CHART COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

Effervescent Irish girl group B*Witched had record buyers well and truly under their spell again last week, selling nearly 157,000 copies of their second hit Rollercoaster to debut at number one. The group's first single C'est La Vie, also debuted at number one, with a slightly smaller first week sale of 153,000, but has gone on to sell more than 840,000 copies so far, and is the fourth biggest seller of the year, trailing only My Heart Will Go On by Celine Dion, It's Like That by Run-DMC Vs. Jason Nevins and No Matter What by Boyzone. B*Witched are only the second act in chart history to enter the chart at number one with their first two singles, the other being Robson & Jerome. B*Witched are keeping pace with Boyzone, who have also had two number ones in 1998, making it the best ever year in the UK chart for Irish acts.

There are only three new entries to the Top 10 this week – but they occupy the top three places in the chart. B*Witched's Rollercoaster takes pole position ahead of the Beautiful South's Perfect 10 and Lauryn Hill's Doo Wop (That Thing). It's only the fourth time in chart history that the entire top three have been new entries, the most recent occasion being on June 20 this year, when B*Witched's previous single C'est La Vie was one of the casualties, tumbling 1–4 to accommodate the newcomers. P*Witched easily outdistanced its rivals last week, with nearly 157,000 sales, compared to 89,000 sales for Perfect 10 and 79,000 for Doo Wop.

The Beautiful South single is the group's biggest hit since they topped the chart for the first and only time with A Little Time nearly eight years ago. And it completes their second Perfect 10 – that is, they've charted with each of their 20 singles to date.

The only climber in the Top 40 is, for the second week in a row, Aerosmith's I Don't Want To Miss A Thing. With LeAnn Rimes' How Do I Live dipping to number 41 after 30 weeks in the Top 40, it's also the sole Diane Warren composition in the top tier. The 35th Warren song to reach the Top 40 since

PERCENTAGE OF UK ACTS IN THE CHART

1985, it's far and away Aerosmith's biggest hit, with 150,000 sales to date.

Honeyz' Finally Found is the latest in a growing list of single to defy conventional chart rules. Having debuted at number five four weeks ago, it slipped to seven, then climbed to four before retreating to number six. It falls a further two notches to number eight this week, but its quiet persistence has seen it sell more than 260,000 copies so far, while their much higher profile rivals All Saints have sold only 198,000 copies of Bootie Call.

Among several records not faring as well as expected this week, the Eurohit No Tengo Dinero by Los Umbrellos is one of the biggest under-performers. A million seller in Europe, it has been working its "charms" on continental holidaymakers all summer, but in a rare display of good taste, record buyers purchased a mere 10,000 copies of the disc last week, limiting it to a number 33 chart debut.

by ALAN JONES

Its week-on-week sales are down 56%, but the 60,000 copies The Manic Street Preachers' This Is My Truth Tell Me Yours sold last week was nearly twice as many as they required to hold on to their number one position. Sales of the album were buoyed somewhat last week by the excellent BBC2 Close Up documentary on the band, which was aired on Wednesday, and the album is certain to top the 200,000 sales mark today (Monday), passing that figure faster than any other 1998 release.

The Verve's Urban Hymns celebrated a year since its release and also became the first album to sell a million copies in 1998 last week, having also sold a million in 1997. Its overall sales of 2,295,000 includes 1,011,000 this year. The second album to sell a million in 1998 is certain to be Robbie Williams' Life Thru A Lens, which has sold 972,000 in 1998 and 1,090,000 in total. With sales currently around 17,000 a week, Robbie should reach the target in less than a fortnight, and Life Thru A Lens should dethrone Urban Hymns as the year's biggest seller in about five weeks – but

After a satisfactory number nine hit with My Favorite Mistake, the first single from her new album, Sheryl Crow debuts at number two on the LP chart with The Globe Sessions. It sold more than 37,000 copies last week, enough to have earned it a number one position on many occasions this year, but not enough this week, with the Manic Street Preachers' album still so new. It still represents a chart high point for 36-year-old Crow, however. She reached number eight with her debut album Tuesday Night Music Club in 1994, and took her self-titled 1996 album to number five. Its title makes it sound as though The Globe Sessions was recorded at a multitude of studios around the world – not so. In fact, it was recorded over a 10 week period at Crow's own Globe Studio, which is based in New York.

and is adding to that figure at the rate of more than 30,000 a week.

Technics Mercury Music Prize winners Gomez reach another new peak with their album Bring It On. In its 24th appearance in the chart, the album climbs 16-11, thanks to a 30% improvement in its week-on-week sales. That's a smaller second week spurt than experienced by last year's winner, Roni Size, and Bring It On must improve again if it is to match the number eight peak that Size's New Forms scaled in the wake of last year's win.

Making a creditable improvement this week is Dolly Parton's impressive new album Hungry Again which not only marks her first chart appearance for more than a decade but now also represents her most successful album ever, at least as far as chart positions are concerned. Hungry Again moves 28 places (69-41) this week, beating the number 45 peak of her 1978 'best of' Both Sides.

COMPILATIONS

Big Hits 98 and Kiss In Ibiza 98 debuted as the top two albums three weeks ago, and remain firmly lodged in those positions, with the former still retaining a handsome 50% margin over the latter, selling another 33,750 copies last week to take its total to date to 147,000. Kiss In Ibiza 98 has sold 80,000 copies. Moving up into third place behind them, Top Of The Pops 1998 - Volume 2 was last week's highest new entry, and has sold 36,000 copies so far. The album features the most up-to-date selection of tracks on any current compilation, including the Honeyz' Finally Found, All Saints' Bootie Call, Nalin & Kane's Beach Ball and One For Sorrow by Steps. Top Of The Pops 1998 - Volume 1 reached number two in May, narrowly failing to unseat Now That's What I Call Music!

39, and has sold well over 100,000 copies so far.

The week's highest new entry is the Chemical Brothers' mix album Brother's Gonna Work It Out, which debuts at number seven. Given the preponderance of albums with interchangeable track listings, the Chemical Brothers' album is a welcome change, featuring tracks like Mars Needs Women by Meat Beat Manifesto, Thunder by Renegade Soundwave, the Manic Street Preachers' Everything Must Go – in the Chemical Brothers mix where everything associated with the original did indeed go – and the Willie Hutch title track.

Lock, Stock & Two Smoking Barrels (OST) remains the number one soundtrack album, despite slipping 7-8 on the overall compilation chart.
