CHART
COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

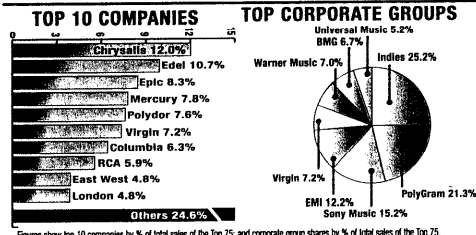

It's seventh time lucky for Robbie Williams, who finally registers his first solo number one hit in some style, debuting in pole position with Millennium, which sold more than 140,000 copies last week, over twice as many as any other single.

Robbie peaked at number two with Freedom and Old Before I Die, his first two solo singles after leaving Take That, and subsequently peaked at eight with Lazy Days and 14 with South Of The Border before clawing his way back to number five with Angels and three with Let Me Entertain You. He also participated in seven of Take That's eight number ones, and is the second former member of the group to return to the summit – Gary Barlow topped the chart with Forever Love and Love Won't Wait.

Millennium is the first single from Robbie's upcoming album I've Been Expecting You.

Ladies First: Having delayed his single's release long enough to allow fiancée Nicole Appleton's group All Saints to take pole position with Bootie Call, Robbie Williams unceremoniously dethrones the girls this week. In a head-to-head Robbie would have been an easy winner, with Millennium selling 20% more in its first week than Bootie Call did. The All Saints single confirms its weakness by slumping 1-7, the biggest drop from the summit since May last year, when Michael Jackson's Blood On The Dancefloor skidded 1-8.

Debating at number two with almost half the sales of Millennium, Dutch pop T-Spoon's novelty hit Sex On The Beach – a continental smash which has gained most of its UK exposure from The Box – gives Germany's Edel group of labels its biggest hit to date, topping the number four mark set only last week by Jennifer Paige's Crush. Paige's single moves down only one notch this week, allowing Edel to become the second indie company to have two simultaneous top five hits this year, emulating Zomba. But not everything Edel releases is successful – another Edel signing, Germany's NYCC, reached number 14 with their recent cover of the Beastie

PERCENTAGE OF UK ACTS IN THE CHART

Boys' hit You Gotta Fight For Your Right To Party, but debut 54 places lower with their new single Can You Feel It (Rock Da House).

No Matter What by Boyzone is number three for the week and number three for the year. Having sold more than 876,000 copies, it is now their biggest-selling single. Until Monday, their Father And Son hit was the biggest-seller ever by an Irish act, with 828,000 sales. On Tuesday it was overtaken by B*Witched's C'est La Vie, but by Wednesday, Boyzone were back on top with No Matter What. In its 16 weeks on the Top 40 to date, C'est La Vie has sold 833,000 copies, including more than 7,000 last week.

Setting up their upcoming compilation The Singles 1986-98, on which it is featured, Depeche Mode debut at number 17 with Only When I Lose Myself. It's the group's 33rd Top 40 hit, a total beaten by only four other groups – Status Quo, Queen, The Rolling Stones and UB40.

CHART COMMENTARY

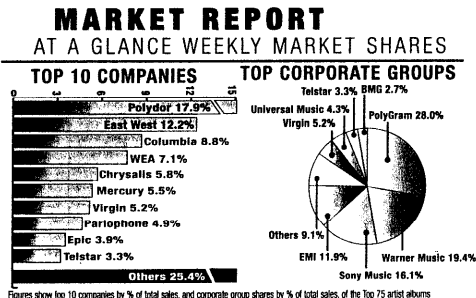

by ALAN JONES

The Corrs were pipped for the number one slot for the last two weeks by Boyzone but they prove their popularity by returning to pole position this week with their Talk On Corners album. Certified triple platinum last week for shipments of more than 900,000 copies – retail lags a little behind, with CIN showing about 750,000 moved over the counter – the album has been in the top three for the past 17 weeks, spending six of them at number one.

The Corrs' album has spent the past 18 weeks in the Top 10, but that's small beer compared with Robbie Williams' Life Thru A Lens, which has been in the upper echelon continuously since jumping 12-3 on January 17. With 36 consecutive appearances in the Top 10, Robbie's album has sold more than 1,050,000 copies, and will be a year old next week.

Forty-two weeks after her latest English-language album Let's Talk About Love was dropped, Celine Dion's latest Frenchlanguage effort S'il Suffisait D'Aimer was released on Monday. It sold only 10,000 copies however, enough to earn it a number

Time after time, recording artists who normally deliver the goods fail to do so when they take time out from their regular output to release foreign-language, Christmas or live albums. Live albums in particular are viewed as fillers, and rarely deliver performances – either sonically or chartwise – of the same quality as studio recordings. Which is why the Bee Gees' debut at number four with One Night Only is a stunning achievement. The brothers Gibb recorded the album at the MGM Grand in Las Vegas last November, and brought an almost identical show to London's Wembley Arena at the start of the month. The album is their 16th to chart, but their first live, and includes not only their own hits but their interpretations of songs they have written for famous friends including Dionne Warwick (Heartbreaker), Diana Ross (Chain Reaction), Celine Dion (Immortality) and Barbra Streisand (Gilty).

French Album) debuted and peaked at number seven in 1995. Before Let's Talk About Love celebrates its birthday, Celine will unleash yet another album, this one comprising Christmas songs.

The first part of the Beach Boys' Endless Harmony TV documentary got mixed reviews and the TV soundtrack album makes a disappointingly muted chart debut, entering at number 56. Featuring previously unreleased live tracks, demos, remixes, alternate versions and five songs never previously available in any form, it may yet climb higher, as part two of the documentary was screened yesterday (September 13).

The 1971 movie Get Carter starring Michael Caine is one of the most celebrated thrillers of all time, with an acclaimed soundtrack by jazz pianist, arranger and producer Roy Budd. Get Carter was released on CD for the first time last Monday by Castle Communications' Cinephile label, and debuts on the album chart at number 68.

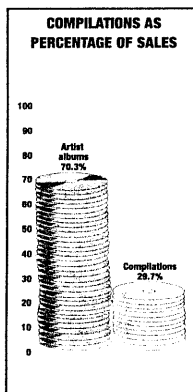

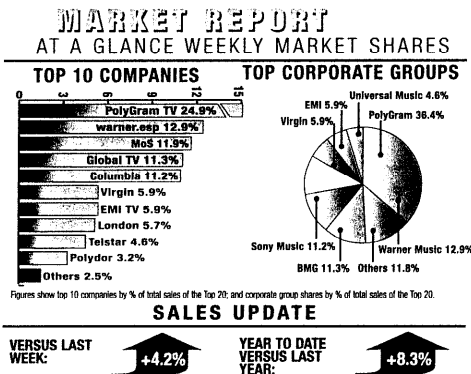

COMPILATIONS

Axed in 1991 after becoming increasingly ineffectual against the all-conquering EMI/Virgin/PolyGram Now series of albums, the Sony/Warner/BMG Hits counterpart has proved to be a more formidable foe in its 1998 incarnation. Already this year it has yielded New Hits 98 – number one for a fortnight in April – and Fresh Hits 98, which debuted at number one at the beginning of July and held on to the title for six weeks.

The latest album – Big Hits 98 – debuts at number one this week, after selling more than 62,000 copies. The album – a double featuring 40 current, recent and forthcoming hits, among them the Manic Street Preachers' If You Tolerate This Your Children Will Be Next, All Saints' Boothie and Another Level's Freak Me, to name just its number one hits – outsold Kiss In Ibiza 98, which debuts at number two, by more than two to one. The Ibiza Annual (down from one to three) and Now That's What I Call Music! 40 (slipping 2-4) sold almost as many copies as Kiss In Ibiza 98, but there's a big gap between Now! 40, which sold just over 26,000 and the album in fifth place, PolyGram TV's Power & Soul, which sold fewer than 10,000 copies.

Much lower down, The Simpsons – Songs In The Key Of Springfield moves 19-18, having resumed its chart career last week after an absence of more than a year. Though the popular story of Homer, Bart, Maggie et al is running on both BBC2 and Sky, the album's revival is down to advertising on Channel Four.
