THE OFFICIAL UK CHARTS A PRIL 1999

CHART COMMENTARY

SINGLE FACTFILE

Mr Oizo's Flat Beat makes its expected debut at number one this week, after selling nearly 284,000 copies. Mr Oizo – aka Quentin Dupieux – is the 11th artist to enter the chart at number one with their first hit, following Whigfield, Robson & Jerome, Babylon Zoo, White Town, Hanson, Teletubbies, B*Witched, Billie, Spacedust and Britney Spears. Flat Beat is the seventh number one to be associated with Levi's TV ads and the second to give a new act a number one debut (the first was Babylon Zoo). Mr Oizo is the first French act to top the chart since 1974, when Charles Aznavour was number one with She. And Flat Beat is by far the biggest hit on the F Communications label, owned by French DJ Laurent Garnier, and its UK rights owner PIAS Recordings, a subsidiary of the Belgian Play It Again Sam label.

by ALAN JONES

or the first time ever, the top two records on the chart are new entries by new acts. Mr Oizo and the Cartoons are enjoying their introductory hits with Flat Beat and Witchdoctor, and are among four new entries to the top five for only the third time in chart history (this tally includes 31 October last year, when all of the top five were newcomers). The Cartoons are unlucky to be up against such stiff opposition. Their sales of 156,000 last week would secure them a number one placing more often than not.

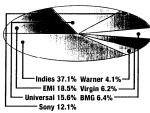

With so much action at the top of the chart, something had to give – and it turned out to be B*Witched, who come crashing down from one to nine with Blame It On The Weatherman. That's the biggest decline since 1991, when Iron Maiden's Bring Your Daughter ...To The Slaughter experienced a similarly savage slump. Two other records have fallen 1-9, these being the Temperance Seven's You're Driving Me Crazy (1961) and Nancy Sinatra's These currently gracing the Ford Focus ad, debuts at number 10, comfortably eclipsing its original 1994 chart peak of 20, and the number 14 peak it scaled when reissued the following year. It's the first time in chart history that we've had three ads in the Top 20 at the same time, and there are more to come, with Fatboy Slim's Right Here Right Now (as used by Adidas) and Billy Fury's Wondrous Place (Toyota) the most imminent. Spare a thought though for country legend Don Gibson, who can be heard on the same Lew's ad as Mr Oizo, but seems to have been overlooked in this release frenzy.

The swing revival has resulted in a number of hit albums in America but has had little impact in the UK thus far. The first indication that it might be a sales force here comes with the debut at number 34 this week of the single Jump Jive An' Wail by the Brian Setzer Orchestra. Setzer hasn't charted since 1983, when he was lead singer with the Stray Cats.

MUSIC WEEK 3 APRIL 1999

According to Skunk Anansie, Post Orgasmic Chill describes the way the group felt when they came off the road in 1998, after nearly three years of constant touring. It's also the title of their latest album, which debuts this week at number 16 after selling 13,000 copies. Their first album for 13,000 copies. Their this column for Virgin, it has thus far performed less well than their introductory album Paranoid And Sunburnt (number eight in 1995) or 1996's Stoosh, which reached number nine. Post Orgasmic Chill had been expected to be the highest new entry to the album char this week, but was pipped for the honour by the Vengaboys' The Party Album, which sold a couple of hundred copies more to debut at 15. The Vengaboys' success comes at a time when their latest single, We Like To Party (The Vengabus), spends its fourth consecutive week in the Top 10, having already sold more than 320,000 units.

by ALAN JONES

lur's 13 retains pole position on the chart but it sold only a thousand copies more than The Corrs' Talk On Corners, which returns to runners-up position, and must be fancied to return to the summit next week. Meanwhile, The Corrs' debut album Forgiven, Not Forgotten reaches a new chart peak, climbing 8-5. The Irish band thus become the first act to have two albums in the top five since 25 September 1993, when Prince was at number four with The Hits/The B-Sides and number five with The Hits 1. For good measure, he was also at number six with The Hits II. The last artist to have two albums of original material in the top five at the same time was Bruce Springsteen, who was at one and two with the simultaneously released Human Touch and Lucky Town on 4 April 1992.

Tracy Chapman's self-titled 1989 debut climbs 24-19 this week, while Primal Scream's Screamadelica advances 45-22 and Lou Reed's 1973 classic Transformer
