30 OCTOBER 1999

CHART COMMENTARY

by ALAN JONES

R. Kelly's R album delivers its seventh hit this week, with If I Could Turn Back The Hands Of Time debuting at number three. It follows the chart-topping I Believe I Can Fly, Gotham City (number nine), Half On A Baby (number 16), Home Alone (number 17), I'm Your Angel (number three, with Celine Dion) and Did You Ever Think (number 20). Kelly thus joins the select coterie of artists to take more than six hits from an album, alongside the likes of Luther Vandross, Michael Jackson and Janet Jackson. Despite yielding so many hits, R has yet to chart as high as any of its singles, peaking at number 27. It moves 68-63 this week, and has sold fewer than 160,000 copies since it was released last November. R has 20 other tracks not yet released as singles, including Dollar Bill, which features Foxy Brown, and Money Makes The World Go Round featuring Nas.

SINGLE FACTFILE

Westlife continue to lead a charmed life, and register their third straight number one this week, debuting in pole position with Flying Without Wings. They're only the third act to debut at number one with their first three singles, joining Robson & Jerome and B*Witched, but while the others made their mark with some hefty sales figures, Westlife have done so with very modest totals, and thus appear to be a much bigger group than they really are. Shrewdly managed by Boyzone's manager Louis Walsh and singer Ronan Keating, they first topped with Swear It Again in May, and returned to the summit with If I Let You Go in August, with first week sales of just 102,000 and 90,000 respectively. Flying Without Wings managed 92,000 last week, the first time sales of the number one single have dipped below the 100,000 mark since If I Let You Go. Westlife have sold 725,000 singles so far this year, with Swear It Again selling 348,000 and If I Let You Go 287,000 – neither of which is enough to put them among the 30 best-sellers of 1999. The artist Westlife replace at number one is fellow RCA signing Christina Aguilera, whose Genie In A Bottle sold more than 87,000 copies last week, and thus came within 5,000 sales of remaining at number one for a third week, something only two records have managed this year. Genie has now sold 382,000 copies in three weeks, while Ann Lee's 2 Times – which was its shadow for the first two weeks, and is now at number four – has sold more than 338,000. The Backstreet Boys register their seventh consecutive top five single, debuting at number five with Larger Than Life, the follow-up to the chart-topping I Want It That Way. Larger Than Life sold 56,000 copies last week, and will be hard pressed to sell half the 422,000 tally of I Want It That Way. The only climber in the Top 40 for the second week in a row is Macy Gray's Try, which has now moved 10-10-9-8, with sales of 30,200,30,400,35,000,42,100. Gray's impressive tenacity has also paid dividends for her album On How Life Is, which sold 25,300 copies last week – a massive 28% increase over the previous week, though unluckily it remains in its peak position of number six.

THE OFFICIAL UK CHARTS ALBUMS

by ALAN JONES

The Charlatans first major label album Us And Us Only, which sees them transferring from the indie Beggars Banquet imprint to Universal, has to settle for a number two debut this week after selling just over 40,000 copies. The album held pole position for its first two days on release, but was eventually well beaten by Shania Twain's Come On Over, which sold 58,500 on its sixth week at the summit. The Charlatans had two number ones in their Beggars Banquet days, topping the chart with their 1990 debut Some Friendly (released on Beggars' Situation 2 imprint) and again in 1995 with their self-titled album. Their form dipped a little between these two albums, with 1992's Between 10th and 11th reaching number 21 and 1994's Up To Our Hips reaching number eight. Their most recent album Melting Pot - a hits and more selection released in 1998 - reached number four and has been in the chart itself in recent weeks as a result of being on offer at £4.99 in the HMV sale. It slips 29-43 this week.

ALBUM FACTFILE

Dave Stewart and Annie Lennox's first new Eurythmics album for 10 years, Peace debuts at number four this week after selling nearly 29,000 copies. It's the duo's eighth Top 10 album, and though it represents a dip in chart form for Lennox, who has topped the chart with both of her solo albums, it is a welcome relief for Stewart, whose last album failed to make the Top 75. And there's the hope of even better to come from Peace. Having already delivered the number 11 single I Saved The World Today, it will doubtless sell copiously when the heavily tipped second single Seventeen Again is released next month, a move which is likely to send Peace into multi-platinum orbit this side of Yuletide. Peace is the second big album of the year for RCA with an act many thought would never record again, following Blondie's number three album No Exit.

Jesse Hold On, their first single to fail to reach number one. Meanwhile, Melanie C from that other behemoth of girl groups the Spice Girls, makes her solo album chart debut with Northern Lights, which enters at number 10. Both of the Spice Girls albums topped the chart and the only other (former) member of the group to release a solo album, Geri Halliwell, reached number four with Schizophrenic in June. Though it contained only the briefest of clips from the album, Clive James' interview with Barbra Streisand, screened on Saturday 16th - the day before the survey period for this week's chart - has had an invigorating effect on Streisand's latest album A Love Like Ours, which bounces 61-12, beating the number 16 peak it previously reached on its debut five weeks ago. The album, which sold over 12,500 copies last week, was also driven by the number 26 debut of its introductory single If You Ever Leave Me, a duet between Streisand and country star Vince Gill.

COMPILATIONS

You can tell Christmas is almost upon us, with the arrival in the chart of the first album to establish its credentials by mentioning the coming year in its title. Now Dance 2000, makes an emphatic debut at number one after selling more than 44,000 copies last week. While that's relatively modest compared to Now Dance's big brother Now That's What I Call Music, it's an impressive tally in a quiet period of the year, and is only a couple of thousand fewer than the sales of the number two, three and four albums added together. It accounted for more than 10% of the compilation market last week, and is stuffed with current and recent floorfillers such as ATB's 9PM (Till I Come) and Armand Van Helden's You Don't Know Me as well as yet to be released singles including What I Am by Tin Tin Out featuring Emma Bunton, and the Dreem Teem Vs Neneh Cherry's Buddy X. Now Dance 2000 is off to a much faster start than last year's annual Now Dance compilation Now Dance 98 which sold only 22,000 on its first week and took nearly three weeks to sell as many copies as Now Dance 2000 has sold in week one alone.

Original Soundtrack albums have lodged in the Top 20 for much of the year, with Notting Hill, Austin Powers - The Spy Who Shagged Me, Lock Stock & Two Smoking Barrels and South Park among the big sellers. At present, there are no soundtracks in the Top 20, but watch out for the Tarzan soundtrack, which includes five cuts from Phil Collins including his new single, You'll Be In My Heart and which moves up 30-24 on its second week.
