THE OFFICIAL UK CHARTS SINGLES

7 AUGUST 1999

CHART COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

They say it's not over until the fat lady sings. Well, she's certainly been clearing her throat over the last two weeks, when Ricky Martin has smashed the chart ambitions of Steps and Five, and retained the number one position. His Livin' La Vida Loca finally yields right of way to Ronan Keating's When You Say Nothing At All, which outsold it last week by a margin of nearly two to one. Keating's single was originally recorded in 1989 by the late country singer Keith Whitley, and subsequently by bluegrass favourite Alison Krauss on a Whitley tribute album. It was written by Paul Overstreet and Don Schlitz, two of Nashville's top songwriters. It's Overstreet's second UK chart topper, the first being Love Can Build A Bridge, the Cher/Chrissie Hynde/Neneh Cherry hit which he wrote with John Jarvis and Naomi Judd.

Despite slipping to number two, Livin' La Vida Loca actually increased its sales last week, rising from 96,700 to 103,000. That's unusual both for a record in its fourth week on the chart and for a record losing pole position - but DJ Jurgen presents Alice Deejay's Better Off Alone turned in an even more remarkable

SINGLE FACTFILE

After 15 consecutive top five hits with Boyzone including six number ones, Ronan Keating's debut solo single When You Say Nothing At All continues in much the same vein. It enters the chart at number one this week, with sales of more than 197,000 proving far superior to both the 103,000 tally which Ricky Martin registers to take runners-up spot, and the 143,000 first week sales of Boyzone's most recent single You Needed Me. Keating has topped the chart twice this year as a member of Boyzone, once solo and once as the co-manager of Westlife, a unique treble. His tally of number ones in the nineties as a performer place him behind only Take That and Spice Girls members Gary Barlow (10), Melanie B/G (nine), Mel C, Emma Bunton, Victoria Adams, Jason Orange, Howard Donald and Mark Owen (all eight).

performance, rising from its debut position of four to number three thanks to a huge 64.6% increase in sales from 50,800 the week before to more than 83,600 last week. It's the latest in an increasingly impressive string of hits on EMI dance imprint Positiva, for which it represents the 10th top five success - all of them by overseas acts. The success of Alice Deejay and Ronan Keating give singles sales a shot in the arm, and they rise by 16.4% week-on-week, their fourth consecutive increase. Album sales edge up 2.3%, and have also expanded four weeks in a row.

Sweet Like Chocolate's 675,000 sales make it the second biggest seller of the year but its slips to number 37 this week being overtaken by Straight From The Heart, an earlier record made by Shanks & Bigfoot with vocalist Sharon Woolf under the name Doolally. A number 20 hit last November, it has remained hugely popular in London garage circles.

THE OFFICIAL UK CHARTS ALBUMS

CHART COMMENTARY

ALBUM FACTFILE

Destiny's Child debut at number 12 with The Writing's On The Wall, hot on the heels of their number six single Bills, Bills, Bills. The album, their second, is the week's highest new entry and has already far outperformed their self-titled debut, which could climb no higher than number 45 last year, despite including the number five hit No No No and the number 19 follow-up With Me.

The Writing's On The Wall also includes their January hit collaboration with Timbaland, Get On The Bus, which reached number 15 on the singles chart, and Bug-A-Boo, penned by the same team as Bills, Bills, Bills and widely anticipated as the next single. Confusingly, it doesn't feature their Matthew Marsden collaboration She's Gone, though it does feature the similarly titled Now That She's Gone.

Ronan Keating becomes the first artist ever to simultaneously top the singles chart as a soloist and the album chart as a member of a group, as Boyzone's By Request album rules the album chart for the eighth time in nine weeks. It sold nearly 40,000 copies last week, half as much again as the number two album by Ricky Martin who – being runner-up to Ronan in the singles chart too – has good reason to be less than enamoured of his Irish rival. By Request has sold more than 843,000 copies so far but its sales have dipped three weeks in a row while the market overall has expanded.

Abba's nine times platinum Gold – Greatest Hits edges up from five to four this week, while its reissued successor More Abba Gold debuts at number 13 having sold nearly 11,000 copies last week. The latter album was originally released in the wake of the former in June 1993, but failed to measure up to its chart performance, and peaked at number 14. Its debut this week therefore represents its highest chart position to date, even if its illustrious predecessor outsold it by a margin of nearly two to one last week. More Abba Gold is one of four compilations to chart this week, the others being Earth Wind & Fire's The Ultimate Collection (number 34, their third consecutive hits album and their highest charting disc since 1986), The Best Of Aztec Camera (number 36) and the celebratory Full Clip – A Decade Of Gang Starr at number 47. The chart's only other newcomers are Destiny's Child's The Writing's On The Wall (see above) and the first Scritti Politti album for 11 years, Anomie And Bonhomie, which debuts at number 33, 25 places lower than achieved their last album, Provision.

For the third week in a row, the same 10 albums occupy the Top 10 places in the chart, though they have shuffled about a bit. The most notable performance is that of Travis, whose album The Man Who Has Been Increasingly Impressive Recently this week it improves 9.6, coming within a place of the position in which it debuted 10 weeks ago. It has sold more than 130,000 copies to date.

COMPILATIONS

Sales of compilations tallied more than 700,000 last week, their highest level of the year, though their share of all album sales edged down from a 1999 peak of 37.7% to 37.6%, because the compilation market expanded by only 1.8%, while artist albums improved by 2.6%. The prime cause of compilations' newly rude health is, of course, Now That's What I Call Music 43, which sold a further 145,000 copies last week to bring its two week tally to 320,000, though we should also mention the high-flying arrivals of The Best Ibiza Anthems...Ever!, Gatecrasher and Clubbers' Guide To...Trance, which debut in a row at two, three and four. They all contributed significantly to the sector, though their combined sales last week were only a little over half that of Now 43.

The release of Ronan Keating's When You Say Nothing At All brings to three the number of hits taken from the Notting Hill soundtrack – the others are the recent Another Level single from The Heart and Elvis Costello's She – but the album dips from four to seven, and is in danger of losing its boast of being the best-selling soundtrack of the moment to Austin Powers – The Spy Who Shagged Me. The theatrical release of the latter – which features the recent Madonna single Beautiful Stranger and Melanie G's Word Up plus the upcoming Lenny Kravitz single American Woman – send the album spinning to a nine week high, as it vaults 19-13. Notting Hill has sold nearly 170,000 copies in the last 10 weeks, while The Spy Who Shagged Me has sold about 40,000 in a week less.
