Everyone. With 39 letters, If You Tolerate This Your Children Will Be Next is the longest non-parenthetical title ever to reach number one, though Scott McKenzie's San Francisco (Be Sure To Wear Some Flowers In Your Hair) - a number one hit exactly 31 years ago - is the winner if bracketed words are included.

Manics' success is particularly massive considering that both of the other records in the top three chalked up sales of more than 120,000 last week - a rare feat. Running them closest, Steps confirmed their status as one of the hottest new acts of 1998 by selling 140,000 copies of One For Sorrow, which debuted at number two. It's the third hit from their upcoming debut album Step One, following the number 14 hit 5-6-7-8 and the number six Last Thing On My Mind. It was produced by Topham, Twigg and Waterman - Pete, that is, whose last top three hit in this role was Kylie Minogue's

SINGLE FACTFILE

Madonna's career has been revitalised by the Ray Of Light album, with Frozen giving Maddy her first number one since 1990, and the title track peaking at number two when released as singles. By comparison, the number 10 debut this week of Drowned World (Substitute For Love) is a trifle disappointing. It's the 42nd Top 10 hit of Madonna's career - a remarkable record - but only four of her singles have peaked lower, with the number 16 peaks of Take A Bow and Oh Father representing her smallest hits thus far. The Ray Of Light album was released six months ago, and has sold more than 615,000 copies so far. The only solo artists to have more top 10 hits than Madonna are Cliff Richard and Elvis Presley - though Paul McCartney and Michael Jackson are also ahead of her when their activities as soloists AND group members are considered.

Better The Devil You Know back in 1990.

Completing the top three, Boyzone's No Matter What may have finished its run at the top, but it still sold 129,000 copies last week, to take its four-week tally to more than 730,000 copies. As stated last week, their biggest seller to date is Father And Son, whose 828,000 tally is likely to be overtaken next week, unless No Matter What suddenly goes into a steep decline.

It's a bit of a mixed week for Mercury, which has considerable success with its latest signings (via 1st Avenue) Honeyz. The multi-racial, multi-national girl group enter at number five with their debut hit Finally Found.

However, Scots veterans Del Amitri, who were recently transferred from A&M following that label's demise, have to be content with a number 40 debut for their introductory Mercury single Cry To Be Found. Their last A&M single Don't Come Home Too Soon reached number 15 in June.

by ALAN JONES

Boyzone's Where We Belong completes a remarkable yo-yo effect by climbing 21-1, having slumped 6-21 a week ago. The reason, of course, is that the original pressing of the album was replaced on Monday by a new one, which adds both No Matter What and the group's next single. Where We Belong sold 63,000 copies last week, a total exceeded only in the week of its original release in May, when it sold 83,000 copies. The practice of deleting albums during their chart career and reissuing them with additional tracks is an increasingly popular ploy, and one that has worked well for many others, including The Corrs. Conner Reeves, will also have his current and next singles added to his debut album. It's a canny way of raising an album's profile but it leaves a bitter taste in the mouths of those who had bought the album early on.

This is the time of year when, customarily, the album chart slumbers – but this week is something of an exception to that rule, with only one of last week's top five still in the upper echelon, as Boyzone jump 21-1 and new entries debut at three, four and five. Leading the newcomers are the Fun Lovin' Criminals, whose 100% Colombian album sold more than 35,000 copies last week. It has thus already surpassed the number seven peak scaled by their last album, Come Find Yourself, though the latter title makes an impressive 78-31 charge and increases its sales week-on-week by a massive 204%. Come Find Yourself has sold more than 300 since it was released almost exactly two years ago.

The Psyence Fiction album by UNKLE – the Anglo-American alliance between Mo'Wax founder James Lavelle and Californian hip-hop DJ Shadow – also opens impressively with nearly 35,000 sales, enough to win it fourth place on the chart.

SALES UPDATE

Featuring guests including Richard Ashcroft (The Verve), Thom Yorke (Radiohead) and Mark Hollis (formerly Talk Talk), it was three years in the making, and comprehensively overshadows the previous UNKLE effort, The Time Has Come, which reached number 73

Completing a triumvirate of "best yet" placings, Sash!'s second album Life Goes On debuts at number six. Also featuring guest collaborators – Tina Cousins, Shannon, Dr. Alban – it narrowly better the number seven peak of debut album It's My Life.

The Corrs' Talk On Corners sold 53,000 copies last week, the highest sale it has achieved in any single week since its release last November. Talk On Corners has really taken off since the release of What Can I Do, improving by 49% while holding pole position on the chart last week, and surging a further 33% this week. It has now sold more than 660,000 copies, and is certain to top the magical million mark.

When Jane McDonald's self titled album roared to the top of the chart in July, many doubters wrote it off as a one-week wonder. In fact, it held the top spot for three weeks, and has sold a highly creditable 150,000 copies to date.

COMPILATIONS

Now That's What I Call Music! 40 is number one for the fourth week in a row. With 53,000 copies sold last week and more than 390,000 since it was first released, it seems certain to sell more than half a million copies – not surprising, since all previous 39 volumes in the series have done likewise. For the first time in its reign atop the compilation chart, Now! 40 wasn't the biggest-selling album of all in the UK last week, Boyzone's Where We Belong was. But the nearest any compilation came to dethroning Now! 40 was the new Ministry Of Sound compilation The Ibiza Annual, which sold over 47,000 copies last week. With Now! 40 in fairly rapid decline, the Ibiza Annual may steal a turn at number one next week before, inevitably, the new is 98 compilation takes over at the top.

PolyGram TV's latest, Cool Grooves, debuts at number 13 after selling more than 8,000 copies. It is one of an increasing number of compilations to be sponsored. In this case, it's Polo "the mint with the hole" which is linked and the album is appropriately tagged "the CD with the hole". Among its "38 fresh flavas" are recent R&B/pop hits by the likes of All Saints, 2Pac, Mary J Blige featuring George Benson and Jay Z featuring Gwen Dickey as well as brand new hits by Honeyz, PM Dawn and Lynden David Hall.

The limited edition 3CD version of Pete Tong - Essential Collection - Summer 1998 is being rapidly depleted, hence that title's 2-7 decline on the chart. Tong fans are settling for the 2CD version instead, resulting in a 6-4 rise for that title.
