SINGLE FACTFILE

A series of big-selling singles culminated in Steps' first number one via the double A-sided hit Heartbeat/Tragedy in January. Each of the singles since was expected to follow suit, and each managed number one for a couple of days in the midweek chart, but neither managed to hold on. After the number two success of Better Best Forgotten in March, they fall one place short of pole position again this week, with Love's Got A Hold On My Heart. The latter sold nearly 102,000 copies last week, well down on the initial tally of nearly 140,000 registered by Better Best Forgotten, and some distance from the 125,000 sales which keep Martin's Livin' La Vida Loca on top. But all may not be lost - the last single to reach number one after debuting lower was Heartbeat/Tragedy.

by ALAN JONES

icky Martin's Livin' La Vida Loca performed like a true chart champ last week, experiencing a tiny 4.6% decline in sales week-on-week, compared to an average decline of more than 30% for number one hits in their second week this year. Sometimes it can be a great deal more than that – ATB's 9PM (Till I Come) decreased 60% – admittedly from a much higher level – on its second week, while the Vengaboys' Boom, Boom, Boom, Boom!! experienced a relatively modest 22% slide the week before Destiny's Child obviously believe that if a thing's worth saying once, it's worth saying three times. Their debut hit No No No reached number five last year, and they repeat the grammatical device and very nearly the chart position this week, entering at number six with Bills Bills Bills. No other chart act has had a brace of hits whose titles comprise solely of the same word three times, though Abba must get a

Do, I Do. It's interesting to note that Bills Bills Bills and TLC's current smash No Scrubs - which also peaked at number six were both co-penned by Kevin 'She'kspere Briggs and Kandi Burruss, the latter being a member of another female R&B group, namely Xscape, (who ironically have never had a Top 20 hit of their own, and fell short of the Top 40 with their last single, even though it was written by the Nineties most successful songwriter, Diane Warren).

The number 13 is lucky for Dina Carroll

this week - her 13th chart hit Without Love debuts at number 13. That's three places higher than last October's One, Two, Three and her biggest hit since Escaping in 1996 She's still five notches behind new labelmates Yomanda's number eight debut with Synth & Strings - and it could have been an even bigger gap, as the Yomanda single sold 46,500 copies and was unfortunate to be the lowest placed of five records which were separated by just 1,800 sales. But the gap between Yomanda and Britney Spears, who is immediately behind Yomanda in the chart, was a huge 11,600.

ALBUM FACTFILE

Sales of Ricky Martin's self-titled album have near enough doubled in each of the last three weeks, but the latest surge carries it from seven to three with more than 28,000 records sold last week compared to its previous tally of 40,000 spread over nine weeks. The success of Martin's chart-topping single Livin' La Vida Loca – and UK promotion – is driving the album, though it is apparently also getting a useful uplift from Madonna fans curious to hear how the pair's duet. Even though Martin has two previous hit singles under his belt here, none of his three previous albums charted. He's the first Hispanic artist to reach the top five of the album chart since Gloria Estefan in 1994, and the first pacted to the Spanish office of a record company since Julio Iglesias in 1983. Whose son, Junior, is coincidently being pushed by Sony at the moment.

or the second week in a row, Boyzone's By Request outsold Shania Twain's Come On Over by 20,000. Sales of both albums dipped by 2,000 last week, with the former selling more than 52,000, the latter upwards of 32,000. The Boyzone album has spent six of its seven weeks thus far at number one, and has sold 760,000 copies a massive amount for an album issued at this stage of the year, and enough for it to move to the top of the year-to-date rankings, where it succeeds fellow Irish group The Corrs' Talk On Corners. The latter album, which has held pole position all year, has sold 742,000 copies this year – damned fine considering it had sold 1,750,000 copies before the year even started.

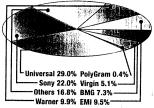

Surprise Brits winners Belle & Sebastian they took the Best Newcomers prize this year despite widespread expectations that Steps would romp home in the category judged by Radio One listeners - have the highest new entry on this week's chart, limited edition of 1,000. Tigermilk sold more than 10 times that many copies last week, and very nearly matched the number 12 peak of their last album The Boy With The Arab Strap.

The eagerly awaited cinematic debut of the Star Wars prequel The Phantom Menace sent sales of the album soaring last week. The album, by The London Symphony Orchestra and John Williams, debuted as a lofty number eight in May, but dropped as far as number 83 a fortnight ago. It bounced to number 68 last week, and now surges to number 30, having increased its sales from under 2,000 to 4,900. As more than a million people are thought to have seen the film in its first four days in cinemas here, it clearly has the potential to sell much more.

Marvin Gaye's What's Going On has had its price slashed from £9.99 to just £2.99 HMV, as its summer sale continues, hence the arrival of the album in the chart this week at number 69. And the chain's continuing £4.99 offer on Oasis' Definitely Maybe is responsible for that album's steep 75-38 climb this week

COMPILATIONS

rgin Television's Best Dance Album In the World...Ever! series is not the fastest growing – it has just reached Volume 9 after six years – but it is one of the most successful. All nine albums have reached the top five, but the latest - which debuts at number one this week - is the first to reach pole position since that very first release in 1993. Volume 9 has already outperformed Volume 8, which peaked at number two exactly a year ago, and sold 22,000 copies on its first week in the shops. Volume 9 sold nearly 32,000 copies last week, and ends Fresh Hits 99's three week run at the top. Volume 8 was up against Fresh Hits 98, but couldn't unseat it. Part of the reason for that was that Fresh Hits 98 was selling at a furious pace. with 264,000 buyers in its first four weeks, while Fresh Hits 99 has been much more sluggish, with a mere 122,000 sales in the same time frame. Fresh Hits 99 actually tumbles to number three this week, also being overtaken by Ibiza 99 - The Year Of Trance, the latest Global TV compilation, which sold over 23,000 copies last week to debut in the runners-up spot. Only one track appears on all of the top three albums - ATB's 9PM (Till I Come).

debuting at number 13 with Tigermilk, a reissue of their first album, which was originally released on vinyl only in 1996 in a

It's rare for a tribute album to enter the compilation chart, but Almo Sounds Return Of The Grievous Angel, a tribute to the late Gram Parsons, debuts at number 24 this week, with sales of more than 3,000. The album includes tracks from friends like Emmylou Harris and Chris Hillman and admirers like Beck, Sheryl Crow and the Mavericks.
