CHART COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

Billie becomes only the third act in chart history to open their chart career with consecutive number ones, taking pole position with Girlfriend just three months after making a similarly lofty debut with Because We Want To. Before Billie, the only acts to have two number one debuts in a row at the start of their career were Robson & Jerome and B*Witched – the latter act completing the feat with Rollercoaster, the record Girlfriend replaces at number one.

Girlfriend topped 119,000 sales last week, a 49% improvement on the opening week sales of Because We Want To. The latter title has sold just shy of 300,000 copies to date. Billie is the first British female solo artist to have two number ones in the same year since Cilla Black topped in 1964 with Anyone Who Had A Heart and You're My World – a remarkable feat which augers rather well for her debut album, Honey To The B, which is released next Monday (16).

Billie's Girlfriend becomes the 13th consecutive number one to enter the chart at the top – a record sequence which started in June with B*Witched's C'est La Vie. Having just turned 16, Billie has missed the chance to become the first minor to have two solo number ones since Donny Osmond. Osmond was 14 when he had his first solo number one, Puppy Love, in 1972. He had three under his belt prior to his 16th birthday in December 1973.

Billie is just one of nine female solo artists crowded into the Top 40 this week, alongside four all girl groups/duos and eight and gender acts, in all of which the main vocal is provided by a woman. Not joining this elite club, however, is Björk, whose latest single Hunter surprisingly stutters to a number 44 debut, even though it was released as no fewer than three different CDs, giving multiple purchase opportunities to her fans. None of Björk's previous 13 post-Sugarcubes singles has fared worse.

SALES UPDATE

As well as the girls are doing, the nation's favourite boy band, Boyzone have cause to celebrate with No Matter What becoming their first million-selling single, passing the tally last Thursday (8). It's the third single to sell a million copies this year, joining It's

PERCENTAGE OF UK ACTS IN THE CHART

Like That by Run DMC and My Heart Will Go On by Celine Dion. The former title, which has sold 1,090,000 copies, may be just within Boyzone's reach but the latter's 1,300,000 sale is dauntingly distant, given the current 20,000-a-week tally being registered by No Matter What.

Another Irish act doing well is Daniel O'Donnell, whose The Magic Is There debuts this week at number 16. It's O'Donnell's 12th hit, and a taster for his album Love Songs, which follows on October 19.

The Housemartins are long gone but their legacy lives on via two Top 10 hits this week. At number seven, The Beautiful South's Perfect 10 is overtaken by Fatboy Slim – aka Norman Cook – with Gangster Trippin', which debuts at number three. It's Cook's biggest hit to date under this particular alias, beating the number six peak of his last, Rockafeller Skank. Both singles are included on the upcoming Fatboy Slim album You've Come A Long Way, Baby.

by ALAN JONES

Though it contains just one new track – a cover of Cyndi Lauper's hit True Colors – Phil Collins' Hits album powers to the top of the album chart this week, giving the Virgin group of labels its fourth number one album of the year, the previous trio being The Verve's Urban Hymns, Massive Attack's Mezzanine and Embrace's The Good Will Out.

Ladysmith Black Mambazo's "best of" compilation The Star And Wiseman has moved 7-6-2 and has sold over 80,000 copies in the last three weeks. The group was propelled to international fame in 1986, when they provided much of the backing and inspiration for Paul Simon's Graceland album, but have previously only charted themselves with their 1987 album Shaka Zulu, which reached number 34, and last year's Heavenly, which reached number 53. The Star And Wiseman's success owes much to Inkanyenzi Nezazi, which has been used extensively in a Heinz baked beans ad.

Other tracks on the album include Homeless and Diamonds On The Soles Of Her Shoes, from the Paul Simon album Graceland.

After the disappointing performance of his last album, 1996's Dance In The Light, which peaked at number four and sold only a fraction as many copies as his previous solo offerings, Phil Collins commandingly recaptures the chart throne this week. His Hits album sold over 85,000 copies last week, more than 50,000 more than any other album, and gave him his fifth solo number one album in eight attempts. Collins has also topped the chart as a member of Genesis on no fewer than six occasions, and his grand total of 11 number ones is inferior only to the individual and collective totals of four artists with whom he appeared in the movie A Hard Day's Night, though he was a 13-year-old bit part player while they were the stars. The artists in question are, of course John Lennon, Paul McCartney, George Harrison and Ringo Starr, collectively The Beatles.

its title suggests, is based on Shepard's performances as the resident singer in the local bar frequented by Ally McBeal, the lawyer whose misadventures have been a hit for Channel 4. Already a huge success in America, where it reached number seven and has sold over 1.5m copies in the last 22 weeks, Songs From Ally McBeal contains both original songs by Shepard and covers chosen to fit the plot of the show, the latter group including Walk Away Renee (a Four Tops hit), It's In His Kiss (Cher), and I Only Want to Be With You (Dusty Springfield).

After surging 21-11 last week in response to HMV's limited offer, in which it was available for a mere £5, Madonna's Ray Of Light album slumps to number 36 this week, the lowest position of its 32 week chart career. It has sold over 675,000 copies to date, and, with a fourth single, The Power Of Goodbye, due to be released on November 16, it seems certain to have topped a million sales by Christmas.

COMPILATIONS

Stubbornly refusing to yield pole position, Big Hits 98 has been the number one compilation for five weeks in a row, selling over 190,000 copies. Though it is down to 18,000 in the latest week, it is still too strong for Box Hits 98 – Volume 3, which debuts at number two. A collaboration between the music video TV channel and Telstar, The Box album sold over 15,500 copies last week, which is a good start, but which also means it has a fair way to go if it is to equal the success of the first two volumes of The Box Hits 98. Volume 2 has sold around 100,000 copies, while Volume 1 topped 90,000 sales.

Castle Communications' laudable Wicked Women is off to a slow start, debuting at number 28. A double album lasting 32 tracks "from the world's leading female artists", it includes contributions from the likes of Billie, Eternal, the Spice Girls, Natalie Imbruglia and the Minogue sisters Dannii and Kylie, some of them exclusives. The album's purpose is to raise money for the charity Breakthrough Breast Cancer, to which a minimum of £2.75 from each sale is donated. Worth displaying more prominently, I'd have thought...

There are seven soundtrack albums among the Top 50 compilations this week – the highest figure in 1998. The highest ranked is still Lock, Stock & Two Smoking Barrels (OST), at number eight, while the latest addition is the original Saturday Night Fever album, which jumps 57-44 this week, and is already shading the weekly tallies returned by the 1998 West End Original cast album, only nine weeks after the latter title's release.
