MUSIC WEEK 25 DECEMBER 1999

THE OFFICIAL DR CHARTS

CHART COMMENTARY

SINGLE FACTFILE

Westlife sold more than twice as many copies as they've ever sold before in a seven day period last week to register their fourth straight number one Christmas number one with their double A-sided single pairing their covers of two seventies hits, Terry Jacks' Seasons In The Sun and Abba's I Have A Dream, Jacks' single was a number one hit in 1974 – ironically dethroned by Abba's first number one Waterloo – while I Have A Dream was held off the Christmas number one spot 20 years ago by Pink Floyd's Another Brick in The Wall. Westlife are only the second act to have their first four hits debut at number one equalling the record established by their fellow Irish group B*Witched. They sold more than 213,000 copies of I Have A Dream/Seasons In The Sun last week an achievement given that their previous best weekly tally is just 102,000.

by ALAN JONES

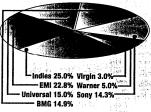

espite registering its highest weekly sales to date with over 170,000 The Millennium Prayer by Cilff Richard is replaced at the top of the singles chart by Westlife's I Have A Dream/Seasons In The Sun. Cliff's single has now sold more than 720,000 copies in 34 days, and is the eighth biggest seller of the year. By next week it is likely to be the year's third biggest seller, and is still on track to sell a million - and secure second place - by the end of the year. Meanwhile, the Westlife hit is the year's 35th number one, five more than the previous record tally of 30, established just last year. By dethroning Cliff, the Irish group have also ensured that there are no four-week-chart-toppers in 1999 - the first time that has happened in 48 years of UK singles chart history. The longest-running number ones of 1999 are therefore the three week toppers, Livin' La Vida Loca by Ricky Martin, Blue (Da Ba Dee) by Eiffel 65 and the aforementioned Cliff number three debut on the chart. The song reached number six on its debut single release in 1975, number one following his murder in 1980 and number 45 when last reissued in 1988.

John Lennon's Imagine sold 148,000

The current release marks the record's debut as a CD single, and also means it has made the Top 10 in the seventies, eighties and nineties - a feat hitherto performed only by Hot Chocolate's You Sexy Thing. Debuting behind Lennon at number four is one of several records hotly tipped as potential Christmas number ones which got lost in the race – the Cuban Boys' Cognoscenti Vs Intelligentsia, the 'hampster dance' sampling novelty, which sold more than 104,000 copies last week

One of only two climbers in this week's chart is Prince's 1999, which jumps 63-51. The single, which reached number 10 when first reissued last January, is expected to take another upwards leap this week, as all things millennium-related take on an extra dimension. For the same reason, don't be surprised if Sir Cliff returns to the top of the stack with The Millennium Prayer.

ALBUM FACTFILE

George Michael's surprise album release Songs From The Last Century, an album of mellow covers, including Roxanne, Miss Sarajevo and The First Time Ever I Saw Your Face, debuts at number two this week, with sales of more than 159,000 copies. That is 15,000 sales more than the first week tally of his "best of" album Ladies & Gentlemen last ear, but not enough to beat Shania Twain's Come On Over, which continues its run at number one. Despite making a slower start. Ladies & Gentlemen was in the middle of an eight-week run at number one this time last year, and has thus far sold more than 1,950,000 copies. Songs From The Last Century is Michael's fifth solo album, with all of the previous four reaching number one. His last album of new material was Older, which debuted in May 1996, with an exceptional firstweek sale of more than 285,000.

by ALAN JONES

George Michael had released a single, if Shania Twain hadn't been the subject of the first ever Top Of The Pops special and if her latest album Come On Over hadn't been widely priced at £9.99 last week...we may have been saluting George Michael's fifth straight number one album this week Instead, we have to congratulate Twain on another milestone in the history of Come On Over, which retains pole position on the chart courtesy of a best-yet week in which it sold more than 175,000 copies. The album has now sold more than 1,794,000 copies since its February 1998 release, of which just 174,000 occurred in the year of its release (it was number 67 in the 1998 rankings) with 1,620,000 so far in 1999, for which remarkable success it will undoubtedly now emerge as the year's biggest seller.

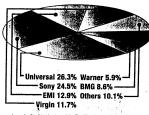

With more than 4m albums sold last week a 32.7% increase week-on-week and the highest tally of the year – the top five artist albums all sold more than 100,000 copies exceeded 100,000 sales in seven weeks. The Travis album's latest leap takes its year-todate sales past 970,000 and it has now overtaken Stereophonics' Performance & Cocktails (870,000) to become the biggestselling 1999 album release by a British act. With three more weeks to go before the millennium, both albums should top the 1m mark. Travis will be well past the mark, and The Man Who will end up as the year's third biggest seller, behind the Shania Twain album and Boyzone's By Request compilation.

Down 6-8, Macy Gray's On How Life Is nevertheless increases its week-on-week sales by nearly 50% to a best-yet 73,000. The album's cumulative sales since it was released less than six months ago top 430,000 and it will sprint past the 500,000 mark before the weekend. Britney Spears' Baby One More Time has sold more than 520,000 but is likely to be overtaken by Or How Life Is, which will thus become the biggest-selling debut of the year by any act.

he compilation market increased by more than a quarter week-on-week to reach its highest level of the year last week, with nearly 1.75m albums sold. The number one album Now That's What I Call Music! 44 bucks the trend by decreasing its sales from a peak of 290,000 to 258,000 last week - though that is still a massive tally, and the third week in a row that the album has topped the 250,000 mark. After just 20 days in the shops, Now! 44 has sold more than 827,000 copies. That puts it an awesome 247,000 ahead of the then record pace set by Now! 41 at the same stage last year. It is, incredibly, even ahead of the tally of 767,000 sales amassed by Now! 41 a week further into its life. It all adds up to another banner year for the all-conquering Now! series, which has spent 17 weeks at number one this year, and 173 weeks at number one since the compilation chart was inaugurated in January 1989 – this tally including just the regular Now albums and not the Now Dance or other titles. Last week, we reported that Now! 44 sold more copies than the rest of the Top 10 combined but in the past seven days the arrival of Hits 2000 - which debuts at number two with more than 84,000 sales - and the increased sales experienced by the remainder of the Top 10 mean that Now! 44 has sold "only" as many copies as the numbers two, three and four albums combined. It is indicative of the way the compilation market has picked up that all of the Top 20 compilations sold more than 20,000 copies last week, while during the dark days of last spring there was frequently just one compilation reaching that mark.
