CHART COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

You Needed Me is Boyzone's sixth number one, and their second of the year, coming just nine weeks after When The Going Gets Tough. You Needed Me sold nearly 143,000 copies last week, compared to the 213,000 first week sale for When The Going Gets Tough. The band's biggest ever weekly sale was the introductory tally of 277,000 registered by No Matter What. Every one of Boyzone's 15 hits since their 1993 debut has found a home in the Top 5, and the latest puts them in a clear lead as the act with most top five hits in the Nineties, one ahead of Madonna. They still trail in the number one stakes, however, as both Take That and the Spice Girls have had eight chart toppers this decade. The only other groups to have had more number ones than Boyzone are The Beatles (17), Abba (nine), and The Rolling Stones (eight).

Boyzone become the first act to have two number ones this year, debuting in pole position with You Needed Me – but only just. Pitted against former Spice Girl Geri Halliwell's debut solo single Look At Me, the Irish group were well ahead in the early part of the week but ended up selling an estimated 142,901 copies of their single, with Geri's Look At Me finishing on 142,153 – just 748 copies difference. Though the chart records will say Boyzone had the biggest-seller, Geri's single was probably purchased by more different people – You Needed Me was a two part CD with different bonus tracks requiring fans to make a multiple purchase, while the contents of both Geri CDs were identical, though one included postcards, and the other didn't. The postcard edition sold 90,195 copies last week, the regular edition just 2,065, and the cassette the remainder. You Needed Me – written by Randy Goodrum – was originally a number one hit in America for Canadian country singer Anne Murray in 1978, and subsequently peaked at number 22 in the UK. Boyzone's recording of the song is the 13th number one in a row to debut in pole position this year. A year and a half after Shania Twain's album Come On Over was released it spins off its fourth and biggest UK hit, with That Don't Impress Me Much debuting at number three. The Canadian country singer has now eclipsed the aforementioned Anne Murray in that genre.

The Super Furry Animals narrowly fail to emulate the Top 10 exploits of fellow Welsh bands the Manic Street Preachers, Catatonia and the Stereophonics but still have the biggest hit of their career with Northern Lites debuting at number 11. Northern Lites is the SFAs' 11th hit, and just about eclipses their 10th, Ice Hockey Hair, which reached number 12 last June.

Duane Harden is hardly a household name but he is the first artist to have three Top 20 hits this year. Having fronted the two Armand Van Helden hits – the chart-topping You Don't Know Me and the number 18 follow-up Flowerz – he returns this week as vocalist on Powerhouse's What You Need, which debuts at number 13.

THE OFFICIAL UK CHARTS ALBUMS

22 MAY 1999

CHART COMMENTARY

ALBUM FACTFILE

Texas are off to a fine start with The Hush, which debuts at number one after selling nearly 92,000 copies last week. That's almost exactly twice as many copies as their last album – and only previous number one – White On Blonde sold when it debuted in pole position in February 1997.

After a fairly low key start it did, of course, go on to spin off several major hit singles – Say What You Want, Halo,

Black Eyed Boy, Put Your Arms Around Me – and is now only just shy of 1,500,000 sales, a figure The Hush would do very well to match.

White On Blonde slips a notch to number 37 this week, while Texas' 1989 debut Southside and 1993 album Ricks Road re-enter the chart at 45 and 109 respectively, both being priced at £4.99 "perfect partners" to The Hush in Woolworths.

Album sales slumped for five weeks in a row – from 2.42m week-ending 3 April to a mere 1.53m week-ending 8 May – and were badly in need of a major release.

Texas' The Hush provided something of a tonic last week, more than accounting for the week-on-week increase of 62,000 that provided a 4% boost in sales. The Hush's sales of nearly 92,000 were nearly three times as high as the 32,000 sales which earned Abba's Gold – Greatest Hits runners-up spot, and the highest sale for a number one album since the Stereophonics' album Performance And Cocktails exploded with an introductory tally of 120,000 nine weeks ago.

Basement Jaxx's much-praised debut album Remedy makes its chart debut at number four after selling more than 22,000 copies last week, but impacts little on the single Red Alert, which peaked at number five, and declines only 10-12 on its fourth outing. Red Alert has sold more than 165,000 copies so far. Prior to Basement Jaxx, the only act on the XL Recordings label ever to make the Top 10 of the album chart was Prodigy.

Repackaged to include the Chicane remix (hit single version) of Cloud #9, Bryan

Adams' On A Day Like Today album jumps 38-19 this week. Fellow Canadian Mercury signing Shania Twain's similarly revamped Come On Over slips 21-23 after climbing five weeks in a row, probably because those who were buying it specifically for That Don't Impress Me Much can now opt for the single instead. Twain's album has sold over 230,000 copies thus far – a very respectable total for an album which is primarily country, though peanuts compared to its performance in America, where it is still holding down a top three chart place a year and a half after release, with weekly sales regularly adding more than 100,000 to a tally which already stands at over 10m.

TLC's CrayzSexyCool album took 23 weeks to sell 100,000 copies after its 1995 release, but their follow-up FanMail surged past that total last Saturday as it completed its 12th week in the shops. It started slowly but has grown in stature considerably since the release of the single No Scrubs.

COMPILATIONS

Now That's What I Call Music! 42 looked odds-on to lose its position at the top of the compilation chart this week but just about manages to hang on for a seventh week at the summit. It sold just 25,000 copies last week, to bring its cumulated to more than 590,000, and outsold the new number two Top Of The Pops '99 – Volume One by about a thousand copies. It still managed to account for about 6.4% of the rapidly shrinking compilation market, though on its first week at number one it took a whopping 28.9% of all compilation sales. In the intervening period, sales of compilations have slumped every week, nearly halving from a high of 762,000 then to just 389,000 now.

Top Of The Pops '99 – Volume One includes 38 recent, current and future hits (Phats & Small, Mr Oizo, Manic Street Preachers, the multi-artist Abba tribute, Armand Van Helden, the New Radicals, Kele Le Roc and Shanks & Bigfoot) as well as multimedia extras – a video of When The Going Gets Tough by Boyzone and a TOTP screensaver.

It's another strong seller for Universal Music in the rapidly developing series, and is the follow-up to Top Of The Pops – Best Of 1998, which suffered badly from the deluge of compilations released just before Christmas, and consequently peaked at a disappointing number 11, though it eventually went silver. If Top Of The Pops '99 – Volume One doesn't make it, the new Euphoria II trance compilation from Telstar will surely end Now 42's reign next week.
